MANY CHRISTIANS DIE IN MASSACRE BY MOHAMMEDANS

Wholesale Murder by Arnauts and Turkish Troops in Albania Reported.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN DIE, MANY GIRLS MADE CAPTIVE

Large Number of Christians and Their Families Have Fled From Territory and Taken Refuge in Montenegro—Outbreak May Cause Complications.

Cettinje, Montenegro, August 16.—Terrible reports were gaining circulation in the capital tonight of another massacre of Christians by Mohammedans in Albania.

A band of Mohammedan arnauts, supported by Turkish troops, today attacked a section of the Christian population in the Berana district of Albania, which is close to the Montenegrin frontier.

A fierce fight ensued, and women and children are reported to have been murdered by wholesale. Many girls were made captive and carried off by the Mohammedans.

A large number of Christians and their families have fled the territory and taken refuge in Montenegro.

The government has ordered the minister of war, General Vukotics, to proceed to the frontier and to personally take charge of the situation in an effort to maintain order.

Second Recent Outbreak.

The massacre of Christians at Berana reported in dispatches from Cettinje is the second outbreak of this nature in the Balkans within a fortnight, and may have an important effect upon the already strained relations of the Ottoman empire and its neighbors to the north.

On August 2 a massacre of Bulgarians by Mussulmans, lasting several hours, came after the explosion of a bomb in the market place of Kotschana, in European Turkey. The infuriated Turks, who suspected Bulgarians of perpetrating the bomb outrage, in which eleven persons were killed, are reported to have slain no fewer than 140 Christians, besides wounding several hundred others.

Feeling which had been aroused throughout Bulgaria by acute political relations between Bulgaria and Turkey was intensified by the massacre, and the Bulgarian government strongly protested to Turkey. In reply Turkey informed the Bulgarian minister that a commission had been appointed to inquire into the disturbance, and that the porte profoundly regretted that innocent Bulgarian lives had been sacrificed. The Turkish government also announced that it was determined to punish the guilty, and intended to take active measures to prevent a repetition of the massacre.

SENATE SUSTAINS TARIFF VETOES

Fight to Override Taft on the Wool and Metal Bills Fails

Washington, August 16.—The senate today voted to sustain the vetoes of the president of the wool and metal tariff revision bills. On the metal bill the motion to override the president did not even obtain a majority. On neither measure did the vote approach the necessary two-thirds.

Senator Simmons called up the metal bill, which was first disposed of. Without debate a roll call vote was taken, and thirty-two senators voted in favor of overriding the veto. Thirty-eight voted against passage. No republicans voted to pass the bill.

Senator La Follette made the motion to repass the wool bill. He asserted that the bill was a protective tariff measure and was framed according to the tariff board's report. He analyzed the report of the tariff board and compared it with the bill. Senator La Follette asserted that the failure of the president to accept the "judgment of congress" was usurpation of power.

Senator Heyburn answered Mr. La Follette and denounced the bill as a democratic measure. When the vote finally was taken, thirty-nine senators voted in favor of passing the bill, and thirty-six against it. The following republicans voted with the democrats to override the wool veto:

Senators Bristow, Clapp, Crawford, La Follette, Poindexter and Works.

COOPER ATTACKS "MACON RING"

Also Pays Respects to Flint Circuit Lawyers.

Congressional Candidate Declares Bartlett Has Failed to Make Good After 18-Year Trial—Is Depending on Politicians for Re-election.

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—John Randolph Cooper, one of the three candidates for congress in the sixth congressional district, threw down the gauntlet to the "so-called Macon ring of politicians," and the "Flint circuit ring of lawyers," in a speech here tonight. He went after Judge Bartlett, the incumbent, declaring that he has held the office long enough, and that even though he has been there eighteen years he has failed to make a national reputation.

He charges that the lawyers of the Flint judicial circuit are supporting J. W. Wise, through fear of him in the office of solicitor general. He declared that Wise should resign as solicitor or get out of the race for congress. In part he said:

"A few days ago I challenged my honorable opponent, the incumbent, to meet me in joint debate and discuss the issues of this campaign before the people of the sixth district so that they might intelligently decide which one of us to vote for. He has declined to meet me on the stump. In the days of Hill, Toombs and Stephens they had joint debates which educated the young men of the country and fired their ambition to do something in the world, but the incumbent has declined to join in the discussion, but is going to depend solely on the Macon machine and the Macon ring to put him back in congress, where he has been for the last eighteen years.

"He must be afraid to meet me and discuss the public issues. He says that he wants to be returned to congress on his past public record. As far as I have been able to find out he has made no public record. I mean he has no national reputation, and if he had made a national reputation in the halls of the American congress he would not need the testimony of such men as Burleson, of Texas, and James, of Kentucky, but the whole world would know it by heart.

What Bartlett Has Done.

"The truth is he has not made a national reputation; he has never done anything in congress but send out speeches and garden seed. He has been feeding at the public trough for thirty-five years, almost since Lee surrendered. He has grown rich and prosperous in office and the people of this county have heaped upon his head honor and favoritism. In fact he has been favored more than any lawyer at the Macon bar since I have been a member for the last twenty-two years and I think the people of the district will decide on the 21st day of August that he has been honored enough and it is time now to give some young man in the district a chance.

"Thomas Jefferson, the great oracle of democracy, believed in rotation in office. He was against the third

TAFT DENOUNCES TEDDY ELECTORS

"Dishonest Men" if Their Names Are on Republican Ballot.

Washington, August 16.—President Taft today made his first political speech since that when notified of his renomination. Addressing members of the Maryland Republican Editorial association in the white house he declared bluntly that presidential electors were "dishonest men" if they let their names appear on the republican ballot and intended to vote for the candidate of another party. He asserted that those who were not for the republican party were against it and should get out of the way.

"All we ask is a fair fight. A man cannot be in the republican party and in a third party at the same time, and should be compelled to make his selection," said the president.

Make Cleavage Clear.

WOMAN FORGETS HER BABY, LEAVES IT ON STREET CAR

One passenger remained on the Georgia avenue car yesterday afternoon when it reached Grant park, the end of the line, and laughed in the face of Conductor Jones when he tried to reverse the seats for the return trip. The passenger was a baby, just at the crowing age, and, despite the lonesome predicament, was enjoying the ride immensely.

"What are we going to do?" asked the conductor, as he turned helplessly to the motorman.

"Turn it in at the lost and found window," said the motorman, promptly. This department, however, happens not to be at Grant park, so the car had to start back to town with Conductor Jones on the rear platform, carefuly holding a cooing bundle of white while he did many contortions to reach his change and transfers. The car, of course, was temporarily turned into a pay-as-you-enter, with the passengers readily enjoying the spirit of the occasion.

At Georgia avenue and Glenn street the conductor had a vision of a wildly-distracted young woman who took her stand in the middle of the track and did not budge as the car bore down on her. When it came to a stop she boarded it with a bound.

"Where's the baby?" she gasped, and then gave a hysterical yell of joy as she saw the conductor on the rear platform, punching his finger into the baby's cheek, all oblivious of the passengers. The baby was still cooing.

"You're quite welcome, ma'am," he said as he reluctantly turned the child over to her. Then, as she ran off he remembered his duties, and yelled out:

"Wait a minute, he forgot to pay his fare!"

"Guess she'd better tie a string around her finger next time she takes her baby out," he soliloquized as the woman ran into a house, and he gave the motorman two bells.

FATHER OF NEW BOARD

CHARLES P. GLOVER,
Newly elected president of the old Atlanta Real Estate Men's association and father of the new Atlanta Real Estate board.

Progressive Step Taken by the Atlanta Dealers.

Organization Will Arrange for Exclusive Listings of Members and Practical Regulation of the Real Estate Business.

The Atlanta Real Estate Men's association at a meeting held in Durand's cafe last night changed its name to the Atlanta Real Estate board, and adopted changes in its constitution and by-laws which will convert the organization from a social one into a real estate exchange for sale of exclusive listings of members and for the practical regulation of the legitimate real estate business in Atlanta.

Application will be made at once by the Atlanta Real Estate board for a charter, under which the organization will begin operation as soon as issued.

The board will secure offices in some central location of the city where its business will be transacted, in charge of J. D. Green, who has been appointed assistant secretary of the board.

Use Multiple Listing System.

A multiple listing system will be used by the board, whereby members of the board may list at the offices properties held under exclusive sales contract and of certain classifications. These listings, when filed with the secretary, will be placed upon a bulletion board at the offices and also is-

MORSE ORGANIZES STEAMSHIP LINE

Ex-Banker to Compete With the Harriman Interests in Coastwise Trade.

Houston, Texas, August 16.—(Special.)—Announcement was made here today that Charles W. Morse, of New York, the former banker who was released from the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., has completed all details for operating an extensive steamship service between Houston, New Orleans and New York. He will also run a line to Porto Rico. Officials of steamship lines have confirmed the reports of Morse's new undertakings.

Several years ago Morse was here and took a decided interest in the new ship canal which is now being built from here to the gulf and it is learned Morse especially intends to capture the Houston trade on completion of the project and later enter Panama canal trade.

Morse will come in direct competition with the Southern Pacific steamship system, controlled by the Harriman interests. C. L. Dimond, formerly of the Texas Steamship company, who will have charge of the Morse line in Texas, already has obtained four vessels from the Great lakes and two new ones, which will be larger and more complete than any now in the coastwise service, are being built. John Rowland, formerly traffic manager of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway, will be traffic manager of the Morse lines. A traffic agreement with the Grand Trunk railroad, also, has been arranged.

The line will handle both freight and passenger traffic. The new service will be inaugurated early this fall, likely by October 1. Morse has sunk a large sum of money in the venture.

SUMTER REPRESENTATIVES IN RACE FOR RE-ELECTION

Americus, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) Sumter's three representatives in the present geenarl assembly, Senator J. E. Sheppard and Representatives Nesbit and Ferguson, returned this morning from the capital. All are candidates for the house next time, and are working industriously already to win in next Wednesdays' primary, though but two can be elected.

Lethargy and indifference characterize the gubernatorial campaign here. Such little interest was never before manifested, and but for the interest in local elections the vote polled here would be surprisingly small. A Hooper Alexander club, with a reported membership of fifty, has been organized.

PANAMA CANAL BILL OPPOSED

Adjournment Is Necessary to End Fight in House.

Senate, However, Adopts Conference Report by 48 to 18. Free Tolls Privilege to American Ships Trading With Philippines Attacked.

Washington, August 16.—Such unexpected opposition to the amended Panama canal bill developed in the house tonight that an adjournment was taken as the best way out of an embarrassing situation. Representatives Moore and Olmsted, of Pennsylvania, republicans, led the attack. They charged that the conferees had added matter not passed upon by either the house of the senate and had exceeded their authority.

The senate earlier in the day had adoped the conference report, 48 to 18, after a hard fight led by Senator Brandegee, chairman of the senate conferees, who had refused to sign the agreement. Senator Brandegee urged defeat of the conference report and the passage of a temporary resolution giving the president power to operate the canal.

In the house especial stress was laid on the fact that a provision for the free entry of ship-building material into the canal zone had been injected into the measure. This, Mr. Olmsted argued, was a revenue item and could not properly come either from the senate or be included in any general bill without the sanction of the house.

The extension of the free tolls privilege to American ships trading with the Philippines, Tutila (Samoa) and Guam, also was attacked.

Speaker Clark sought light on the situation. Finally seeing there was no chance of progress being made tonight, Majority Leader Underwood forced an adjournment.

Urges Rejection of Report.

An atempt to prevent Panama canal legislation at this session of congress was made today by Senator Brandegee when he presented the conference report of the bill.

Senator Brandegee urged that the report be rejected, the measure allowed to go over for the session and a committee of the house and senate appointed to thresh out the problems involved. He attacked the bill as it was finally framed.

"I believe the bill now is a violation of our treaty obligation with Great Britain, and I cannot vote for it," he said.

"I ask the senate to reject this report, and let the bill go over until next session, when we can give it careful, mature deliberation."

Senator Brandegee condemned the provision to exclude railroad-owned ships. He said it would prevent ships owned by railroads now under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission from using the canal, and would allow ships owned by foreign railroads to pass through.

CITIZENS IN CLASH OVER WORK ON IVY

Joel Hurt and Dr. Frank Edmondson Pass Hot Words.

It looked "scrappy" at the meeting of the street committee of council yesterday afternoon and on two occasions it seemed as if mere words would not be sufficient to satisfy the ire which arose over the discussion of the improvement of Ivy street.

Joel Hurt and Dr. Frank M. Edmondson passed some hot shot at each other and the atmosphere had scarcely cooled off before another volley of hot shot was fired between Joel Hurt and Councilman Orville H. Hall.

The first storm between Mr. Hurt and Dr. Edmondson arose when Dr. Edmondson made a statement about his property on Ivy street being damaged. He said, casting angry glances at Mr. Hurt:

Edmondson Attacks Hurt.

"Mr. Hurt calls himself a public-spirited citizen, and yet he comes here saying he wants to improve Ivy street, when we all know he wants to put dollars into his own pocket. Why doesn't he give the city that corner on Ivy and Gilmer streets so the latter can be widened? I haven't as much money as Mr. Hurt, but I try to do my part in a humble way to benefit the city."

"I want to say that what the gentleman says is not the truth," said Mr. Hurt, as he rose quickly to his feet. "I would just like to ask Dr. Edmondson what he has ever done for Atlanta?"

"I have done as much as you," retorted Dr. Edmondson, "for every time you gave a dollar you got it back with interest."

"I have offered to donate to the city the corner of Gilmer and Ivy streets," exclaimed Mr. Hurt.

Dr. Edmondson was about to make a spirited reply, when the chairman rapped loudly for order.

Chief of Police Enters.

Just at this juncture the chief of police entered the room, and the chairman remarked laughingly that he had "sent for the police."

A little later Mr. Hurt made the re-

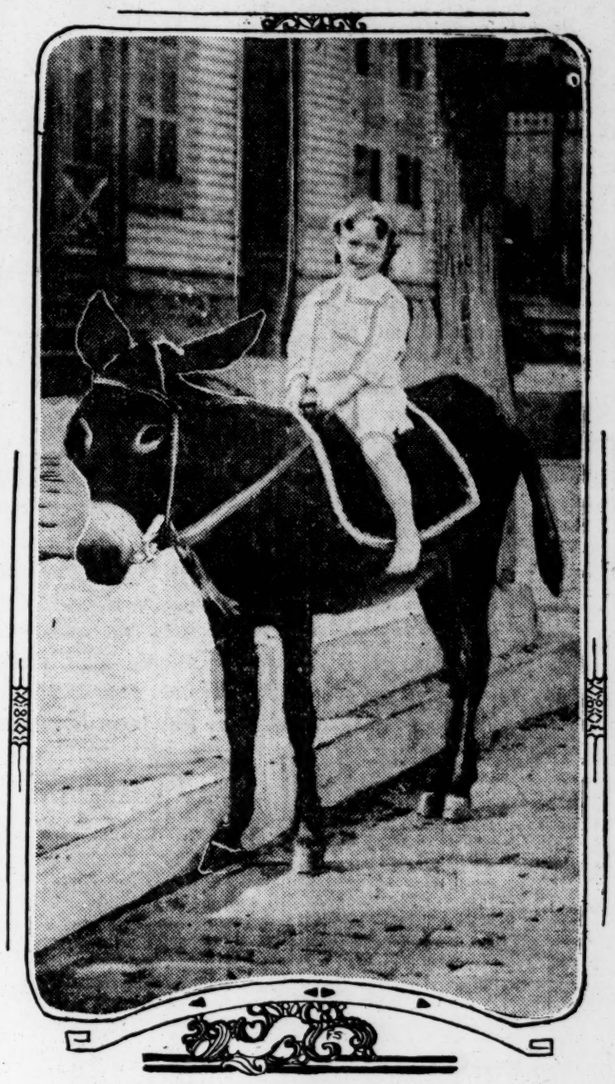
MOTHER SEES HER YOUNG SON CRUSHED TO DEATH UNDER CAR



FRED AUSTIN SMITH
Little boy who was run over and killed by a street car on Friday.

The sound of the children's playing in the neighborhood of Central avenue and Garnett street was strangely hushed Friday afternoon while the little tots sat around in subdued groups on stone walls and steps. They had just witnessed the death of their playmate, 5-year-old Fred Austin Smith, under the wheels of a street car, and the bravest of them had stayed during the half hour required to extricate the still form.

A few doors up the street, at 162 Central avenue, the weeping mother, Mrs. Beulah Bell Dennard, was telling her sisters how she had seen her only child run down and killed while she looked on, too far away to aid him.

"Only a few minutes ago," she sobbed, "he was running through the hall and I told him he could go out and play. Then I started across the street to the house of a friend, and he followed me.

"Just as I got across Garnett street I heard somebody call 'Mama.' I turned around in time to see the street car hit him, and he went underneath the wheels. If I could only have been closer, if I could only have dragged him back."

The accident occurred at the corner of Central avenue and Garnett street, a few minutes before 3 o'clock. The street is very narrow and the double car tracks claim all the space except barely enough for a wagon to stand close to the curb without being hit. A wagon obscured the view down the street, and when little Fred ran out after his mother just as car No. 264 came along, he ran immediately in front of it. The car passed over his body, which became entangled in the rear brake beam.

Mrs. Dennard was assisted home almost prostrated, and the body of the child was removed to the chapel of Greenberg & Bond. A pretty curly-haired little tot, abounding with life and with a ready smile for every passerby, he was a general favorite in the neighborhood. His tragic death cast a shadow over that entire section of the city.

CANNED PEACHES CONTAIN POISON

Discovery of Arsenate of Lead May Cause Confiscation of Output of Cannery.

A statement to the effect that quantities of deadly poison known as arsenate of lead had been discovered in canned peaches shipped from the Fort Valley district may lead to the confiscation and destruction of the output of one of the largest canneries in the south. State Pure Food Inspector Methvin stated that it is the belief that the poison was lodged in the peeling of peaches as the result of spraying to prevent insect infection.

The amount of poison discovered in one can of peaches was not sufficient to cause violent poisoning, bat, according to the experts of the department, continual eating of the fruit might have an effect more or less serious.

"The department will hold up quantities of canned fruit from each district until a complete investigation can be made," said Inspector Methvin Friday afternoon. "It is impossible to grade the fruit until it is canned, and for this reason it would be unfair to many of the canneries to condemn."

The early attack by worms and brown rot caused the fruit growers to spray the fruit early and late, and it is said that in some instances the fruit in some sections of the state was sprayed sixty days before ripening, and it is possible that arsenate lodged in the skins.

State Entomologist Worsham stated that trees should not be sprayed within sixty days of ripening. Some of the fruit examined showed that the flesh was colored purple by the spraying solution.

TORTURES CHILD TO MAKE MOTHER REVEAL WEALTH

New York, August 16.—The haunts of ruffians and criminals were searched today for a robber whom the police say is one of the most brutal crooks they have ever known. In an apartment building on Fifth avenue, the robber made two attacks on women.

The burglar, in one case, picked up an innocent infant and dashed it against the wall to torture the mother into revealing the hiding place of her money. The mother, Mrs. Paul Standerton, had no money in the house. The second victim was a young bride, whom the ruffian choked into insensibility and then robbed her of her jewelry and money.

TEDDY STARTS HIS CAMPAIGN

First Speech Since Nomination Delivered at Providence.

Providence, R. I., August 16.—With cheering and songs and prayer the progressive party's national campaign was opened here tonight. Theodore Roosevelt came to Rhode Island, which he describes as a boss-ridden state, to open the fight, and received a welcome which, as he put it, would have done credit to Kansas.

When Colonel Roosevelt reached Providence at 5 o'clock he found several thousand persons massed in the square before the railroad station and on the street leading to his hotel. The crowd blocked the way and cheered him until he stood up in his automobile and made a speech. He was halted a second time in front of the city hall and made another address.

Three hours later Colonel Roosevelt stood on the stage at Infantry hall, laughing and waving his hands at the crowd which was wedged into the big building. For several minutes the people cheered. Outside the building were hundreds who were unable to get in.

When the din finally died away Colonel Roosevelt said:

"I was told six months ago that there was not a progressive in Rhode Island. I think it is pretty plain that statement is erroneous.

Connection With Movement.

"Right at the outset," he muttered, "I wish to answer a question. Men have asked me if this movement is going to go on, or if it is just a movement which is connected with me. This movement is going on just as sure as fate. This is a real movement, springing from the needs and hearts of the people of the United States.

"The only part that I have had in it is that perhaps I have brought it on two or three years earlier than it would have come anyhow. The man is blind who does not see that our people are tired of having other people govern them. Our people were making up their minds that there must be a new party which should deal with live issues."

NEW YORK POLICE RECEIVING CRAFT FROM VICE TRUST

THREE BIG COMBINATIONS RULE CITY'S UNDERWORLD

Alleged That Payments to the Police From One "Trust" Amount to $2,500 a Month. Inspector Hayes Reduced in Rank After Making Charges Against Commissioner Waldo.

New York, August 16.—Pending arrival here of Sam Schepps, the material witness whom the grand jury wishes to hear before handing down indictments in the Rosenthal murder case, the district attorney's office is centering its attention on police graft from disorderly houses.

It developed today that raids last night upon eighteen resorts were the result of a tip furnished by Jack Rose, the gambler whose confession resulted in the indictment of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker on charge of instigating the Rosenthal murder.

Jack Sullivan, one of the Rosenthal prisoners, according to the information given by Rose, was a collector from these houses, which are declared to be operated by the "vice trust."

Traced to Inspectors.

Although the surface results of the raids was the holding of four of the alleged proprietresses on $1,000 bail each, Assistant District Attorney Smith says he is in the possession of evidence tonight showing where the graft collected from the "trust" went. He has traced it, he says, to police inspectors. The payments amounted, Mr. Smith said, to about $2,500 a month, or on the basis of $100 a month for twenty-five houses running steadily.

Graft is going to the police also from two other combinations of "higher class," Mr. Smith said, one controlled by an East Side gang leader, whose name has been mentioned in the Rosenthal case. Mr. Smith also has the name of a woman, the wife of one of the prisoners, against whom he says he has evidence that she was a collector of disorderly house graft for Becker.

According to information obtained by agents of the Society for the Prevention of Crime, the "trust" raided last night, known as the "big five," nets annual profits of $5,000 over its graft payments, and controls about 1,200 women.

"There are three separate so-called trusts which control these dens of vice in New York below 125th street," said Assistant District Attorney Smith this afternoon. "The organization we attacked is the strongest and most profitable. It controls thirty-two houses that we know of, and 1,200 women. The three trusts together have 4,000 women. The one in the tenderloin is known as "big five."

The graft, it was said, was paid directly to police inspectors by the "trust" itself and not by the individual house.

While there was no fear of raids by the police, it is said the "trust" feared the Society for the Prevention of Crime and the district attorney's office, and Inspector Hayes Reduced.

Coincident with these revelations, Police Commissioner Waldo today reduced Inspector Cornelius G. Hayes to the rank of captain and suspended him pending his trial on charges that the inspector falsely stated that Commissioner Waldo directed him not to obtain evidence against disorderly houses except by order of the commissioner, and that he failed to suppress disorderly houses in his district.

The commissioner made public a letter he wrote to Hayes yesterday, calling his attention to reports that a number of these resorts were "doing business openly in your district," and holding the inspector "personally responsible for any violations of the law."

"On the same night," Mr. Waldo said, "evidence that a number of disorderly houses had been running in the district was obtained by policemen from the police commissioner's office in a manner that showed that they could have been suppressed by proper and intelligent police work.

Hayes' statement that he had been ordered not to raid disorderly houses until told to do so by the commissioner was made this afternoon to the commissioner after a similar statement made public in an evening newspaper credited to "an inspector." Commissioner Waldo at once summoned six inspectors to his office and asked each if he was responsible for the interview. Hayes denied making the statement to the newspaper, but repeated it as his own understanding of the case to Waldo.

Besides the announcement that Sam Schepps would not be brought into New York until early Monday morning, the principal development in the Rosenthal case today was the discovery by representatives of the district attorney of two more bank accounts of Lieutenant Becker. The names of the banks were not made public, but the amounts totaled about $10,000, it was learned, making the aggregate deposits about $75,000.

Schepps Reaches Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., August 16.—Sam Schepps, one of the central figures in the Rosenthal murder inquiry, upon whose arrival in New York District Attorney Whitman and the grand jury are awaiting, reached here tonight shortly after 9 o'clock. Whatever secrecy had been maintained as to the movements of the party prior to arrival in New York state apparently had been laid aside for immediately after leaving the train Assistant District Attorney Rubin, the two detectives in the party and Schepps took a taxicab to a hotel.

At the hotel Schepps after registering strolled about the hotel lobby for a few minutes before going up to his room.

"Nothing to say tonight," was the only reply that he would make to questions.

Mr. Rubin declined to say anything regarding his plans except that he would spend tonight and tomorrow and perhaps tomorrow night in the vicinity of Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

A REAL VAUDEVILLE SHOW.

NEW VAUDEVILLE EXCITES INTEREST

Theater-goers are evidencing unusual interest in the inauguration of popular vaudeville at the Forsyth, Monday afternoon. The wonderful popularity of this class of entertainment has spread all over the country and in all the larger cities a number of theaters have been devoted to the policy. In the Wells circuit there are popular vaudeville theaters being operated at this time in Richmond, Norfolk, Savannah, Birmingham and Nashville, and during the next three weeks Chattanooga, Macon, Augusta, Knoxville, Mobile and other cities will be added.

The branch office of the United Booking Offices of America established here will have a supervision over the booking, under the direction of B. S. Muckenfuss. Jake Wells will devote his personal attention to the quality of acts.

The Forsyth programs will consist of five selected acts each week, and a pair of reels of selected motion pictures will have value. The Forsyth will be operated precisely as it has been, with the same staff of attendants, and the busy theater will cater at all times to the best class of people.

Matinee performances will start at 2:30 o'clock and the night performances at 7:45 and 9:15 o'clock. Reserved seats can be secured in advance for any performance, but no seats are held after 8:20 at night.

Mrs. M. P. Davis, Valdosta.

Valdosta, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) Mrs. M. P. Davis, formerly of Cuthbert, Ga., died at the home of her son, W. Davis, in this city this morning, after an illness of six weeks. Her body was carried to Cuthbert today for interment. Mrs. Davis was about 74 years old.

W. M. Mills, Griffin.

Griffin, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—William Martin Mills, one of Griffin's wealthiest and most prominent citizens, died Wednesday night at 11 o'clock, at the home of his sister-in-law. Death was caused by a stroke of paralysis, with which he was stricken a week ago.

The deceased was born in Savannah, Ga., sixty-three years ago, being a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Mills, wealthy and influential people of that city. He was engaged in the drug business there for many years and during three epidemics of yellow fever remained in his drug store and supplied medicine to suffering humanity while scores of other citizens of the panic-stricken city fled to escape the dread disease. He was a man of kindly heart and highly esteemed by all who knew him for his many noble traits of character. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and a prominent member of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks.

Funeral services were held at his late home Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, conducted by Rev. W. A. Murray. The body was interred in Oak Hill cemetery in this city.

Mrs. Minnie Dodd, Rome, Ga.

Rome, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Mrs. Minnie Dodd aged 18 years, recently married to Ralph Dodd, a popular young man of Floyd, died this morning at her home at Pope's Ferry after a short illness. She is survived by her husband, her two brothers and two sisters. Funeral and interment will be held tomorrow.

ASK $181,000 DAMAGES FOR OIL EXPLOSIONS

The filing of three suits by John Maynue and Mrs. John Mayhue, of Tucker, DeKalb county, against the Texas Oil company for a total of $16,000 damages, in Fulton county superior court, Friday, runs the aggregate of damages asked for in recent cases of oil explosions to a total of $181,000.

The suits are brought because of burns received by Mrs. Mayhue in attempting to save her daughter, Nora Mayhue, who, on August 11, was burned to death following an explosion which occurred while she was pouring oil upon unlighted fuel in a stove, according to the allegations set forth in the suit.

The claimants claim that they bought the oil from the Texas company, and that it was highly inflammable and a dangerous explosive, and not in conformity with the standard set by Georgia laws.

GIRL WATER RIVALS CLASH AGAIN AT PIEDMONT: TILTING CONTEST CENTERS ATTENTION OF MANY

PRICE PHOTOS

More than two thousand lovers of water sports lined the banks of Piedmont lake to witness the contests held there yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the United States Volunteer Life Saving corps, represented by Benjamin Schlomberg.

Beside several interesting and exciting meets, Jennie Perkerson and Virginia Merker, the child rivals for the juvenile swimming championship of Atlanta, clashed again in a half-mile handicap race, Jennie winning out over her opponent by two and a half yards in a sensational spurt.

The most interesting event of the program, and the most thrilling, was the boat tilting contest between the team composed of R. F. Sams of 146 Juniper street and R. F. Montsalvatge of 166 Highland avenue, and the team of W. B. Hinman of 759 Piedmont avenue and L. C. Jones of 45 Washita avenue. After a stubborn fight in the center of the lake, Sams landed a wallop with his padded tilting club which sent both Hinman and Jones into the water and capsized their craft. The blow was so fierce that Sams' club was broken in half.

Tilting Contest Exciting.

The tilting event was the third contest of the afternoon. Equipped with only one oar, the teammate of each tilter rowed his boat to the lake's center, where the signal was given for battle. Sams was the more aggressive, and frequently forced his rival dangerously near the water. The fight lasted for fully ten minutes. Sams' tilting club was padded with a former cement bag, and each time he struck Jones' head the latter was so blinded and choked by the fumes and dust that his mate was forced to row a retreat.

Sams barely missed being slapped over into the water by his opponent, when, under the impression that the rival boat was out of striking range, he turned his face in the direction of the three press boats and assumed a pose for the photographers. Taking advantage of the chance, Jones' teammate rowed him silently into tilting distance, and Jones handed Sams a wallop which almost sent him tumbling headlong into the lake.

Jennie Perkerson and Virginia Merker in their half-mile handicap race put up a most remarkable performance for endurance and stamina, and kept the huge crowds on the banks thrilled.

Girls Swim Fast Half-Mile.

The two girls, neither of whom is more than 12 years old, swam the half-mile distance in twenty-four minutes, a feat creditable to an expert swimmer of the opposite sex. Because Jennie had beaten her rival in the last race of several weeks ago, in which she won out in a mile race in fifty-four minutes' time, Jennie was handicapped at the start by ten feet. The two juvenile wonders got away fast in the beginning and maintained a swift, aggressive stroke for the first quarter. Both girls used the over and underhand crawl strokes, swimming vigorously throughout the race. Jennie's winning distance was only two and a half yards.

Virginia was almost exhausted at the end of the race, because of a severe headache, from which she suffered before entering the contest. Willing arms lifted her from the water when the race was completed, and placed her in a boat which rowed her to the docks amidst the cheers of the throng of admirers.

Leone Turner Wins Dive.

Another interesting event was the most graceful dive contest, in which Jennie Perkerson entered against little Leone Turner, of 209 Peachtree Circle, an 8-year-old wonder, whose feats are surprising the expert swimmers who frequent Piedmont lake. Cleaving the water in a superb dive, the younger girl was awarded the decision by the judges and the crowd that witnessed her performance.

Other events of the afternoon were two 25-yard dashes for men, the first of which was won by Harvey Anderson in 20 seconds time. James Photos was a close second with Harvey Johnson third.

The second 25-yard dash was won by R. F. Sams, of 146 Juniper street, in 17 seconds, winning against a field of three opponents.

GENERAL OROZCO LEAVES JUAREZ

Juarez, Mexico, August 16.—Pascual Orozco, the rebel chief, evacuated Juarez today, leaving behind a small rebel guard to preserve order until the arrival of federal troops. The guards looted the customs house, but secured no money.

The American and German consuls organized a citizens' committee to protect the city.

Orozco, up to the hour of his departure, declared he would not treat for peace so long as Madero is president of Mexico. The rebel general said he was tired of denying reports that he is suing for peace. He would not accept peace, he says, if it carried with it the condition that Madero remain in power.

ARGUMENTS END IN DARROW CASE

Judge Will Deliver Instructions in Bribery Trial to the Jury Today.

Los Angeles, Cal., August 16.—District Attorney Fredericks did not conclude the argument for the prosecution in the Darrow bribery trial until late today and Judge Hutton announced he would not deliver his instructions to the jury until tomorrow. Fredericks closed his argument, which had extended through a day and a half, by urging the jury to set aside their sympathy for Darrow and by finding him guilty put an end forever to the corruption of jury bribing.

"If by reason of his age," he said, "or for any other reason you think he is entitled to consideration or clemency, let the court extend it."

In summing up Fredericks read a list of twenty-two alleged crimes he said Darrow had committed in preparing the McNamara case. These included the telephone warning to several jurors considered hostile to the defense and procuring $10,000 from a San Francisco bank for alleged corrupt purposes. Fredericks declared that if Darrow was not convicted jury bribing would be made safe forever.

Speaking of the manner in which Darrow's closing pleas had affected the jurors Fredericks called upon them to be strong.

"George Washington," he said, "wept when he signed the death warrant of Major Andre. You men must do your sworn duty even though it affects you likewise."

The prosecutor was interrupted frequently b yattorneys for the defense or by the defendant himself. Fredericks declared the attorneys were "badgering" him because they did not want the jury to hear what he had to say, and asked the court to silence them.

Much time was devoted to the oft-discussed "peace negotiations" in the McNamara case, the speaker declaring on one occasion that had George N. Lockwood accepted the bribe offered him instead of reporting it to the district attorney, there never would have been a settlement as the defense would then have had two men on the jury.

The testimony of defense witnesses that both of the McNamaras were willing to plead guilty a week before the culmination of the trial was denounced as absurd.

"They were willing to let the poor wretch, J. B. McNamara, go to the gallows if necessary," said Fredericks, "but they did not want to throw in J. J. McNamara because that would have meant the throwing in of union labor and they did not want to throw organized labor to the wolves, as they have termed us."

BROWN CHALLENGES BLALOCK TO MEET HIM

HON. A. O. BLALOCK:

I hereby challenge you to meet me on the stage of the Grand opera house, Atlanta, Monday night, or on Tuesday night, as may best suit your convenience, to publicly answer the following charges:

1. I charge that prior to the last session of the general assembly you met one of the largest manufacturers of fertilizers at the Kimball house and you told him you would see that no bill hostile to the manufacturers would be introduced—if they would put up fifteen to twenty thousand dollars for your campaign fund.

2. I charge that you assured the manufacturers of fertilizer that you would not hurt a hair on their heads—if they came across.

3. I charge that you said they could trust you—if they raised fifteen to twenty thousand dollars—and that you declared that if you were elected you would be commissioner in fact as well as in name, and that you would send your running mate, Hon. E. Cabaniss, out on the road and keep him away from the office during the fertilizer season.

Mr. Blalock, the people would like to know what you intended to give as "value received" for the proposed fund of fifteen thousand to twenty thousand dollars.

Accept my challenge and tell the people all about it. I guarantee that my authority will be present on the stage in person or persons and will make solemn oath to the truth of the above charges.

Your failure to be present will be an admission that the charges are true.

It is up to you to confront your accusers face to face and let the people of Georgia acquit or convict you.

Don't write a card. Come.

J. J. BROWN.

"DIXIE MAGNET" IN LIMELIGHT AGAIN

Issues Four Warrants Against Man Who Claims He Is Her Son.

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The "Dixie Magnet" (Mrs. Dixie Jarrett) is in the limelight again, through four warrants taken out against the man who claims to be her real son, but who, she says, is only an adopted son. Mrs. Jarrett was recently acquitted of the charge of lunacy brought by the alleged son, Fred Haygood.

The warrants charge Haygood with writing a threatening letter to his foster mother, with pointing a pistol at her, and one requires him to give bond for keeping the peace and another charging forgery.

Bail trover proceedings have also been instituted by Mrs. Jarrett to recover 214 different personal and household articles she claims belongs to her and are now in the possession of Haygood.

The warrant charging Haygood with pointing a pistol at Mrs. Jarrett is based on the threatening letter alleged to have been written, in which it is claimed Haygood admits pointing the pistol, and expressing regret that he did not take her life then and there.

The warrant for sending the threatening letter alleges that Haygood told Mrs. Jarrett she would be killed if she attempted to recover any goods or issued any more warrants for him. Haygood is a bartender, and claims to be Mrs. Jarrett's son through her marriage to a man named Haygood.

As "The Dixie Magnet" Mrs. Jarrett is well known throughout the country, she having appeared on the vaudeville stage for many years under that name.

ONE KILLED, TWO HURT AT DANVILLE CROSSING

Danville, Va., August 16.—Mrs. Ben Cobler was instantly killed tonight at 6 o'clock at the "dry bridge," the South Main street crossing of the Southern railway, by a local freight train. Her sister, Mrs. Lucille Wells, was at the same time badly injured, and Ben Cobler was slightly injured. The trio was walking the north track as passenger train No. 43 flashed by, the noise from which prevented them from hearing the approaching freight. The woman was mangled almost beyond recognition. They were cotton mill operatives.

ORGAN RECITALS RESUMED SUNDAY

Memorial Program for Massenet—Dittler, Violinist, Assists Dr. Starnes.

Sunday's organ recital at the Auditorium will very appropriately be a memorial service for Jules Frederick Emile Massenet, the eminent French composer, who died last Tuesday in Paris, and the program is representative of this composer. Herbert Dittler, violinist, will assist Dr. Starnes, Atlanta's gifted city organist. This is the first recital in three weeks, owing to the fact that the Auditorium has been occupied for other purposes.

Massenet was born at Montaud, near St. Etienne, May 12, 1842. He early attracted attention by his original compositions, and laid the foundation of fame with several orchestral suites. His best known work is "Thais."

The program in full is as follows:

1. Massenet—"Scenes Pittoresques."
(a) "Air de Ballet," (b) "Angelus," (c) "Fete Boheme."

Massenet laid the foundation of his fame with the several orchestral suites, of which the one under notice is perhaps the best known. In the "Air de Ballet" occurs a most bewitching melody for the cello, accompanied by the strings, the wood-wind is also beautifully treated. In the second number, "Angelus," the vesper bells are heard mingling with the evening prayer of the faithful, whilst in the third number, "A Bohemian Holiday," the wild hilarity is portrayed as vividly as a master painter could do it.

2. Vieuxtemps (1820-81)—Ballade et Polonaise. Solo, violin, Herbert Dittler.

3. Massenet—"The Last Sleep of the Virgin" (La Vierge). The calm repose of death is beautifully typified in this celebrated number by the late French composer.

4. Starnes—"Aria Romantico." (First time of performance.)

Solo, violin, Herbert Dittler.

5. (a) Massenet, "Meditation (Thais); (b) Cesar Cui, "Orientale;" (c) Zarzycki (1884-95).

Solo, violin, Herbert Dittler.

6. Chopin—Funeral March.

The improvement of Ivy street will go to council next Monday afternoon with an almost unanimous approval of the street committee, for that committee yesterday afternoon voted to report the matter favorably with one dissenting vote, that of Councilman Orville H. Hall, who stated that he would vote "No" because he wished to further consider the matter.

The committee had approved the project at a former meeting, but had to take it up again because of a proposition which had been made by the board of county commissioners. The county had agreed to do all of the work except the building of the necessary retaining walls. The council committee after receiving the estimates from the chief of construction agreed to accept the county's proposition.

Must Readjust Grades.

The chief of construction stated that the total cost of the work to the city would be $27,613 and this included the readjustment of the grades on Cain and Harris streets where they cross Ivy street. All other cross streets will not have to be regraded.

Alderman Ragsdale struck the keynote of the meeting when he stated that although he lived in the ninth ward he recognized that the improvement of Ivy street would benefit the entire city.

Alderman McClelland made a talk against the project on the ground that the men who were advancing the $30,000 would want it back and that meant the stopping of improvements in other sections of the city.

Mr. Hurt stated that he and other citizens had agreed to put up $30,000 and the city could pay it back whenever it got ready and without interest. He said that the improvement of Ivy would benefit the second and third wards as it would open up a driveway across the city over the Washington street viaduct. He was willing to wager, he said, that the people of those two wards would vote two to one for the improvement.

Others who spoke for the improvement were Z. D. Harrison and W. D. Greene.

Would Damage His Apartment.

Dr. Frank Edmondson said the regrading would greatly damage his apartment house and he did not think the city should impose such a hardship on him.

J. C. Rushin, of the third ward, said his people would like to see Ivy street improved provided Georgia avenue was first improved.

The committee finally voted for the project and will so recommend to council. As the property owners have put up $30,000 and the city has appropriated $5,000 and the chief of construction estimates that the total work will cost only $27,613, it was agreed that if any money was left over it would be turned over to the property owners who had subscribed to the fund.

When the matter is adopted by council and approved by the mayor the county will start at once on the work of regrading Ivy street.

12,000 EXPECTED AT CAMPMEETING

Indian Springs Will Have Capacity Crowd Next Sunday.

Jackson, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) The famous Indian Spring Holiness campmeeting is now in full blast. Thousands from all parts of Georgia, Alabama and Florida attend these great meetings every year. Fully 12,000 are expected next Sunday, the last day of the meeting.

The camp ground is a wooded and well-watered tract of eighty-five acres in Butts county, beautifully situated on the Indian Spring and Flovilla railroad midway between Flovilla and the spring.

This is the greatest campmeeting in the south, and if the plans of the trustees are wrought out it will soon rival the great campmeetings of the north and east.

This enterprise stands for the spread of holiness as a second work of grace, and the management comprises some of the strongest preachers from all parts of the country to minister to the multitudes who attend.

The preachers for the present meeting are Rev. C. W. Ruth, of Indianapolis, Ind., and Rev. C. H. Babcock, of Portsmouth, Va., and their great messages stir the immense crowds to a high pitch of religious fervor.

Another feature of this great gathering is the music. Seldom does one hear such soul-stirring music. Charles D. Tillman, the sweet gospel singer of the south, is in charge of this feature of the meeting. He is assisted in the work by an orchestra of some ten or a dozen pieces and a chorus choir of some 200 voices, and hard, indeed, is the soul that is not touched and melted by the music of the campmeeting.

MORE FUNDS PROVIDED FOR WORK ON STREETS

Alderman John S. Candler, chairman of the finance committee of council, made a statement to the street committee yesterday afternoon in which he said that since the city's appropriation for ordinary street work had been exhausted, and the whole of the $30,0000 expended, it was necessary to provide additional funds.

"The finance committee," said Alderman Candler, "has decided to transfer $41,000 from appropriations which will not be utilized this year and place it to the credit of streets ordinary. The city is hard up just now. I believe we will fall $58,000 short of estimated receipts placed in the June apportionment sheet. There is much street work that must be done, and my committee will co-operate with the street committee to see that every available dollar is given for the purpose."

INCREASES SUSPENDED IN RATES ON LUMBER

Washington, August 16.—Proposed increases in lumber transportation rates from states east of the Mississippi and south of the Ohio and Potomac rivers to Washington, Baltimore and other destinations in the north and east, were suspended today by the interstate commerce commission until December 17. The increases range from 1 to 2 cents a hundred pounds, varying with the kind of lumber and the length of the haul.

BIG LABOR DAY PARADE PLANNED

More Than $2,500 Will Be Spent for Big Celebration.

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The Macon Central Labor union is making more extensive plans this year for the celebration of Labor day than in many years past. Invitations have been extended to all towns in middle Georgia to join with the local trade body, and the indications are that hundreds of visitors will come here on that day.

The scene of the day's festivities will be Central City park, where a program of speaking will be followed by a series of athletic events, for which valuable prizes will be awarded. The celebration will open with a big parade in the morning, in which all of the labor bodies of the city will participate, and in which it is planned to have 100 beautifully decorated floats. This year the chamber of commerce has named a citizens' committee to co-operate with the labor union in arranging the celebration, and for this reason the observance of the day will be more general than ever before. The joint committees are at work securing subscriptions to defray the expense of the undertaking and it is the intention to raise at least $2,500.

In addition to the set program at the park, there will be a basket picnic and barbecue. The orator of the day has not yet been announced.

Interested in Trade Train.

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The plan for operating a trade boosting train from Macon throughout south Georgia during the second week of September, is meeting with general favor among the merchants of the city, and already forty-two have made reservations. Within a week the committee in charge expects to have the required number of 100. A large exhibit car is now being fitted up and it is probable that another car will have to be secured for that purpose. It is the intention of the merchants on the train to carry displays of their wares and in addition they will have literature, samples and other advertising matter to distribute in the various towns in which stops are made. The tour will require five days and ninety-six towns will be visited, the schedule being so arranged that the nights will be spent in the larger towns.

NO VETO PROBABLE OF DOG TAX REPEAL

Governor Brown Swamped With Letters Since Passage of Bill.

The legislative act which repeals the law imposing a tax on dogs, and which will have the effect of knocking off $175,000 from the tax returns of Georgia, is not likely to get a veto from Governor Brown, as has been intimated.

Governor Brown has been almost swamped with letters since the passage of the repeal act. He has been furnished with a thousand and one reasons why the law should remain as it is to admit of the annual flow of 175,000 bright, shining dollars into the treasury.

The dog tax law is resented particularly in the rural districts, and today it is the most unpopular statute on the books.

Chairman Ashley, of the ways and means committee of the house, fought against the repeal of the law after the legislature deliberately killed his bill to impose an additional tax of one mill for 1913 to raise $90,000 to pay the school teachers.

LONG SENTENCE EXPECTED BY THE M'ELHANEY JURY

Columbus, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) Half of the jurors in the trial of the negro, McElhaney, who was lynched here Tuesday afternoon, today published a signed statement to the effect that when they returned a verdict of involuntary manslaughter they thought the penalty would be at least twenty years in the penitentiary.

The grand jury met today and was in session three hours and then adjourned until August 23.

It is not known whether there was any investigation of the lynching today.

NEW ROAD FOR MIDDLE GEORGIA

Perry, Macon and Northern Is Corporate Name of the Proposed Line.

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—A number of the wealthiest and most influential men in Houston county have applied for a charter to operate a railroad known as the Perry, Macon and Northern, with Macon and Perry as the terminus, the company to be organized with a capital stock of $100,000, which has been provided for.

Captain William C. White, of Macon, is now making the survey toward Macon, and Edward M. Beckham, the contractor who built most of the Hawkinsville and Western, has his entire outfit located at Perry ready to begin work at once.

It is the claim that the proposition is a local one entirely, but there are some who can see through it a plan of the Seaboard to get an entrance into Macon. The Hawkinsville and Western, which enters Perry, was leased to the Gulf Line, the latter a Seaboard controlled property, as soon as it was completed. Thus the Seaboard is as close to Macon as 30 miles, and the new road from Perry would give the final entry into Macon. The new road will give Macon a new route to the sea, using the proposed line from Macon to Perry, the Hawkinsville and Western and the Wrightsville and Tennille forming the link which gives a more or less direct route to Savannah.

At the present time, though Perry is only 30 miles distant from Macon, it takes twenty-two hours to make the journey here by rail, those making the trip having to go via Fort Valley. Perry is in the center of some of the best feeding territory Macon has.

MILITIA LAWS RAISE STANDARD

The legislature in adition to making an appropriation of $7,000 for the national guard and an additional $900 for a contingent fund, passed laws which raises the standard of the state militia to compare with almost any state in the United States.

The law which is to go into effect provides for the retirement of officers and enlisted men when they reach the age of 64 years. This is a law similar to other states, and is regarded by military officers as a long stride towards building up the state militia. The men are retired in a manner similar to that required in the United States army. They are placed on the retired list and are benefited in the same manner as men in the regular service.

Law a Progressive Step.

"I view the law as a progressive step to keep men in the service of the state," said Adjutant General Obear. Friday. "The retirement clause serves as an incentive to the men to remain in the service for the after glory."

Another clause in the law is that officers and men who have served in other states may count such service towards retirement or service medals in the national guard. He must, however, have served five years in the guard.

The riot laws were amended by the legislature in a manner which takes from sheriffs, mayors and judges the authority to call out the troops to quell a riot or insurrection, by placing the authority solely with the governor. The amendment to the law will prevent the indiscriminating use of troops and will cause the civil authorities to exhaust their power with posses before calling on the troops.

The law consolidates the office of quartermaster general with that of adjutant general, and the adjutant general is made ex-officio head of all staff departments. Clerks in the military service are hereafter to hold their positions under civil service rules.

Favors Military Communication.

The law gives military communications, in time of riot or danger, right of way over all other communications over telephone and telegraph lines, and authorizes the running of special trains on Sundays carrying the state militia or United States troops.

Under the law the governor is authorized to appoint his private secretary as one of his aides with the rank of lieutenant colonel without regard previous military service. Under this section Governor Brown's private secretary, Jesse Perry, is a colonel and not a major.

Military records of the state are to be preserved by the adjutant general.

The law provides that flags used in the Spanish-American war shall be displayed in the corridors of the capitol.

REPAIRS ARE PROMISED ON GRANT AND GLENWOOD

Citizens appeared before the street committee of council yesterday afternoon to urge that the Georgia Railway and Power company be made to repair Grant street and Glenwood avenue at once. Nearly two years ago the company tore up the streets to lay double tracks, and since then the streets have been either mudholes or dustheaps. Repeated efforts have been made to get the company to repair the streets, and yet nothing has been done. The citizens asked that the city do the work and make the company pay for it.

T. K. Glenn, representing the company, stated that the company was ready and willing to do what was right without any further delay. On this assurance the committee took no action.

A committee of citizens was present to request that Holderness street be opened up 1,100 feet east of Greensferry avenue. It was stated that a lot had been donated for a church on the proposed new street. The matter was referred to Councilman Sisson, of the fifth ward.

RALLY IS HELD FOR ALEXANDER

Sixty-Two Persons Present at Meeting in Cable Hall.

There were exactly sixty-two present at the meeting held last night in Cable hall, in the interest of Hooper Alexander, prohibition candidate for governor. The meeting was addressed by C. A. Brannon, M. F. Buchanan, Charles D. McKinney and Thomas H. Goodwyn, and its purpose was to secure the pledges of the supporters of the candidate to work at the polls.

The Atlanta newspapers were roasted up one side and down the other for failing to notice the campaign of the prohibition candidate, and John M. Slaton was severely criticised. The speakers had little to say of the other candidate, Joe Hill Hall.

Campaign Outlined by McKinney.

The campaign was outlined by Manager McKinney, who has been directing the Alexander forces. He declared that the campaign is the most remarkable that has ever been made in Georgia, but one would never think so by the Atlanta papers. He declared that the campaign for Mr. Alexander was being conducted in a different manner from the other candidates. Twenty speakers, he said, are on the stump in different parts of the state, and hundreds of thousands of copies of speeches and platform were being distributed throughout the state.

He emphasized the statement that the progressive democrats of Georgia were supporting Alexander, and mentioned that the anti-liquor forces were solidly for him. He also declared that the traveling men of the state were behind the gentleman from DeKalb.

"This meeting is held for the purpose of getting every man of you to pledge yourself to do something next Wednesday," he explained. "We want every man to go to the polls and see that his neighbor votes for Mr. Alexander."

Says Credit Was Taken From Him.

He referred to the record of Alexander during the time he has been in the legislature, and pointed particularly to his efforts during the last session to get the Western and Atlantic road extended to the sea. He also referred to the time when Mr. Alexander printed a paper in DeKalb county and being the first to advocate taxation of the franchises of public utility corporations, and then when the law was finally passed the credit was taken from him. He said that Alexander came out for prohibition long before any other candidate ever thought to put it in his campaign.

The other speakers told of the efforts that were being made throughout the state in the interest of the candidate, and they all urged that everyone in the crowd pledge himself to work to secure the election of the DeKalb candidate next Wednesday.

Mr. Alexander was not present at the meeting on account of a speaking engagement in one of the county districts.

The meeting was called to order by W. P. Carpenter, who presided as master of ceremonies.

ALBANY BATTLES OVER VACCINATION

Dougherty County Medical Society Asks Indorsement of State Health Board.

The state board of health will be asked to indorse the resolutions adopted by the Dougherty County Medical society protesting against the opposition to the order requiring vaccination as a precedent to the admission of children into the schools in the city of Albany and the country districts.

The society has taken up the gauntlet thrown down by the anti-vaccination element, and in a strong set of resolutions, which have been sent broadcast over the state, charges "ignorance" on the part of those behind the opposition. The resolutions urge that the county board of education enforce the vaccination rule.

"The petition circulated shows ignorance on the part of those responsible of the seriousness of the step," the resolutions charge.

The society is unanimous in its opinion that vaccination is the only reasonable preventative of the spread of small pox, and is therefore indispensable. The society points out that the crowded schoolroom, with children from every part of the state, offers exceptional means of conveying the disease.

Pottle Is Indorsed.

Fitzgerald, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the bar association of Fitzgerald, held during an intermission of the city court of Fitzgerald yesterday, resolutions indorsing the candidacy of J. R. Pottle were adopted unanimously.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S VETO OF TARIFF BILLS.

The manner in which President Taft's vetoes of the wool and steel tariff revision bills were overridden by the house is illuminating as showing the unwillingness even of the stalwarts to stand by the president in his opposition to tariff revision. The steel bill passed by a vote of 173 to 83, a clear two-thirds. But 131 members dodged a vote. Had a half dozen republicans out of this number been present and voted to sustain the president, the result would have been different.

In the face of the universal demand for lower duties, shared in to an extent by scores of republicans in congress; in the face of the agreement between democrats and members of his own party for moderate reductions, President Taft firmly sets his face against these bills and says the people can have no relief except according to his own idea. What that idea is would be difficult to state.

Minority Leader Underwood, in scoring the inane suggestion in the veto message that the schedules in the bill passed last year had been changed and no sufficient reason given therefor, said:

A statement of that kind in a great public document is not only lamentable, but it is pitiable. He vetoes a public measure because in the lapse of a year's time the congress of the United States had determined to change the rates in that bill, and as we did not communicate to him our reasons for the change of rates in the two bills, forsooth it must receive his veto. Any man of intelligence or any man of conscience, any man having respect for himself, would not send to the congress of the United States that statement as a reason for defeating the will of the American people as expressed by their representatives in the congress of the United States.

In declaring that the democratic measures are revenue tariff bills and take no account of the principle of protection, the president is again on treacherous ground. He formerly found a good excuse in the fact that the tariff bill had not reported. Finally the board did make a report on schedule K which, in many respects, fully justified the wool tariff bill of last year. Still he adheres to his opinion. Pretty soon Mr. Heyburn will be the only champion of Mr. Taft's peculiar ideas of tariff reductions, though the latter's position is the clearer. He is frankly against any reductions.

In a frank effort to secure some measure of relief from high tariff duties, the democrats cast aside cheap politics and partisan bigotry and permitted their own bills to be amended by republicans in order to get something through.

The issue has been made clear and the country now knows that the failure of tariff legislation is due to the power of the executive veto. By the use of this sovereign power the expressed wish of the people and the deliberate action of congress has been set aside and efforts to bring some relief from the burden of high prices blocked.

THE TREATY AND THE CANAL.

Editor Constitution: I have read with much interest your editorial on Panama canal legislation—especially that feature of it referring to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, which pledges that all nations shall have the same privileges as regards the use of the canal.

Can you give me the wording of that feature of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty?

W. R. DOSTER.

Atlanta, Ga., August 16, 1912.

The Hay-Pauncefote treaty between the United States and Great Britain was concluded in 1901 as a substitute for the old Clayton-Bulwer treaty.

The provision in reference to the Panama canal is as follows:

"The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations observing these rules, on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any such nation, or its citizens or subjects, in respect of the condition or charges of traffic or otherwise. Such conditions and charges of traffic shall be just and equitable."

This restriction upon the power of the United States to make rules for the operation of the canal has been much discussed in recent debates and it has been zealously contended that the words "all nations" meant "all other nations," and did not include the United States.

To have made an exception between American and foreign vessels engaged in foreign trade would have put this country in the attitude of repudiating a solemn treaty obligation after availing itself of the advantage of that contract.

But its coastwise shipping, from which field foreign ships are excluded, comes undoubtedly under another head and is susceptible to different treatment, if such a policy is thought wise.

A NEW CLASS OF ELECTORS.

Some exception has been taken to the fact, announced in current press dispatches, that a pedigreed bulldog was voted in a West Virginia election for congressman in place of a negro voter.

Admission of the bulldog, or any other of the canine species, for that matter, to the electorate, it must be conceded, is somewhat of a startling innovation, even more so than the not infrequently alleged voting of dead men.

But consider: This particular bulldog may have been possessed of an education, possibly in advance of some of those now admitted to suffrage; he may have had property—owners of dogs have been known to bestow upon them small fortunes—his ancestors, possibly, had been engaged in many battles; no doubt he had paid his dollar tax and was registered full six months in advance of the election.

Whether the election was held under the Australian ballot system, or there was required any particular scratching of the ticket, the dispatches do not state. Doubtless, however, the canine elector responded to his name—it's a poor dog that couldn't do that.

In the light of these considerations it is not surprising that congress went slow in its investigations of the case, and while arraigning franchise conditions in the West Virginia district, decided not to unseat the claimant because of the vote of a single bulldog.

It will be interesting, however, to note what the women of Virginia will have to say about the matter, since in the extension of the franchise in that state, the bulldog has beaten them to the polls.

WHAT IS AN APPETITE WORTH?

A wealthy New Yorker, according to press dispatches, has given $220,000 to Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, for restoring his appetite.

Possibly he would have paid more for it, had it been necessary to get it back; nevertheless he seems to have established the record price in the appetite market.

There was a story current some years ago of John D. Rockefeller having gone into the field with a hoe in pursuit of a lost digestion, but there is no record of his having disgorged any large amount of cash for its recovery. This work would probably have netted him $1.25 a day in the labor market, so it cannot be accepted as any standard by which to measure the value of the return of the lost article.

So far as the records disclose, the New Yorker's payment of $220,000 is the top notch of the market; but even that would indicate that every man is born with a comfortable fortune in his possession.

It is doubtful if any man would let it go at that price, knowing its recovery to be impossible. Fairly comparative comfort is possible with the absence of one foot, one hand or one eye; but the man in whom torture waits on effort at digestion, and for whom there is no hope, might as well get busy with his "swan song."

Yet thousands of men who would scorn the price in a lump sum are cashing in their appetites every year at far less than the market value—sacrificing them on the altar of haste in the pursuit of the dollar.

The dollar-a-day laborer, with his dinner can swinging at his side and his pick over his shoulder, revels in the thought of the noon hour with his cornpone and beans and sidemeat; but he is possessed of property worth $220,000, according to the market figures, while there is many a chap who has bartered his digestive inheritance for a tenth of that sum.

It is vastly more difficult to recover an appetite than it is to preserve it; sometimes it cannot be gotten back even with the expenditure of $220,000.

There is no question that it is worth that sum, if lost and it takes that to recover it; but conservation of it will save the price and prevent the tremendous loss of dividends incident to the destruction of it.

Short on the Ten-Dollar Bills.

I.

They're gone to the place of their raisin'—
They're back to the valleys an' hills,
But we're still as they found us—
High prices all 'round us,—
Still short on the ten-dollar bills.

II.

They talked from the dawn to the dark time—
Their eloquence gave us the thrills;
They brought the house down,—
Sorter woke up the town,
But—we're short on the ten-dollar bills.

III.

Oh, they made lots o' laws for the people
From cities to moonshiny stills;
Bills here, an' bills there,
But the folks everywhere
Are short on the ten-dollar bills.

Letters From People

Eulogizes Senator Bacon.

Editor Constitution: The old Romans had an expression (Palmum qui, etc.), "let him wear the honors who deserves them," to translate freely.

From this admirable point of view the re-election of Senator Bacon is assured. In honoring him, Georgia honors herself. An abler and more useful statesman cannot be found within her borders. His long and conspicuous service in the senate has been of infinite value to her. No public man she has sent to Washington since the war has equaled him in the benefit he has done his state and better illustrated her in the councils of the nation, not even the illustrious Hill, who served at a time when sectionalism was rampant, and his splendid abilities thereby neutralized.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY BY ENTERTAINING CHILDREN

Athens, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Today Colonel M. G. Michael, department store owner, director in banks and insurance companies and factories, and half owner of the old colonial opera house where thousands of university boys have witnessed plays for half a century, celebrated his birthday by inviting every child in Athens to see the "movies" and a special vaudeville at his theater. A little reader in the morning paper asked them unconditionally to come. There were at the matinee a thousand little ones, with not more than twenty grown-ups. Mr. Michael also sent a check to the management of the orphanage in Atlanta and asked that all the little ones be carried for a car ride and to see the show at a theater there.

WIFE BEGGED HUSBAND NOT TO KILL BURGLAR

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The appeal by his wife was all that kept C. E. Odom, 754 Cherry street, from killing a burglar early Friday morning. Mr. Odom awakened during the night to hear someone trying to open a window. He got his pistol and stood where he could see the burglar at work. His wife begged him not to shoot, partly because she did not want her husband to have the man's blood on his hands, and partly because of the illness of a member of the family.

Mr. Odom grabbed at the man when he had succeeded in opening the window, but he wrenched himself free and made his escape.

JACKSON EXONERATED BY JUSTICE RIDLEY

The case against Judge Robert R. Jackson, of Gober & Jackson, charging him with retaining in his possession jewels stolen in the famous trunk robbery, has been settled out of court, and Judge Jackson was exonerated Friday by Justice J. B. Ridley, before whom the case was set for hearing.

Justice Ridley rendered it his judgement that Gober & Jackson had performed services under an agreement which justified them in retaining jewels in their possession pending payment of their fee. He assessed the costs upon the Jewelers' Protective association, who also paid to Gober & Jackson a fee of $100.

Bremen, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Johnny Chance, who was seriously injured Tuesday when thrown from a buggy by a runaway horse, has regained consciousness, but has no recollection at all of his experience, nor does he remember going to or being in Powden on that day. Chance's head was crushed in, and while he is conscious, grave fears are entertained for his recovery.

VIRGINIA ALUMNI TO NAME MEN FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

1,200 KNEEL IN STREET TO PRAY FOR ITALIAN KILLED BY CAR

New York, August 16.—Twelve hundred Italians who had just left a midnight open-air celebration of the feast of the assumption in the upper Bronx knelt in the street at 1 o'clock this morning around the body of Frank Rimoli, one of their leaders, who lay decapitated under a Jerome avenue street car. Rimoli was knocked off the car and fell under the wheels. The conductor of the street car declared to his passengers that the accident was due to the fact that Rimoli had jumped on board from the wrong side in an effort to avoid paying his fare.

"That is true," said one of Rimoli's friends. "He had put every cent he possessed into the collection plate at the feast."

The conductor, himself a devout Italian, then suggested that all those present kneel and pray for the soul of Rimoli. Several cars following, all crowded with Italians, were stopped and their occupants joined those praying in the street, until fully 1,200 men and women were kneeling around the mangled body.

REFORM COUNCILMAN RESIGNS ADMITTING A LIFE OF CRIME

Philadelphia, August 16.—Jean Valjean in real life was disclosed here yesterday when William Burke, elected a city councilman on the reform ticket, resigned his seat and told how, under the name of Benjamin H. Tripp, he had served a long term in the Massachusetts state prison after a career of crime in Boston and New York.

Coming to this city in 1907, after completing his sentence, Burke earned a living as a wood carver, a trade he had learned while in jail. Taking an active interest in reform politics, he was prevailed upon to accept the nomination to the council. Shortly after his election he was recognized by a fellow convict and blackmailed until, driven to desperation, he determined to resign and tell his own story.

According to Burke's story appearing in The Philadelphia Inquirer, today over his signature, for years before he became a convict at Boston he had led the life of a thief, a pickpocket, a yeggman and a porch climber. When he was arrested, previous to his conviction at Boston, he was called the "prince of flat workers." He says he started in life as a street waif on the East Side of New York selling newspapers.

"Gopher men," the species of crooks who confine themselves to cracking and robbing safes, were the first of the underworld he fell in with. They used him, so his story runs, to visit establishments where they thought a safe might be worth rifling. Then he drifted in with a gang of "moll buzzers," that class of thieves who, he explains, are pickpockets making a specialty of snatching women's handbags. After this Burke says he went west with several "yeggmen" and in Chicago, Kansas City and San Francisco in the eighties he was the associate of desperate thieves.

Upon returning to New York he became a gambler and then a sneak thief. Later he went to Boston where, after robbing many houses, he was caught and convicted. Judge Bond sentenced him on December 16, 1896, to not less than seven years.

Upon his release he settled in the northeastern section of this city, where he worked at his newly learned trade and saved enough money to buy a little cigar store. He married and has one child.

Burke insists he has done nothing wrong since the gates of Charlestown prison swung open for him and he stepped into the world a free man.

WOMAN TAKES STUMP TO GET WOMEN VOTES FOR WILSON

San Francisco, August 16.—Mrs. Gertrude Atherton, the California novelist, "took the stump" here last night to tell California's newly enfranchised women why, in her opinion, they should vote for Woodrow Wilson.

Beginning with the announcement that "I cannot see much difference in the personal platforms of Wilson and Roosevelt," Mrs. Atherton delivered an epigrammatic attack upon Colonel Roosevelt and a like defense of Governor Wilson. She said in part:

"Seventy years ago Charlotte Bronte invented Roosevelt in the character of Rochester. Since that time women have loved Rochester, the man who was 100 per cent male. I confess that I have a sneaking affection for the type. Rochester was a colossal bluffer—the self-sufficient man. Roosevelt is of that sort.

"Woodrow Wilson is a man who always exercises self-control. He will never be found acting like a bull moose. It will never be possible to call Woodrow Wilson 'Woody' as Roosevelt is called 'Teddy.'

"Recently Roosevelt burst out for suffrage for women. Wilson is opposed to woman suffrage, and is too honest to say that he is for it. He has a few old-fashioned prejudices. But the best way to correct them is to vote for Wilson and convince him by that means that suffrage for women is a good thing."

Mrs. Atherton said that socialism was becoming fashionable in New York.

WONDER-WORKER HEALS THE SICK OF SALE CITY

Sale City, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) J. W. Bennett, who claims to have been told in a dream a few months ago of his supernatural power to heal the sick after having spent several years as a blacksmith, is practicing his powers near here.

Last Monday he was arraigned in city court of Moultrie for practicing medicine without license. In the trial it developed that he used no medicine and made no charge for his services. The testimony was that several of his patients had laid aside their crutches after taking one treatment.

His fellow feeling for the men of his old trade caused him to seek the acquaintance of the local smith here and is at present using his home as a hospital where women, men and children flock to him for relief. His patients in Colquitt and Mitchell counties alone are said to number about 500.

The most remarkable cure reported is as follows: Farmer Henry Jones was entertaining Dr. Bennett for the night and on entering the yard next morning found his dog stiff in the clutches of death, whereupon the doctor was called out and after a few brisk strokes with his hand the dog was said to have been restored to life.

There are a great many who have no faith in the doctor's power, while numbers plead with him daily for help and are turned away for the lack of time to treat them.

J. FRANK BECK HEADS PIEDMONT ORCHARD CO.

At the annual meeting the Piedmont Orchard company yesterday elected the following officers: J. Frank Beck, president; Frank E. Callaway, vice president; O. D. Small, secretary, and James J. Ragan, treasurer.

The Piedmont Orchard company is one of the first large commercial apple orchards in the state. This company owns 2,000 acres in Habersham county, near Clarksville. Already 10,000 trees have been planted, which have made splendid growth. An expert superintendent has charge of the orchards.

Among the local directors of this company are Arnold Broyles, John M. McCullough, J. R. Morris and C. A. Tappan.

FIRST WOMAN TO PAY PENALTY IN THE CHAIR

Richmond, Va., August 16.—Virginia Christian, a negress, the first woman to be put to death in the electric chair in Virginia, was executed early today. Virginia was convicted of murdering her employer, Mrs. Ida Virginia Belote, at Hampton last March.

TWINS, 79 YEARS OLD, HAVE BIG CELEBRATION

Valdosta, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) The celebration of the seventy-ninth birthday of John A. and James S. Carter, of Echols county, was held at the home of the latter on August 12. For several years the annual celebration of the Carter twins has been an event of much importance in that section. They are prominent men in Echols county, remarkably well preserved, and noted for their unusual height, each of them being nearly 7 feet.

At the celebration on the 12th one hundred descendants, relatives and friends were present to congratulate both of the aged couples. They were the recipients of many valuable and useful presents, and the day was made one of great enjoyment. The bounteous dinner provided was enough to have fed twice the one hundred guests.

The Messrs. Carter and their wives are pioneers of Echols county, and have lived there practically all of their lives.

DECATUR HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY IS SELECTED

The faculty of the new Decatur High school has been chosen, and is as follows:

E. E. Treadwell, superintendent and instructor in mathematics; G. M. Wilson, principal and instructor in English and history; Henry Bedinger, instructor in science and Latin.

An attendance from fifty to seventy pupils is expected from Decatur, East Lake, Clarkston, Ingleside, Stone Mountain and Kirkwood.

It will be necessary for prospective students to apply to Superintendent Treadwell for admission cards.

Tuition in the eighth grade will be free. In the ninth grade the tuition will be $3 per month, and in the tenth it will be $3.50. Non-resident pupils in the eighth, ninth and ten grades will be charged $4.

WORK ON NEW DEPOT TO START IMMEDIATELY

Albany, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—With the news that the railroad commission had given authority to the Albany Terminal company to issue $110,000 forth of bonds for the construction of a union passenger station here, comes the announcement that work will begin immediately. The news has been received here with many manifestations of delight, as the need of a new passenger station has long been a crying one. Plans for the new building were completed some time ago. They provide for a station which is expected to be adequate to Albany's needs for a good many years to come.

BURIAL OF BOY WHO FEARED TUBERCULOSIS

Athens, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The funeral of Willie Poss, the lad who, through fear that he would die from tuberculosis, shot himself yesterday at his father's home, near Athens, will be held Saturday morning. Eight double first cousins of the lad will act as pallbearers tomorrow when the body is laid to rest by the side of his mother in the family burying ground near the residence.

MRS. GREGORY WILL PAINT CLEMENT EVANS' PORTRAIT

Mrs. J. R. Gregory, the well-known Georgia artist, will have eight portraits hanging on the walls of the state capitol when she finishes that of General Clement A. Evans. This contract has been awarded her by the joint committee of house and senate and Mrs. Gregory will begin work at once. An error attributed the awarding of the contract to Miss Edwards.

JACKSON CONFERS WITH PRES. TAFT

Collector Also Has a Talk With Chairman C. D. Hilles.

Head of the Georgia G. O. P. Goes East to Fight Grier and to Talk Over Atlanta's Postmaster, It Is Understood.

Absence from Atlanta this week of Henry S. Jackson, collector of internal revenue for Georgia, is causing political talk about the federal building.

Mr. Jackson has been away since Monday and is at present in New York city consulting with C. D. Hiles, chairman of the Taft republican national executive committee, and manager of the Taft campaign. On his way to New York Mr. Jackson dropped off in Washington for a conference with President Taft.

The attitude of Chairman Hilles toward Clark Grier, of Dublin, indicated in a letter the Dublin ex-postmaster received from Mr. Hilles, is said to be the direct cause for Collector Jackson's visit to the president and his subsequent conference with the manager of the president's campaign. Other local matters, too, it is said, were to have been brought to the attention of the president and his manager by Collector Jackson.

One of these, it is said, has to do with the Atlanta postmaster's place, Collector Jackson being opposed to the reappointment of Postmaster Hugh McKee.

Jackson Fighting Grier.

Since the Chicago convention, when Grier showed a strong Roosevelt tendency by actually disregarding his instructions for Taft and lending his aid to the Roosevelt wing, he has been seeking the position of postmaster at Dublin. Collector Jackson has fought the appointment of Grier, but with the indorsement of Walter Johnson, United States marshal for the northern district of Georgia, the Dublin man has been pushing his campaign. Recently Grier received a letter from Hilles in which the campaign manager expressed regret at Collector Jackson's attitude, and expressed an interest in Grier's success in the race. It was for the purpose of determining whether his influence as the recognized head of the republican party in the state was to be set aside by the Hilles-Grier combination that the collector has made his trip to New York and Washington, so it is stated about the federal building. It is also said that Collector Jackson has other reasons for his trip north—one of them having to do with the Atlanta postmaster.

It has long been known that the collector of internal revenue and Postmaster McKee are not congenial and that Mr. Jackson would under no conditions lend his indorsement to the present postmaster at the end of his first term. Shortly before the Chicago convention the relations between the postmaster and the collector became more strained when it was openly stated that there might be a change in the office at the end of the fiscal year closing last June, but the suggested change was not made and the talk current at that time was that it did not come because of the warm, strong friendship of Postmaster General Hitchcock for Postmaster McKee.

Hitchcock for McKee.

"I happen to know," said a federal building man Friday, "that Mr. Hitchcock made it known in Washington that under no conditions would he tolerate any attempts to cut short Mr. McKee's tenure of office in the Atlanta postoffice. That he emphatically would oppose any change that might be suggested. The postmaster general knows that Postmaster McKee has given Atlanta an excellent service; that he has surrounded himself with the best possible help obtainable and that the people of the city he is serving are satisfied with his administration of the Atlanta postoffice."

It is no secret about the federal building that the bond of friendship between Postmaster General Hitchcock and Collector Jackson is by no means a strong one. On the contrary it is equally sure that there has been a rupture between the Georgia collector of internal revenue and the postmaster general. No one conversant with the local political situation doubts for a minute that the removal of Captain Donnell from charge of the local civil service bureau to Washington was due to the influences wielded at the national capital by Collector Jackson and Henry Lincoln Johnson, registrar of deeds in Washington.

FARMER OF PELHAM, GA., KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Pelham, Ga., August 16.—During a heavy rain and thunderstorm this afternoon, Calvin Rackley, a prosperous farmer, was instantly killed by lightning as was also the mule he was riding near here. He leaves his wife and several children.

The storm is not known to have caused other loss of life or damage.

SOUTHWEST GEORGIA ASKS AID IN WAR ON THE ARMY WORM

The army worm, commonly called the "cotton caterpillar," has invaded southwest Georgia. The pest has made its appearance in such droves that the farmers have appealed to State Entomologist E. L. Worsham to lead the fight against the invading foes. Reports that reached Atlanta from the infested district are to the effect that in the vicinity of Albany the damage by the pest has already reached several thousands.

The first step towards combating the insect pest is the change in the plans of distributing arsenate of lead at half the regular price to fight the pest. The poison is known to be the most effective method of killing the insects, and if it is used intelligently and before the insects attack the plant the farmers will save thousands of dollars.

Keep Poison in Atlantic Warehouse.

"The owners of warehouses and others interested in the fight against the worm invasion have given large quantities of the poison to patrons," declared a representative of the department, Friday morning. "But this plan has been abandoned and it has been decided to store the entire stock, as it is received from the chemists, in the old Atlantic warehouse. The building is admirably located and can be easily reached by farmers with their wagons and can be loaded at sidetracks for shipment to any point in southwest Georgia.

"An experienced and expert demonstrator, sent out by the manufacturing chemists, has charge of the distribution. Other experts will soon take the field to teach the farmers the best method of applying the poison to the plant to get the best results. The lead has a wonderful adhesive power and its poisonous effect remains as long as the leaves cling to the plant."

According to State Entomologist Worsham, who, in co-operation with Secretary Eugene B. Adams, of the Albany Chamber of Commerce, is directing the plans for the distribution of the poison, the cotton caterpillar has already appeared in well distributed points throughout southwest Georgia.

"The insect has arrived earlier than usual," he said, "and is in time to do the farmers great harm unless immediately controlled. The most effective way is to check the onward march of the worm."

Entirely Different Insects.

The army worm came to Georgia last year but too late to do the farmers any harm or to injure the cotton crop materially. The insect multiplies very rapidly and can cover hundreds of miles within a single year.

The farmers of Georgia made an investigation of the ravages of the boll weevil and the army worm in Mississippi, last year, and were prepared when the worm arrived. Experts claim that the Mexican boll weevil, a more dangerous pest than the army worm, is making its way into Georgia, and last year predicted that it would be here.

The weevil is the hardest to fight for the reason that millions make their way through the south in flight, while the army worm crawls. The weevil attacks the boll. One puncture is sufficient to ruin the boll.

HAD SUICIDE PACT WITH DAUGHTER WHOM HE KILLED WITH A RAZOR

Los Angeles, August 16.—Charles E. Greenfield, of Chicago, charged with having slain his 9-year-old stepdaughter, Vivian, last Tuesday in a boarding house at Venice, a seaside resort, was captured yesterday in Cueamonga Pass and taken to San Bernardino.

"We had a suicide agreement," said Greenfield. "I suggested it long ago on account of the treatment of us received from my wife. Just as I was about to draw a razor across Vivian's throat she put her arms around my neck and kissed me, and said: 'We will both soon be gone.'

"I drew the blade across her throat, and seeing the blood lost my nerve and could not kill myself. I walked to Los Angeles that night, and then started to San Bernardino, where my father lives."

COLORED FESTIVAL CLOSES MOST SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The third festival of the Atlanta Colored Music association came to an end last night with the grand concert in the Auditorium, which repeated the success of the preceding night, both from the standpoint of the box office and of merit.

"You understand me down here better than they do in New York," was the laughing appreciation of Harry T. Burleigh, baritone and talented composer, when enthusiastic applause greeted a splendid rendition of "A Negro Sermon," a characteristic exhortation set to music.

Stanton's Poem Scores.

He scored another hit with "Jean," his own composition and the words of Frank L. Stanton, the southland's poet. His voice is one of fine dramatic effect, and he was best in those songs which allowed the display of this element of his voice, "Beat, Beat, Drums," and "Captain, My Captain."

Anita Patti Brown was again a general favorite. Two operatic selections were a test for her colaratura soprano, which she met with ease; but in her encores she tastefully chose some of the older and simpler songs, and "Suwanee River," in dialect, captured her hearers. She was also heard in two duets with Lulu Vere Childers, of a local college, both of which were well done.

The Fisk Jubilee singers never fail to make a strong appeal to the audience, and are invariably excellent. Last night it seemed that they were even better than usual, giving a number of the old campmeeting hymns, and, by special request, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

Accompanying the various soloists was Roy W. Tibbs at the piano. He is a musician of taste and ability, and was heard in a concert at the First Congregational church Friday afternoon. The choral work repeated the success of the first night, and the directress, Lulu Vere Childers, was presented at the conclusion of the performance with a gold-mounted baton.

An Appreciated Incident.

An incident which caught the attention of the many white people present, and which was a bit of local color with a deeper interest than appeared on the surface, happened during the singing of "Suwanee River." An old negro, bent with years of toil, only a bit of gray hair in the "place where the wool ought to grow," leaning on a hickory cane cut direct from the forest, rose to hobble out.

He was met by one of the ushers, a well-dressed youth, who directed him to the nearest exit, and then took his arm to assist him. To the strains of a true southern song, the new south, as the white people chose to view it, gave attention to the old.

The music festival was given under the auspices of the institutional department of the Congregational church. Dr. Henry H. Proctor is pastor, and to him is due the great success of the undertaking.

By Isma Dooly.

In the presentation of the race pageant at the Auditorium Thursday night, under the auspices of H. H. Proctor and the congregation of the colored Congregational church, there was a most gratifying expression given of the progress of the better element of the negro race. Not only in the program was there manifested a taste for the higher order of music, in which the negro is so capable of comparing with the talented of any race, but there was the presentation of the highest form of drama in the pageant play, which was very carefully and masterfully thought out and presented.

The pageant play has the two-fold purpose of not only exploiting theme in literary form, but teaching impressively historic fact. The pageant at the Auditorium Thursday night called "The Passion Play of the Race," told the story of the negro race from their most primitive time to the present day, the story illustrated by the progress as seen in Atlanta, and very vividly was the theme portrayed.

It is remarkable that the first pageant play essayed in this section, one so rich in pageant theme with the racial background of our Indian owners, should be the production of the negro race, which cannot look back a century yet to their period of racial freedom of development.

The effort Thursday was admirably commendable, and through it and the interest inspired in it the optimistic see signs of a self-development in the right direction on the part of the leading element of colored citizenship. The thought of the production; the mode of procuction, the well-trained people who took part, and the great appreciation of the audience, marks a step forward on the part of Atlanta's colored population which in time may draw from the low dance hall and the dive theater the younger element of the race, to which the people of both races look for the right kind of progress.

The musical program introduced choruses of excellent training, and solo singers with God-given and cultivated talent, and the entire entertainment was in many respects one markedly inspiring.

Out of the entertainment will grow the beginning of the fund to carry to successful establishment and operation the home for homeless negro working girls; the latter good institution growing out of the cooking school started in the early spring by H. H. Proctor in the basement of the colored Congregational church.

Important Naval Stores Deal.

Valdosta, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) An important naval stores deal was consummated here yesterday, when H. M. Myrick, of this city, sold his turpentine business at DuPont, Ga., to B. F. Carter, of Jasper, Fla. The place is a valuable one, and was bought by Mr. Myrick from Cranford & Lastinger, of Valdosta, about a year ago. Mr. Carter paid $40,000 for the property, at which figure Mr. Myrick realized a handsome profit. The place is regarded as one of the best turpentine locations in this section, with timber enough to last about ten years. Mr. Myrick sold the place in order that he might devote his entire time to two other turpentine plants which he owns.

"MOOSE" KNOCKED BY LA FOLLETTE

Washington, August 16.—In a picturesque, spontaneous outburst during debate of the president's wool tariff veto in the senate, Senator La Follette today attacked the new progressive party, and swore new allegiance to progressive republicanism.

The "original insurgent," quivering with emotion, with clenched hands and strained face, poured out a flood of impassioned oratory that kept the floor and galleries of the senate enrapt and silent. Standing in the well of the chamber, Senator La Follette assured his associates that he intended to "keep up the fight in the republican party, to make that party really progressive" and to "keep on until the last bell rings and the curtain falls."

After reviewing briefly the trust record of Colonel Roosevelt, Senator La Follette declared that the former president was "not the man to find the way out now."

Taft or Roosevelt?

He declared that the republican party, through its progressive associates, had reached a point where it would respond to the purposes for which it was born, despite "an attempt made at Chicago to divert it."

Senator Stone asked Mr. La Follette whether he meant the nomination of President Taft or the nomination of ex-President Roosevelt.

"I am awfully surprised," began Senator La Follette, "that I left the senator from Missouri in doubt. I hope I did not leave doubt in the minds of anyone else."

"On the day that Theodore Roosevelt was made president of the United States there were 149 trusts and combinations in the United States. When he turned this government over to William Howard Taft there were 10,020 plants in combination.

"When he became president these trusts had an aggregate capitalization of three billion dollars, and when he left the presidency they had an aggregate capitalization of thirty-one billion, and more than 70 per cent of it was water.

"Their power has gone on growing and spreading. There has been no diminuation in the present administration. This administration has sought to apply the Sherman anti-trust law more vigorously than its predecessor, but the time to have applied the Sherman law effectively was in the infancy of these trusts, when there were only 149.

Roosevelt's Trust Record.

"I don't believe that the man who was president for seven years while the greatest trust growth occurred, at the very time of all times in the history of the Sherman anti-trust law it could have been made potential in deterring trust organization—I do not think that the man who was president then is the man to find the way out now."

Then, turning to Senator Stone, Senator La Follette bowed and inquired:

"Does that answer the senator from Missouri?"

"That does fairly well," responded Senator Stone, dryly, amid the laughter of the senate.

Senator Pomerene inquired if Senator La Follette would tell how many of the 10,020 trusts were "good" ones and how many of them "bad."

"I have no way to differentiate," returned Senator La Follette, "because none of the trusts are my friends. I have no George W. Perkins and no Munsey supporting me. It is I alone, practically a single-handed fight I have been waging for twenty-five years, and Mr. President, I am going to keep on until the bell rings and the curtain falls."

Senator La Follette's outburst came without warning. He arose to make an analysis of the president's veto message on the wool bill, but had spoken scarcely a dozen words when the break came. He saw many republican senators had left their seats as he began to speak, and with a bitter smile, he turned to the president of the senate:

Constrained to Speculate.

"I note the fact," he said, "that on the republican side there are just fourteen senators present. I am constrained to speculate a bit about this. I am impelled to question whether that condition may not be a sort of prophecy of what is to come."

Senator La Follette then remarked that he remembered the first time he addressed the senate, and practically every seat on the republican side was vacated as a rebuke to him "for presuming to know anything about legislation."

"I prophesied then that when the people came to understand the sort of service they were getting those seats would be permanently vacated. Since then there have been some thirty of those seats vacated. I don't believe that the public of this country is going to find any measure of relief from that condition by wandering off into unexplored fields, under the guidance of a pilot who exercised a very supreme countrol while we were getting into exactly the same condition the country is in now.

Redemption From Within.

"I believe the redemption of representative government in this country will be accomplished by the republican party."

As Senator La Follette continued he grew more interested. Several times he realized that he had forgotten the original purpose of his speech and interrupted himself. "Go on; go on," urged Senator William Alden Smith, who sat near him.

"I didn't intend to make this sort of a speech. I vow I didn't," said Senator La Follette, "but I would like to go on. I'm just seething with it. I intend to go on in two or three weeks, night and day. I am going to keep the fight in the republican party. I think that is the best instrument through which to progress. Now, when it is the purpose to make the republican party respond to the purposes for which it was born, an attempt is made at Chicago to divert it. It won't succeed. It will only disturb the surface of things a little."

REBELS RAID CONSUL'S RANCH

San Luis Potosi, Mexico, August 16.—Rebels raided yesterday a hacienda belonging to Frank A. Dickinson, American consul here. His property is near Absalo, Guanajato. According to the reports brought to Mr. Dickinson, the raiders outfitted themselves with horses and saddles from his ranch, took what money they could find and destroyed the books. A number of employees on the property were beaten and the manager fled to Irapuato, from whence he reported to Mr. Dickinson.

HOMER GEORGE HOME; GOES AWAY TUESDAY

Homer C. George, manager of the Atlanta theater, blew into the city last night from Winnipeg, Canada, and will blow out again next Tuesday for that place. Then he will return home again in time for the opening of the theater September 10.

Mr. George has been through the great northwest during his vacation, managing a trio of racing stars, Oldfield, Fritch and Heinemann, in a very successful season. He left them in Calgary, and will meet them in Winnipeg next week to wind up the season.

In addition to evidences of a successful season, he has brought back with him a collection of good stories, chief among which are those telling of the grandeur of the west. Visiting Portland, Vancouver, Butte, Calgary, Regina, through the heart of the American and Canadian Rockies, and the Canadian grain fields, he has seen some of the best parts of the American continent, and has been much impressed with the grandeur of it all. However, Atlanta is still Atlanta, to Mr. George!

Head of the Georgia G. O. P. Goes East to Fight Grier and to Talk Over Atlanta's Postmaster, It Is Understood.

Absence from Atlanta this week of Henry S. Jackson, collector of internal revenue for Georgia, is causing political talk about the federal building.

Mr. Jackson has been away since Monday and is at present in New York city consulting with C. D. Hilles, chairman of the Taft republican national executive committee, and manager of the Taft campaign. On his way to New York Mr. Jackson dropped off in Washington for a conference with President Taft.

The attitude of Chairman Hilles toward Clark Grier, of Dublin, indicated in a letter the Dublin ex-postmaster received from Mr. Hilles, is said to be the direct cause for Collector Jackson's visit to the president and his subsequent conference with the manager of the president's campaign. Other local matters, too, it is said, were to have been brought to the attention of the president and his manager by Collector Jackson.

One of these, it is said, has to do with the Atlanta postmaster's place, Collector Jackson being opposed to the reappointment of Postmaster Hugh McKee.

Jackson Fighting Grier.

Since the Chicago convention, when Grier showed a strong Roosevelt tendency by actually disregarding his instructions for Taft and lending his aid to the Roosevelt wing, he has been seeking the position of postmaster at Dublin. Collector Jackson has fought the appointment of Grier, but with the indorsement of Walter Johnson, United States marshal for the northern district of Georgia, the Dublin man has been pushing his campaign. Recently Grier received a letter from Hilles in which the campaign manager expressed regret at Collector Jackson's attitude, and expressed an interest in Grier's success in the race. It was for the purpose of determining whether his influence as the recognized head of the republican party in the state was to be set aside by the Hilles-Grier combination that the collector has made his trip to New York and Washington, so it is stated about the federal building. It is also said that Collector Jackson has other reasons for his trip north—one of them having to do with the Atlanta postmaster.

It has long been known that the collector of internal revenue and Postmaster McKee are not congenial and that Mr. Jackson would under no conditions lend his indorsement to the present postmaster at the end of his first term. Shortly before the Chicago convention the relations between the postmaster and the collector became more strained when it was openly stated that there might be a change in the office at the end of the fiscal year closing last June, but the suggested change was not made and the talk current at that time was that it did not come because of the warm, strong friendship of Postmaster General Hitchcock for Postmaster McKee.

Hitchcock for McKee.

"I happen to know;" said a federal building man Friday, "that Mr. Hitchcock made it known in Washington that under no conditions would he tolerate any attempts to cut short Mr. McKee's tenure of office in the Atlanta postoffice. That he emphatically would oppose any change that might be suggested. The postmaster general knows that Postmaster McKee has given Atlanta an excellent service; that he has surrounded himself with the best possible help obtainable and that the people of the city he is serving are satisfied with his administration of the Atlanta postoffice."

It is no secret about the federal building that the bond of friendship between Postmaster General Hitchcock and Collector Jackson is by no means a strong one. On the contrary it is equally sure that there has been a rupture between the Georgia collector of internal revenue and the postmaster general. No one conversant with the local political situation doubts for a minute that the removal of Captain Donnell from charge of the local civil service bureau to Washington was due to the influences wielded at the national capital by Collector Jackson and Henry Lincoln Johnson, registrar of deeds in Washington

Pelham, Ga., August 16.—During a heavy rain and thunderstorm this afternoon, Calvin Rackley, a prosperous farmer, was instantly killed by lightning as was also the mule he was riding near here. He leaves his wife and several children.

SOUTHWEST GEORGIA ASKS AID IN WAR ON THE ARMY WORM

The army worm, commonly called the "cotton caterpillar," has invaded southwest Georgia. The pest has made its appearance in such droves that the farmers have appealed to State Entomologist E. L. Worsham to lead the fight against the invading foes. Reports that reached Atlanta from the infested district are to the effect that in the vicinity of Albany the damage by the pest has already reached several thousands.

The first step towards combating the insect pest is the change in the plans of distributing arsenate of lead at half the regular price to fight the pest. The poison is known to be the most effective method of killing the insects, and if it is used intelligently and before the insects attack the plant the farmers will save thousands of dollars.

Keep Poison In Atlantic Warehouse.

"The owners of warehouses and others interested in the fight against the worm invasion have given large quantities of the poison to patrons," declared a representative of the department, Friday morning. "But this plan has been abandoned and it has been decided to store the entire stock, as it is received from the chemists, in the old Atlantic warehouse. The building is admirably located and can be easily reached by farmers with their wagons and can be loaded at sidetracks for shipment to any point in southwest Georgia.

"An experienced and expert demonstrator, sent out by the manufacturing chemists, has charge of the distribution. Other experts will soon take the field to teach the farmers the best method of applying the poison to the plant to get the best results. The lead has a wonderful adhesive power and its poisonous effect remains as long as the leaves cling to the plant."

According to State Entomologist Worsham, who, in co-operation with Secretary Eugene B. Adams, of the Albany Chamber of Commerce, is directing the plans for the distribution of the poison, the cotton caterpillar has already appeared in well distributed points throughout southwest Georgia.

"The insect has arrived earlier than usual," he said, "and is in time to do the farmers great harm unless immediately controlled. The most effective way is to check the onward march of the worm."

Entirely Different Insects.

The army worm came to Georgia last year but too late to do the farmers any harm or to injure the cotton crop materially. The insect multiplies very rapidly and can cover hundreds of miles within a single year.

The farmers of Georgia made an investigation of the ravages of the boll weevil and the army worm in Mississippi, last year, and were prepared when the worm arrived. Experts claim that the Mexican boll weevil, a more dangerous pest than the army worm, is making its way into Georgia, and last year predicted that it would be here.

The weevil is the hardest to fight for the reason that millions make their way through the south in flight, while the army worm crawls. The weevil attacks the boll. One puncture is sufficient to ruin the boll.

HAD SUICIDE PACT WITH DAUGHTER WHOM HE KILLED WITH A RAZOR

Los Angeles, August 16.—Charles E. Greenfield, of Chicago, charged with having slain his 9-year-old stepdaughter, Vivian, last Tuesday in a boarding house at Venice, a seaside resort, was captured yesterday in Cucamonga Pass and taken to San Bernardino.

"We had a suicide agreement," said Greenfield. "I suggested it long ago on account of the treatment of us received from my wife. Just as I was about to draw a razor across Vivian's throat she put her arms around my neck and kissed me, and said: 'We will both soon be gone.'

"I drew the blade across her throat, and seeing the blood lost my nerve and could not kill myself. I walked to Los Angeles that night, and then started to San Bernardino, where my father lives."

COLORED FESTIVAL CLOSES MOST SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The third festival of the Atlanta Colored Music association came to an end last night with the grand concert in the Auditorium, which repeated the success of the preceding night, both from the standpoint of the box office and of merit.

"You understand me down here better than they do in New York," was the laughing appreciation of Harry T. Burleigh, baritone and talented composer, when enthusiastic applause greeted a splendid rendition of "A Negro Sermon," a characteristic exhortation set to music.

Stanton's Poem Scores.

He scored another hit with "Jean," his own composition and the words of Frank L. Stanton, the southland's poet. His voice is one of fine dramatic effect, and he was best in those songs which allowed the display of this element of his voice, "Beat, Beat, Drums," and "Captain, My Captain."

Anita Patti Brown was again a general favorite. Two operatic selections were a test for her colaratura soprano, which she met with ease; but in her encores she tastefully chose some of the older and simpler songs, and "Suwanee River," in dialect, captured her hearers. She was also heard in two duets with Lulu Vere Childers, of a local college, both of which were well done.

The Fisk Jubilee singers never fail to make a strong appeal to the audience, and are invariably excellent. Last night it seemed that they were even better than usual, giving a number of the old campmeeting hymns, and, by special request, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

Accompanying the various soloists was Roy W. Tibbs at the piano. He is a musician of taste and ability, and was heard in a concert at the First Congregational church Friday afternoon. The choral work repeated the success of the first night, and the directress, Lulu Vere Childers, was presented at the conclusion of the performance with a gold-mounted baton.

An Appreciated Incident.

An incident which caught the attention of the many white people present, and which was a bit of local color with a deeper interest than appeared on the surface, happened during the singing of "Suwanee River." An old negro, bent with years of toil, only a bit of gray hair in the "place where the wool ought to grow," leaning on a hickory cane cut direct from the forest, rose to hobble out.

He was met by one of the ushers, a well-dressed youth, who directed him to the nearest exit, and then took his arm to assist him. To the strains of a true southern song, the new south, as the white people chose to view it, gave attention to the old.

The music festival was given under the auspices of the institutional department of the Congregational church. Dr. Henry H. Proctor is pastor, and to him is due the great success of the undertaking.

By Isma Dooly.

In the presentation of the race pageant at the Auditorium Thursday night, under the auspices of H. H. Proctor and the congregation of the colored Congregational church, there was a most gratifying expression given of the progress of the better element of the negro race. Not only in the program was there manifested a taste for the higher order of music, in which the negro is so capable of comparing with the talented of any race, but there was the presentation of the highest form of drama in the pageant play, which was very carefully and masterfully thought out and presented.

The pageant play has the two-fold purpose of not only exploiting theme in literary form, but teaching impressively historic fact. The pageant at the Auditorium Thursday night called "The Passion Play of the Race," told the story of the negro race from their most primitive time to the present day, the story illustrated by the progress as seen in Atlanta, and very vividly was the theme portrayed.

It is remarkable that the first pageant play essayed in this section, one so rich in pageant theme with the racial background of our Indian owners, should be the production of the negro race, which cannot look back a century yet to their period of racial freedom of development.

The effort Thursday was admirably commendable, and through it and the interest inspired in it the optimistic see signs of a self-development in the right direction on the part of the leading element of colored citizenship. The thought of the production; the mode of procuction, the well-trained people who took part, and the great appreciation of the audience, marks a step forward on the part of Atlanta's colored population which in time may draw from the low dance hall and the dive theater the younger element of the race, to which the people of both races look for the right kind of progress.

The musical program introduced choruses of excellent training, and solo singers with God-given and cultivated talent, and the entire entertainment was in many respects one markedly inspiring.

Out of the entertainment will grow the beginning of the fund to carry to successful establishment and operation the home for homeless negro working girls; the latter good institution growing out of the cooking school started in the early spring by H. H. Proctor in the basement of the colored Congregational church.

Important Naval Stores Deal.

Valdosta, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) An important naval stores deal was consummated here yesterday, when H. M. Myrick, of this city, sold his turpentine business at DuPont, Ga., to B. F. Carter, of Jasper, Fla. The place is a valuable one, and was bought by Mr. Myrick from Cranford & Lastinger, of Valdosta, about a year ago. Mr. Carter paid $40,000 for the property, at which figure Mr. Myrick realized a handsome profit. The place is regarded as one of the best turpentine locations in this section, with timber enough to last about ten years. Mr. Myrick sold the place in order that he might devote his entire time to two other turpentine plants which he owns.

"MOOSE" KNOCKED BY LA FOLLETTE

Washington, August 16.—In a picturesque, spontaneous outburst during debate of the president's wool tariff veto in the senate, Senator La Follette today attacked the new progressive party, and swore new allegiance to progressive republicanism.

The "original insurgent," quivering with emotion, with clenched hands and strained face, poured out a flood of impassioned oratory that kept the floor and galleries of the senate enrapt and silent. Standing in the well of the chamber, Senator La Follette assured his associates that he intended to "keep up the fight in the republican party, to make that party really progressive" and to "keep on until the last bell rings and the curtain falls."

After reviewing briefly the trust record of Colonel Roosevelt, Senator La Follette declared that the former president was "not the man to find the way out now."

Taft or Roosevelt?

He declared that the republican party, through its progressive associates, had reached a point where it would respond to the purposes for which it was born, despite "an attempt made at Chicago to divert it."

Senator Stone asked Mr. La Follette whether he meant the nomination of President Taft or the nomination of ex-President Roosevelt.

"I am awfully surprised," began Senator La Follette, "that I left the senator from Missouri in doubt. I hope I did not leave doubt in the minds of anyone else."

"On the day that Theodore Roosevelt was made president of the United States there were 149 trusts and combinations in the United States. When he turned this government over to William Howard Taft there were 10,020 plants in combination.

"When he became president these trusts had an aggregate capitalization of three billion dollars, and when he left the presidency they had an aggregate capitalization of thirty-one billion, and more than 70 per cent of it was water.

"Their power has gone on growing and spreading. There has been no diminuation in the present administration. This administration has sought to apply the Sherman anti-trust law more vigorously than its predecessor, but the time to have applied the Sherman law effectively was in the infancy of these trusts, when there were only 149.

Roosevelt's Trust Record.

"I don't believe that the man who was president for seven years while the greatest trust growth occurred, at the very time of all times in the history of the Sherman anti-trust law it could have been made potential in deterring trust organization—I do not think that the man who was president then is the man to find the way out now."

Then, turning to Senator Stone, Senator La Follette bowed and inquired:

"Does that answer the senator from Missouri?"

"That does fairly well," responded Senator Stone, dryly, amid the laughter of the senate.

Senator Pomerene inquired if Senator La Follette would tell how many of the 10,020 trusts were "good" ones and how many of them "bad."

"I have no way to differentiate," returned Senator La Follette, "because none of the trusts are my friends. I have no George W. Perkins and no Munsey supporting me. It is I alone, practically a single-handed fight I have been waging for twenty-five years, and Mr. President, I am going to keep on until the bell rings and the curtain falls."

Senator La Follette's outburst came without warning. He arose to make an analysis of the president's veto message on the wool bill, but had spoken scarcely a dozen words when the break came. He saw many republican senators had left their seats as he began to speak, and with a bitter smile, he turned to the president of the senate:

Constrained to Speculate.

"I note the fact," he said, "that on the republican side there are just fourteen senators present. I am constrained to speculate a bit about this. I am impelled to question whether that condition may not be a sort of prophecy of what is to come."

Senator La Follette then remarked that he remembered the first time he addressed the senate, and practically every seat on the republican side was vacated as a rebuke to him "for presuming to know anything about legislation."

"I prophesied then that when the people came to understand the sort of service they were getting those seats would be permanently vacated. Since then there have been some thirty of those seats vacated. I don't believe that the public of this country is going to find any measure of relief from that condition by wandering off into unexplored fields, under the guidance of a pilot who exercised a very supreme countrol while we were getting into exactly the same condition the country is in now.

Redemption From Within.

"I believe the redemption of representative government in this country will be accomplished by the republican party."

As Senator La Follette continued he grew more interested. Several times he realized that he had forgotten the original purpose of his speech and interrupted himself. "Go on; go on," urged Senator William Alden Smith, who sat near him.

"I didn't intend to make this sort of a speech. I vow I didn't," said Senator La Follette, "but I would like to go on. I'm just seething with it. I intend to go on in two or three weeks, night and day. I am going to keep the fight in the republican party. I think that is the best instrument through which to progress. Now, when it is the purpose to make the republican party respond to the purposes for which it was born, an attempt is made at Chicago to divert it. It won't succeed. It will only disturb the surface of things a little."

REBELS RAID CONSUL'S RANCH

San Luis Potosi, Mexico, August 16.—Rebels raided yesterday a hacienda belonging to Frank A. Dickinson, American consul here. His property is near Absalo, Guanajato. According to the reports brought to Mr. Dickinson, the raiders outfitted themselves with horses and saddles from his ranch, took what money they could find and destroyed the books. A number of employees on the property were beaten and the manager fled to Irapuato, from whence he reported to Mr. Dickinson.

HOMER GEORGE HOME; GOES AWAY TUESDAY

Homer C. George, manager of the Atlanta theater, blew into the city last night from Winnipeg, Canada, and will blow out again next Tuesday for that place. Then he will return home again in time for the opening of the theater September 10.

Mr. George has been through the great northwest during his vacation, managing a trio of racing stars, Oldfield, Fritch and Heinemann, in a very successful season. He left them in Calgary, and will meet them in Winnipeg next week to wind up the season.

In addition to evidences of a successful season, he has brought back with him a collection of good stories, chief among which are those telling of the grandeur of the west. Visiting Portland, Vancouver, Butte, Calgary, Regina, through the heart of the American and Canadian Rockies, and the Canadian grain fields, he has seen some of the best parts of the American continent, and has been much impressed with the grandeur of it all. However, Atlanta is still Atlanta, to Mr. George!

THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth)

Matinee and night performances at the Forsyth on Saturday close the engagements of some of the cleverest vaudeville stars that have been offered during the season. It will be a long time before the theatergoers will forget pretty Gertrude Vanderbilt, and the others who have made a new summer time attenance record for the theater. Commencing Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the first daily matinee and continuing again at 7:45 and 9:15 at night with the first night performances, popular vaudeville will be introduced in Atlanta and most naturally at the busy Forsyth.

The opening bill is made up of some of the best acts in vaudeville and some people who are at least known here. A star of the bill will be the famous little man comedian, Jimmy Rosen, who succeeded Master Gabriel in "Buster Brown" at the Grand a season or so ago, and who was given much personal praise by the critics on the local newspapers. Other acts that are going to attract attention will be Kennedy and Mack, The DeMichalle Brothers, Armstrong and Lawrence and Al Rayno's Bull Dogs.

NEW DIPLOMATS NAMED BY TAFT

President Sends a Number of Diplomatic and Consular Nominations to Senate.

Washington, August 16.—President Taft sent a number of diplomatic and consular nominations to the senate today. A majority are promotions, but there are many new appointments, all based on examination.

The new appointees are Craig Wadsworth, of New York, a former rough rider and second secretary of embassy at London, which office he resigned in 1909. He is named as secretary of legation at Teheran, Persia. Ralph B. Strassburger, of New York, a naval academy graduate, is named as secretary of legation at Bucharest. Harry E. Nolan, of Washington state, a Yale graduate and a rancher, becomes secretary of legation at Panama. Fairman R. Furness, of Pennsylvania, a Harvard man, goes to St. Petersburg as third secretary of embassy.

Hallett Johnson, of New Jersey, a young New York lawyer and Columbia graduate, is made third secretary of embassy at London, in place of Sheldon L. Crosby, also of New York, who becomes first secretary at Bangkok, Siam.

Henry F. Tennant, of New York, a young lawyer with former diplomatic experience in the Lisbon legation, enters the service as third secretary of embassy in the City of Mexico.

Transfers among the secretaries in diplomatic service are as follows:

Frederick A. Sterling, of Texas, is promoted from third secretary to be second secretary at St. Petersburg, and Frank B. Arnold, third secretary in Mexico City, becomes third secretary at Tokio.

Among promotions in the consular service are these:

James E. Dunning, of Portland, Maine, former consul at Havre and lately on special service, to be consul general-at-large. Heaton W. Harris, of Alliance, Ohio, from consul general-at-large in Europe to be consul general at Frankfort-on-the-Main. Edwin S. Cunningham, of Maryville, Tenn., from Bombay, to be consul general at Singapore. Edward A. Norton, of Memphis, from Malaga to Bombay.

Claude I. Dawson, of Anderson, S. C., from Puerto Cortez to Valencia, Spain.

MRS. CAVE'S FUNERAL HELD IN NASHVILLE

Nashville, Tenn., August 16.—The funeral of Mrs. Alva Cave, widow of Steve Cave, a son of Dr. R. Lin Cave, chaplain of the United Confederate Veterans, who was shot and almost instantly killed Wednesday night by Mrs. Leola Hooper Jones, occurred this morning at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sophia Leinhos.

Since the tragedy the mother has been prostrated, and has made no statement. The accepted idea that jealousy played a part in the shooting has led to an examination of the divorce bill filed by Mrs. Jones against her husband, J. D. Jones, the bills made no charge of infidelity, the allegations being drunkenness, failure to provide and that he had caused his wife great suffering by falsely charging her with infidelity.

This bill was filed October 7, 1911, but withdrawn and the suit dismissed before the end of the month.

Judge A. B. Neill, of the Davidson county criminal court, today fixed the bond of Mrs. Jones at $10,000. Early this afternoon she had been able to make but $2,000 of the amount, but her attorneys expected the remaining securities necessary to be secured.

To a reporter Mrs. Jones said today that Mrs. Cave had nothing to do with the divorce bill which she filed last October. While she did not say so, she indicated that the latter was connected with the separation subsequent to the withdrawal of the divorce bill. The husband, J. G. Jones, declined today to make a statement about the matter.

BARRY WILL COMMAND EASTERN DIVISION

Washington, August 16.—Major General Thomas H. Barry, United States superintendent of the military academy at West Point, has been assigned to command the eastern division with headquarters in New York, succeeding the late Major General Frederick D. Grant.

Colonel C. P. Townsley, coast artillery, in command of the Portland, Maine, artillery district, will succeed General Barry as superintendent of the military academy August 31.

Brigadier General Tasker H. Bliss, acting since General Grant's death as commander-in-chief of the eastern division, returns to his duties as commander of the department of the east.

INFORMAL REPORT MADE ON "EMERGENCY FUND"

Washington, August 16.—Charges of loose and dangerous practices in the state department's expenditure of its secret emergency fund were renewed in an informal report today by Representative Hamlin, of Missouri, chairman of the house committee which investigated what is termed the "astounding condition of affairs in the department."

Mr. Hamlin reiterated that Secretary Knox had used a negro messenger from his department as a valet on his recent Central American trip; that a picture of Former Secretary Day, now a justice of the supreme court, had been paid for by a misappropriation for which the committee had recommended the dismissal of William H. Michael, then chief of the department, but now consul at Calcutta.

"The president seems to have taken no action," was the comment as to Mr. Michael's case.

360 U. S. MARINES SENT TO MANAGUA

Foreigners Warned They Must Be Prepared to Protect Themselves.

Washington, August 16.—The 360 marines landed by the collier Justin at Corinto have been sent to Managua to reinforce the bluejackets from the gunboat Annapolis. Americans and other foreigners at Matagalpa have been informed by government authorities that they must be prepared to protect themselves.

Managua, August 16.—Captain Warren J. Terhune, commander of the United States gunboat Annapolis, with the force of marines which arrived at Corinto yesterday from Panama on the United States cruiser Justin, arrived safely in the capital this morning.

The combined forces of American bluejackets and marines now numbers nearly 470 officers and men, and their presence has greatly relieved a threatening situation.

ROMERO'S NOMINATION RECALLED BY SENATE

Washington, August 16.—The nomination of Secundino Romero as United States marshal for New Mexico, confirmed by the senate late yesterday, was recalled in an executive session tonight.

Senator Bacon, who made the motion to recall the confirmation, said charges had been made before the judiciary committee that Romero, while sheriff, had assaulted former Judge E. V. Long, of New Mexico. The appointment will be taken up again early next week.

Representative Fergusson, before the senate judiciary committee, asserted Romero was being rewarded for working in behalf of Taft delegates to the Chicago convention, a charge denied by Senators Fall and Catron, of that state.

FRENCH TROOPS ROUT MOORISH PRETENDER

Fez, Morocco, August 16.—A severe fight occurred today at Mouley Bouchta, between French troops under General Gouraud and Moorish followers of the pretender of Sichtala, in which the French lost eight killed and forty wounded.

Three thousand Moors were engaged and their ranks were decimated by several bayonet charges by the French troops which after a four hours' battle routed the Moors with great loss. The pretender escaped.

General Liaytey, the French resident governor, has decided temporarily to abandon the city of Marakesh, one of the three capitals of Morocco, until sufficient troops arrive to hold it adequately. All the European residents of Marakesh have left for the coast.

SIX HUNDRED SLEEPERS ARE ROUTED BY FLAMES

New York, August 16.—A $100,000 fire, which started shortly before 2 o'clock this morning in a seven-story loft building on the Bowery, near the corner of Grand street, provided a spectacle for the whole down town east side. A hundred policemen had their hands full keeping back the crowds of tenement dwellers who surged, half clad and panicky, from the narrow side streets and watched the flames lick up the stocks of several manufacturers of cheap furniture.

Six hundred men who were guests at a lodging house just adjoining were driven hastily from their beds and fled to the streets with their clothing under their arms. Two firemen were injured by flying glass.

CATHOLIC JOURNALISTS MEETING IN LOUISVILLE

Louisville, August 16.—Members of the Catholic Press association are in session here today preliminary to the meeting of the American Federation of Catholic Societies, which opens here Sunday.

The convention committee of the federation has received acceptances from 500 delegates and this number will be swelled by many hundreds of visitors. Plans of the meeting as perfected by the local branch of the organization today include a pontifical mass Sunday morning at the Cathedral of the Assumption, at which the Most Rev. John Ronzan, papal delegate, will be celebrant, and a parade in which 15,000 persons will participate.

77TH BIRTHDAY COMES TO SECRETARY WILSON

Washington, August 16.—"Tama Jim" Wilson, secretary of agriculture and the oldest man in President Taft's cabinet, today enjoyed his 77th birthday. Secretary Wilson said he was looking forward to quitting public life on March 5 next so that he might go home among his grandchildren, don his overalls and move around among the common people.

Mr. Wilson has exceeded by four years the record for long service in the cabinet, and under his regime the scope of the department of agriculture has been widely extended.

SAYS SUSPECTED SON WILL SUE FOR DAMAGES

High Point, N. C., August 16.—The latest development in the infernal machine case is the announcement, made today by the father of the suspect, Ed R. McIntyre, that his son will return within the next few days and immediately institute damage suits for defamation of character. The police have been unable to locate McIntyre.

It is now said that McIntyre had a confederate to assist him in the construction of the machine. A piece of bandsaw which tallies with the one found in the machine has been found in the rear of McIntyre's meat shop.

A photograph of the suspect has been found and duplicates will be sent broadcast to police authorities. Interest in the case continues.

NAT GOODWIN'S CONDITION BAD

Paralysis of Lower Limbs Results From Actor's Accident in the Surf.

Los Angeles, Cal., August 16.—The condition of Nat C. Goodwin, who was hurt yesterday at Rocky Point, was reported as serious today. The actor was thrown on the rocks when his boat was caught in the Pacific breakers.

Attending physicians would not say whether they feared fatal results from the actor's injuries. Paralysis of the lower limbs has resulted, possibly indicating spinal affection.

Frequent hypodermics were required to bring Goodwin temporary relief.

The woman who was in the boat with the actor was Miss Marjorie Moreland, leading lady in Goodwin's last company.

L. & N. RAILROAD WILL INCREASE ITS STOCK

Louisville, August 16.—According to the unverified announcement of a local newspaper today, the management of the Louisville and Nashville railroad has made definite plans for the increase of the company's outstanding capital stock from $60,000,000 to $100,000,000. The newspaper says:

"It is understood that $20,000,000 of the additional stock will be offered to the stockholders at par, immediately."

While officials at the railroad's Louisville headquarters declined to discuss the report of the proposed increase, yet the newspaper announcement says:

"The call issued for a special meeting of the directors August 29 gives rise to the belief that action on the capital increase will be taken at that time."

The newspaper continues:

"It is expected that Chairman Henry Walters, of the board of directors, will be in New York just prior to the date mentioned, and that other members of the board who are away from the metropolis will have returned by that time."

President Milton Smith, of the Louisville and Nashville today declined to discuss the reported increase proposal. It seemed generally understood in local financial and railroad circles that the yield from a possible stock increase would be employed as additional collateral and for physical improvements.

ARMY APPOINTMENTS CONFIRMED BY SENATE

Washington, August 16.—The senate in executive session tonight confirmed the appointments of Brigadier General Clarence R. Edwards as an officer of the line; Colonel Frank McIntyre as chief of the bureau of insular affairs with rank of brigadier general; Colonel E. Z. Steever, Fourth cavalry, as brigadier general; Colonel George Andrews as adjutant general of the army, with rank as brigadier general, and a number of military appointments.

No action was taken, however, on the appointment of Grigadier General W. W. Wotherspoon as a major general to succeed the late Major General Frederick D. Grant. Failure to act on this appointment prevented action on that of Colonel John McClernand to succeed General Wotherspoon as a brigadier general.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS ARE ON THE INCREASE

Washington, August 16.—Railroad accidents and the casualties resulting were on the increase during the three months which ended March 31. The quatrerly accident bulletin issued by the interstate commerce commission today shows 2,383 persons were killed and 20,499 were injured.

In train accidents, 267 persons were killed and 4,785 were injured, an increase of 121 killed and 1,555 injured, as compared with the corresponding quarter of 1911.

Of the 2,383 fatalities 1,116 were suffered by trespassers, persons using railroad tracks as thoroughfares or those stealing rides on trains.

INHERITS A FORTUNE BUT STICKS TO JOB

Bay Shore, N. Y., August 16.—Frank Knight, a chauffeur employed by J. H. Beales, a wealthy summer resident, was notified last night that through the death of an uncle he had been left an inheritance of $100,000.

"I suppose you will be leaving me now Frank," said Mr. Beales, after congratulating his driver.

"Not unless you don't want me any more," said Knight. "I like this job and I'm going to stick to it."

Knight says he will put the money in a savings bank until he can think of some way to spend it.

TALLULAH FALLS GOES TO COURT

Governor Will Sign Resolution Passed by the Assembly This Morning.

The resolution adopted by both houses of the general assembly urging Governor Joseph M. Brown to instruct Attorney General Felder to bring suit for the recovery of the property known at Tallulah Falls will be signed Saturday morning.

The resolution offered by Senator Shaw and adopted by the upper house was changed when it reached the house of representatives in a manner that makes it a law and not a request. The suit will therefore be the result of legislative action.

Attorney General Felder has made no statement of the matter since he gave his opinion that the proper method of procedure would be by injunction to prevent the Georgia Railway and Power company from further work on the falls.

It is believed, however, that Attorney General Felder will institute the suit immediately.

SUFFRAGETTE WILL PAY PENNY FOR EACH VOTER

Chicago, August 16.—Signatures of registered voters attached to equal suffrage petitions are worth 1 cent each in Illinois, and this price will obtain until 20,000 more names are procured.

This advertisement, which Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, an Evanston suffragist, is sending out, explains the market value of the signatures:

"Help Wanted—I will pay for services in obtaining genuine signatures of registered Illinois voters on our woman suffrage public policy petition, at the rate of $1 a hundred signatures, until 20,000 additional signatures are obtained, prior to September 1, 1912."

One hundred thousand signatures are required before the question may be submitted to a vote at the general election next November.

SHOCK OF 2,300 VOLTS FAILS TO KILL NEGRO

Kentwood, La., August 16.—Though 2,300 volts of electricity are supposed to have passed through the body of Dewitt Smith, a negro, when he came into contact yesterday with an electric light wire while at work for a telephone company stringing wires, he still was able after having been helped to the ground to walk to a doctor's office. Smith had hung for five minutes entangled among these wires and apparently lifeless before the current was turned off, and his rescuers expected to find him dead. He was badly burned and last night he was removed to a hospital in New Orleans.

TWO DIVERS CRUSHED AT BOTTOM OF LAKE

Port Burwell, Ontario, August 16.—Two divers, seeking to salvage a scow sunk in forty feet of water in Lake Erie, near here, were pinned beneath the wreck at the bottom of the lake last night when, while they were examining the vessel, it suddenly turned over on its side. One of the divers, whose name is unknown, was rescued, but the party was unable to rescue Edward West, of Port Huron, Mich., and his body is still under the scow. The other man was badly crushed, but hope is held out for his recovery.

HONEST! THE CRACKERS WON!

Gilly, the Gopher (It Didn't Hurt the Tweezers Either) By L. Gregg

Whiffs

Are Closing In.

THE CUBS ae closing in on the Giants, and it apears now as if nothing but the big lead that the Giants piled up at the start of the season will save them. And the Cubs deserve a world of credit, too, for their showing. They have fought their way to the top of the ladder with but a couple of dependable pitchers and those youngsters.

Would Be Help.

MINER BROWN, the three-fingered marvel of the Cubs, is just about ready to take his regular turn on the mound again, according to reports from Chicago, and if this really be the case, and he shows his old cunning, the Cubs will be considerably stronger.

A Boomerang.

C. W. MURPHY, the Cubs' boss, may be sorry that he made the statement that the Giants would not win the pennant unless they received "undue assistance from other clubs." This referred particularly to the St. Louis Cardinals. And now he has Bresnahan's men up in arms, and justly so. The Cardinals not only beat the Giants two out of three games, but their ire is aroused and they are going after the Cubs tooth and nail, determined to make Murphy regret that he ev- made such insinuating statements. The entire team has made statements in a St. Louis paper about Murphy, and the majority of them say that the prints would not carry their real feelings expressed publicly.

Is Optimistic.

BARNEY DREYFUSS, president of the Pittsburg Pirates, is very optimistic He believes that his bunch, which is playing the best ball in the National league right now, will land out in front in September. To back up such a statement he points to twenty-one victories in thirty-one games with the eastern teams in the east, and expects an even better showing at home.

Gives Him Credit.

HANS WAGNER is given the lion's share of the credit for the recent fine showing of the Pirates. The Pittsburg press are loud in their praise of the veteran, and say "that while there may be other stars, there is only one Wagner."

Match Is On.

THE MATCH between McFarland and Wolgast is now a certainty. The contract has been signed by the two men. The match is scheduled for New York at Madison Square Garden, on October 27. McFarland will weigh in at 135 at 3 o'clock. This should be the best scrap of the year. The stockyards champion has many backers, who believe that over the ten-round route he is Wolgast's master.

Time Is Short.

TUESDAY is the time limit set for the exercising of options by big league clubs on all players now their property but members of Southern league clubs. Bailey, Waldorf and Agler are the three men that are members of the Crackers on whom options must be exercised or they will revert to the Crackers. The first and last named will be welcomed if they are allowed to remain, but let the Cubs have Waldorf and Keep him, if they want him.

A Real Town.

ATLANTA is a real baseball town, even if her team is in last place. The Mobile Register has a story in which it urges the fans of Mobile to rush to the support of the club and bring the attendance mark past the 100,000 mark. Fine state of affairs, isn't it? Atlanta, with a tail-end club, passed the 100,000 mark weeks ago. Yet the Gulls think they have a real ball town. It is to laugh.

Crackers Victors at Last; Alperman's Work Great; Sitton Pitched Splendidly

By G. L. Flournoy.

Mobile, Ala., August 16.—(Special.)—The Atlanta Crackers made Mr. Win Campbell look like a selling plater this afternoon, when he hooked up with Vedder Sitton in the first game of the Cracker series at the local ball lot.

It did not take long to discover that Mr. Vedder Sitton had Mobile's goat, as was exemplified in the fact that the locals got only one scratch and one clean single in the first six innings, while the Crackers had slammed Mr. Campbell safely seven times during that same space of time, two of the seven being doubles.

Sitton was simply invincible at all stages of the game, Mobile's two runs in the eighth being due to wild heaves by Sitton and Reynolds, followed by Jacobsen's single to right.

Campbell Lovely to Crackers.

The Crackers took kindly to Campbell's assortment and hammered the ball through the infied like rifle shots, and then over their heads to all parts of the pasture where the fielders were not; and the score would have been much larger had it not been for the phenominal fielding of Maloney, who captured at least two seeming triples running with the ball. Lyons' left-handed stab of Paulet's drive to the right-field fence in the seventh was easily the feature, and beat Mobile out of a couple of runs, men being on second and third at the time. Alperman's fielding and hitting was another feature.

There is no gainsaying the fact that the Crackers played championship ball this afternoon, and played rings all around Mobile, making them look like bush-leaguers. Many of their hits were hard drives, which the Gull infielders were unable to hold.

Alperman's double, Starr's muff of Reynolds' easy fly and Callahan's Texas leaguer to right gave them two runs in the second. Agler's double and singles by Harbison and Alperman gave them two more in the fifth. Then, by way of cinching the game, Campbell went up in the air in the ninth, when two passes, Sitton being hit by a pitched ball, and singles by Alperman and McElveen put over three runs.

A hit by Starr in the eighth, followed by wild heaves by Sitton and Reynolds and a double steal by Starr and O'Dell, gave Mobile her only two runs. When McElveen first came to the bat in the second inning, Fitzsimmons introduced him as "The Ladies' Man," and then coming to the plate with a long box such as is used for packing flowers, said that a club of ladies had sent Mr. McElveen this box of beautiful flowers as a token of their appreciation. When the box was opened it was found to contain all manner of vegetables—corn, cabbages, beets, tomatoes and the like.

Sitton gathered the beet and slipped it into his pocket, and in the fourth inning, when O'Brien was at bat, he pitched the beet to him, and Fitzsimmons went out to the pitchers' box and called him, O'Brien struck out. The beet proved to be a jinx for him.

The ladies were out in large force, and rooted hard and long for the Gulls, but it was not Mobile's day to win: the Crackers got back at Campbell for what he did to them in that 10 to 0 game when the Gulls were last in Crackerville.

JOHNSON WINS HIS FOURTEENTH

Washington, August 16.—Walter Johnson held Chicago to one scratch hit today and Washington won easily, 4 to 0. This made fourteen straight wins for Johnson, equaling the American league record held by Chesbro while pitching for New York.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Washington . . . . 201 001 00x—4 7 2

Batteries—Benz and Schalk; Johnson and Ainsmith. Time, 1:— Umpires, Connolly and Hart.

Yanks 9, Tigers 8.

New York, August 16.—New York made it four out of five from Detroit today, winning a seesaw game in the ninth inning by a score of 9 to 8. New York scored the winning run in the ninth on Zinn's double, Simmons' infield out and a passed ball by Kocher.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Detroit . . . . 400 010 300—8 8 3

Browns 3, Red Sox 2.

Boston, Mass., August 16.—St. Louis, the tail-enders, won from the Red Sox, league leaders, today, 3 to 2. Hamilton held Boston to six hits, well scattered, while the Browns bunched their hits, most of them for extra bases, off O'Brien.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Boston . . . . . 010 000 100—2 6 1
St. Louis . . . . 000 021 000—3 6 2

Batteries—O'Brien, Wood and Carrigan; Hamilton and Kritchell. Time, 2:18. Umpires, Dineen and O'Brien.

Athletics 3, Naps 1.

Philadelphia, August 16.—Philadelphia won today's game from Cleveland by 3 to 1. The home team scored all its runs after two were out in the eighth inning on a pass to Bender and singles by Barry, Oldring, Collins and F. Baker.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Cleveland . . . . 000 001 000—1 5 0
Philadelphia . . . 000 000 03x—3 7 2

Batteries—Gregg and O'Neill; Houck, Bender and Lapp, Thomas. Time, 1:52. Umpires, Westervelt and Sheridan.

Brunswick 6, Adel 3.

Brunswick, Ga., August 16—(Special) The locals made it two straight from Adel today, taking the game by a score of 6 to 3. As in yesterday's game, today's victory was due to the heavy stick work of the locals, Gardner, who pitched for the locals, gave up six hits, and Brogden, for Adel, gave up eight, two of which went for extra bases. The final game of the season will be played tomorrow, when the locals disband.

Score: R. H. E.
Adel 3 6 4

Batteries: Brodgen and Richards; Gardner and Geesling.

Winder 14, Monroe 3.

Winder, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Winder continued her winning streak today by defeating Monroe, on the Monroe grounds, by the one-sided score of 14 to 3. Robinson, Monroe's star twirler, was hammered to all corners of the lot. The feature of the game was the hitting of the Winder sluggers. Randolph pitched a steady game for Winder. Batteries—For Monroe, Robinson and Nunnally; for Winder, Randolph and Delaperriere.

GIANTS REVERSE COUNT; CUBS WERE OUTCLASSED

Chicago, August 16.—With Tesreau pitching in fine form New York defeated Chicago, 7 to 4, today, and evened up the series. The big right-handed pitcher held Chicago to three hits until the ninth inning, while New York drove two pitchers out of the box early in the game.

New York forced Jimmy Lavender, who started the game for Chicago, to retire before he had pitched two innings. Then Reulbach was sent in but gave way to Cheney in the seventh after New York had made four hits off him. New York got a run off Cheney in the eighth and he was relieved by Toney in the ninth.

Tesreau was given brilliant support. Murray made two sensational catches, running back into the crowd and pulling down drives that otherwise would have gone for two-base hits. New York ran wild on the bases, stealing six off Archer and one off Cotter.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

Pels 4, Lookouts 2.

New Orleans, August 16.—Allen weakened in the eighth inning of a pitchers' battle with Dygert, and the locals won the game on three singles and a wild throw, 4 to 2. Coyle drove the first ball pitched over left field fence, and this one-run lead the visitors held until the sixth inning, when Spencer's long drive sent across the tieing score. Mills, the locals' new third baseman, showed up well on his first appearance. Rowe went to first base.

Montgomery, Ala., August 16.—Johns had the best of a pitchers' battle today and Montgomery shut-out Memphis, 4 to 0.

Not a hit was made off Johns until the seventh inning, when Abstein drove out a clean single. Seabaugh got the only other hit marked by the visitors in the eighth. Not a member of the Memphis team got beyond second base. Newton pitched splendid ball and but for an error would have held the home team to one run, which was made by Danzig, who drove the ball to center field fence in the sixth for a home run.

VET CINDER MEN IN BIG PARADE

New York, August 16.—One of the features of the parade in honor of the American Olympic team here on August 24 will be a guard of honor made up of former champions and heroes of the cinder path and field.

Harry E. Buermeyer, founder of the New York Athletic club, will marshal the veterans' brigade, and among those who will be seen in the front rank are Harry Fredericks, one of the earliest American invaders of England's athletic fields; "Cinders" Murray, who showed the foreigners how to walk in the early eighties; W. E. Purdy, Murray's rival in heel and toe walk; Tommy Burke and the other members of the Boston Athletic association team that won the first Olympic honors for America at Athens in 1896, and Martin Sheridan, winner at three Olympic meets.

TY COBB GAINS ON HIS RIVALS

The three batters in the American league batting race are hitting as follows, including Friday's games:

Players.	AB.	H.	P.C.
Cobb	416	173	.416
Speaker	441	176	.400
Jackson	424	159	.375

Cobb got two hits out of four times up Friday. Speaker and Jackson were up two times each and failed to connect.

SOUTH ATLANTIC

Palmettos 7, Foxes 3.

Columbia, S. C., August 16.—Columbia easily defeated Columbus this afternoon, 7 to 3. Weidell was in miserable form. He allowed two triples and a double in addition to hitting three men, walking four and making a wild pitch. Witter's hitting again features as did a drive by Badel with two on bases. Barrett was never in danger.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Columbus . . . . 000 100 002—3 7 1
Columbia . . . . 100 040 11x—7 8 1

Batteries—Weidell and Krebs; Barrett and Menefee. Time, 1:40. Umpire, Kelly.

Scouts 6, Babies 1.

Jacksonville, August 16.—Thackam was in the best of form this afternoon, while Duggleby was found for thirteen hits. Thackam allowed but four safeties, walked but one man and struck out ten. The hitting of Carroll, who got three out of four, was one of the features.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Jacksonville . . . 100 001 22x—6 13 1

Jones Beats Moore.

Kansas City, Mo., August 16.—H. V. Jones, of Kansas City, today defeated Heath Moore, Kansas City, in the semi-finals in singles of the Missouri Valley championship tennis tournament. Jones will meet Jack Cannon, of Kansas City, in the finals tomorrow.

In doubles Jones and John T. Bailey, of Albion, Okla., defeated Proctor Masters and H. W. Durall, of Kansas City. The winners will meet Moore and Cannon tomorrow in the finals.

Gainesville Again.

Athens, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Gainesville took her seventeenth straight victory this season this afternoon by defeating Athens in the second of a series of three games. The score was 6 to 1. Peeler and Maddox were the Athens battery and Howell Smith and McNeal, the Gainesville battery.

Ask this Man Why He Chews!

Clang! Clang!—around the corner on two wheels—past tight places in crowded streets—figuring chances, figuring them quick—and a dangerous fire straight ahead.

When the strain is over—back there at the engine house—ask him why he stowed away a fresh chew just as he started.

He needed the steady hand, he'll tell you, and the clear, quick eye—and that good chew somehow helped as nothing else could—just as it helps to make him satisfied with life in those monotonous hours when he's just holding himself ready for the bell to ring.

DRUMMOND NATURAL LEAF CHEWING TOBACCO

gets the glad hand from men who know what chew-comfort really is. More chew-satisfaction in a nibble of Drummond than in all the raw, bitter stuff ever turned out.

Drummond's the natural leaf—Burley leaf—and great tobacco it is! No rankness—no loss of flavor—mild, mellow, good to taste—aged to the right richness—then carefully packed in that handy metal box to be in condition—as you want it, when you want it.

TYPOS CONDEMN CHICAGO STRIKE

Officers of Union Indorsed for Refusing to Join With Pressmen.

Cleveland, Ohio, August 16.—The convention of the International Typographical union today unanimously indorsed its officers and executive council and the officers and executive council of the Stereotypers and Electrotypers' unions for their attitude toward the Chicago pressmen's strike. The vote ended one of the hottest fights of the convention.

The striking pressmen were condemned by the investigating committee for refusing to accept proffered arbitration and for having sought to get the International Typographical union and allied trades unions into the fight. The stereotypers in Chicago were found guilty by the committee of having violated contracts, and the strike order itself was denounced as "a blunder worse than a crime."

The committee report practically reiterated the statements regarding the strike that had been made before the convention by James J. Freel, president of the stereotypers, charging, in addition, that a certain Chicago daily newspaper claiming to be a labor publication libeled and misrepresented international officers and did all in its power to keep the strikers agitated.

Concluding, the report reads:

"This committee cannot too strongly condemn the methods and tactics used in Chicago, and your committee believes that not only should the international officers of our organization be commended for the course they pursued, but that they should be instructed in the future to see to it that every renewal of the attempt to embroil us in needless difficulties made by any other international union is promptly exposed and combatted."

The convention adopted a resolution aiming at investigation of the school text book situation and the spread of propaganda for union printing of such books.

The ladies' auxiliary concluded its work today without having adjusted the difficulties caused by the walkout of Mrs. Frank W. Long, of Cincinnati, secretary and treasurer, who took with her a few supporters and the books and records. It was said today that Mrs. C. E. McKee, of Indianapolis, had gone into court and sworn out a warrant against Mrs. Long, but it seems that no formal process was issued.

CONTROL LIQUOR BY REGULATION

Such Is Plan Offered in Platform of Tennessee Democrats.

Nashville, Tenn., August 16.—Shortly before 2 o'clock this morning the democratic state convention adopted a platform for its candidate for governor, Benton McMillin. Main interest centered in the plank on liquor legislation on which the platform submitted two reports.

The minority report, which was adopted, pledged the party to retention of the old four-mile law as it existed before the state-wide prohibition statutes, with modification of the existing laws as affecting Nashville, Chattanooga and Memphis, these modifications to be accompanied by regulation, high license and segregation.

The platform also decalred for a modification of the law prohibiting the manufacture of liquor, permitting distilleries but prohibtng sales by them in dry counties.

APPROPRIATION BILL REVISED BY COMMITTEE

Washington, August 16.—As a result of the failure of the house to pass the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill over the president's veto the house appropriations committee today struck from the measure the features objectionable to Mr. Taft. These were the provision for the abolition of the commerce court and that fixing a seven-year tenure of office for government employees. The measure was reintroduced into the house but too late for action on it tonight. Chairman Fitzgerald of the committee gave notice that he would press it if possible to a vote tomorrow.

COTTON THE PAST WEEK; REVIEW OF THE MARKET

New York, August 16.—Cotton has recently declined so sharply as to arrest general attention in the business world of this country. The sensational fall of prices was primarily due to one thing, the breaking of the drought. This has led many to the conviction that the crop is going to be one of the largest ever raised. The big rains which have recently proved so beneficial over the larger part of Texas and the improved condition elsewhere in the southwest, as well as east of the Mississippi river, have encouraged many to believe that the record previous to last season will be surpassed that is, that the yield will exceed 14,000,000 bales. The south, Wall street, Liverpool, the west, room traders, everybody, indeed, has sold on the idea that the outlook for the crop has widened out until there is no longer any great danger of a short yield. Prices for spot cotton have had to give way followed futures, however, reluctantly as buyers withdrew. The receitps of new cotton in the southwest have been large enough to attract attention.

The cotton goods business, as might have been expected, has suffered in some extent from the great decline in the price of the raw material. Buyers of both spot cotton and of cotton goods have naturally been chilled by the sudden and dramatic fall of prices.

The spot sales at Liverpool have dwindled to very small figures. Lancashire must feel the numbing effect of recent events.

Yet it would be a mistake to assume that there are no bulls left. There are bulls. They aver that the believers in still lower prices are taking too much for granted. Something may yet overtake the crop. September, as well as August, must be favorable if the crop is to be large.

But bulls argue that a big crop has not yet been raised and that it may not be raised. Besides, they contend that a decline of nearly 2c a pound offsets all the bearish arguments that the most rampant bear can offer. Also the bulls think that the short side has recently been greatly increased and that it threatens to become as swollen as the long side was recently. Furthermore, they think that the textile industries after a momentary pause will go ahead and in any case may be bound, sooner or later, to participate in the general prosperity which they think awaits this country, especially as they think the political situation is less threatening than it was, and that sudden and violent changes in the tariff are highly improbable. The general idea here at present, however, is that while rallies at the expense of the shorts are probable from time to time, yet unless the crop meets with a serious mishap the general direction of prices for a time at least is likely to be downward.

WEEK'S TRADE REVIEWED.

What Commercal Agencies Say About Business.

New York, August 16.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say that the industrial and trade situation fully maintains its recent improvement and a further advance in activity is noted in the reports from the leading centers.

Everything points to a continuance of the present activity in iron and steel. Future business is not readily accepted unless higher prices are offered. Basic iron is strong at $14 valley, while Bessemer rules at $14.50 and $14.75 valley. Crude steel is becoming scarcer and merchant pig iron furnaces have practically contracted all of the output for the third quarter. Bessemer billets are firm at $23, Pittsburg, and open hearth at $23.50, Pittsburg. Demand for merchant steel bars, plates and shapes continues to tax capacity, while tinplate and sheets are very active with prospects of an advance in quotations.

Well maintained activity is still the leading feature in dry goods. Some hesitation was caused in the cotton goods division by the substantial decline in raw cotton, but the only effect noted was a slight softening in print cloths. A few sales were reported for China shipment, but export trade, as a whole, is slow.

Cotton yarns are quiet and practically unchanged, but worsted yarns are in good demand and firm. Demand for footwear shows further improvement.

All kinds of leather continue in good demand without any very large transactions, tanners still refusing to contract ahead in any considerable quantity at present quotations. Trading in upper leathers is steady, but no special activity is shown. Business is in steady volume and would be still more active were supplies not so closely cleaned up.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, August 16.—Cotton seed oil was firm early on the lard strength, but prices eased off late in the session under withdrawal of bull support and with the decline in cotton. Closing prices were unchanged to 2 points ne[t] lower.

BARONS TO MAKE TOUR OF CUBA

Birmingham, Ala., August 16.—(Special.)—The Birmingham club will make a tour of Cuba after the conclusion of the Southern league season. Ray Ryan, who is managing the trip, wired a lucrative offer tonight, and the Barons accepted it.

Thirteen will make the trip, which will begin October 1. Fifteen games will be played. Should the Barons win the pennant, a series with the American associations pennant winners may be arranged, as the team will be held together until September 23, when the American association season closes.

If a promoter of the scheme can be secured, it is probable that a seven-game series will be played, three in Birmingham and three elsewhere, the seventh game to be played on neutral territory.

With Almeida as the star drawing card, the following will go, if affairs may be arranged: Dilger, Foxen, Prough, Smith, Boyd, Hardgrove, McGilvray, Marcan, Ellam, Messenger, Johnston, McBride and Carroll. Manager Molesworth will not accompany the club, nor will Yantz. Should the series with the American association club fail, the Barons plan to make a barn-storming tour of Alabama, Georgia and Florida until the time to sail for Cuba.

KNOX LEAVES TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF MUTSUHITO

Washington, August 16.—Secretary of State Knox, for the time being special ambassador for President Taft to Emperor Yoskihito, of Japan, left Washington at 6:45 o'clock tonight accompanied by Mrs. Knox and R. S. Miller, chief of the far eastern devision of the state department, to personally represent the president at the funeral of the deceased Japanese emperor, Mutsuhito, at Tokio, September 13.

The party is traveling in a special car to Seattle, where the members will embark on the cruiser Maryland. At Seattle Secretary Knox will be joined by Admiral Reynolds, his naval aide, and at Yokohama by Brigadier General Pershing, the military member of his staff. The Maryland will touch at Honolulu. tl is expected the party will be back in Washington early in October.

NEW POSTAL PLAN PASSED IN HOUSE

Conflicting Provisions in Post-office Bill to Be Adjusted in Conference.

Washington, August 16.—As the result of a renewal of Republican Leader Mann's fight to get a direct vote on the Bourne-Bristow parcels post amendment which the senate put into the postoffice appropriation bill, the house today was forced to adopt a substitute plan offered by democratic leaders.

Mr. Mann forced a reconsideration of the vote by which the bill was sent into conference. He then moved that it again be sent to conference and the house conferees be instructed to agree to the senate's parcels post plan.

As a substitute for this, Chairman Moon, of the postoffice committee, offered a new plan for an experimental system, confined to fourth-class mail matter and farm products. The scheme was based on the zone system, as was the senate plan, with charges ranging from 5 cents to 12 cents a pound, and a limit of weight of 15 pounds for a package.

The Moon substitute was adopted by a vote of 143 to 86. Representative Mann's motion subsequently was defeated. The postoffice bill then was sent to conference, where the conflicting provisions will be adjusted.

ITALIANS ESTABLISH BASE NEAR TRIPOLI

Rome, August 16.—It was officially announced today that Lieutenant General Garioni, commander of the Italian troops in Tripoli, has succeeded in establishing a base at Zuara, about sixty-six miles west of the city of Tripoli, where the Turks and Arabs had concentrated their forces and stubbornly resisted the advance of the invaders. The Italians successfully carried out the operation of cutting off the large Turco-Arab force from the caravan routes to the Tunisian frontier.

The battle lasted all day along a front four miles in extent and ended in the retreat of the Turks, who left numerous dead on the field. The Italians lost six men killed and ninety-eight wounded.

"WIRELESS" MEASURE SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

Washington, August 16.—President Taft signed today the radio-communication bill, carrying out America's part of the international agreement adopted at the Berlin wireless conference in 1906. It also embodied lessons taught by the Titanic disaster. The measure compels all wireless stations to give priority to distress signals, regulates wireless on ships, the instruments of which must have a radius of 100 miles, and requests amateurs to have licenses in addition to controlling their wave lengths.

TRAIN ROBBER NOT YET LANDED BY THE POLICE

Asheville, N. C., August 16.—Two deputy sheriffs and two or three members of the police force spent last night in hunting for the man who held up Express Messenger E. F. Carr, between Asheville and Baltimore, and robbed the safe of something less than $3,000, without result.

Sheriff Williams stated this morning, however, that his men are not now working on the case, and Chief of Police Lyerly said his men were not actively engaged. Presumably the hunt will be left to the detectives of the company, who are expected here this afternoon, with Superintendent Sadler, of Charlotte, who will direct the case.

EDITORS MAY MEET WILSON

Planned to Have Democratic Journalists Pay Visit to Seagirt Soon.

Seagirt, N. J., August 16.—Democratic editors throughout the country soon may be invited to gather at Seagirt for a conference with Governor Woodrow Wilson.

Josephus E. Daniels, national committeeman from North Carolina, and chairman of the committee on publicity, broached the plan for a meeting of editors of democratic and independent papers, the time to coincide with the annual meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers' association in New York next month.

"I like the idea very much," said Governor Wilson tonight in commenting on Mr. Daniels' scheme.

With Mr. Daniels tonight came William G. McAdoo, vice chairman of the campaign committee. They told the governor that Chairman McCombs, who is ill, would be able to be at work again in about two weeks.

The two visitors brought the governor a report made by George M. Palmer, democratic state chairman in New York, after a visit "to every senatorial district in New York," declaring that the Wilson forces "held the state safe."

The governor also received a report made by Fred B. Lynch, national committeeman in Minnesota, stating that while the Roosevelt movement was strong, the Wilson forces "would carry the state."

The governor announced he had accepted an invitation to speak on August 19 before the Plattdeutscher Volkfest Verein, at Hoboken, N. J., and also would make an address at the New York state fair at Syracuse on September 2.

Tomorrow will be New Jersey day at Seagirt. Special trains have been arranged to carry delegations from various parts of the state. Governor Wilson will speak at noon.

Scared to Death.

Baltimore, August 16.—Literally scared to death, Joseph Brown last night dropped to the floor of his home here dead from heart trouble, when two policemen began to question him about a woman with whom he was acquainted.

SPARE NOBODY IN GRAFT PROBE

When Bribe-Taker Is Found, Crucify Him, Says Watson.

New York, August 16.—Corporation Counsel Watson has announced the appointment of William McMurtie Speer as special counsel to represent the city in the aldermanic investigation into police conditions. In a lengthy letter to Mr. Speer the lawyer is enjoined to co-operate cheerfully with the aldermanic committee.

"Spare nobody," the letter continues. "Pursue relentlessly and seize with rough hands what you bring to bay. When you find an ulcer spot, burn it to the bone. When you find a bribe-taker, one who has stultified himself, sold himself for a price, been faithless to his duty and his public trust, crush him, crucify him. Forget mercy and moderation. Put compassion, even discretion, wholly aside. Go at it your own way—only get results."

In an address tonight to a meeting of newsdealers called to protest against a new ordinance curtailing the number of street news stands, Mayor Gaynor expressed the belief that probably $1,500,000 in graft was annually collected from news dealers of the city.

"Two years ago it was called to my attention," said the mayor, "that all over the city men and women could not get the licenses for news stands without paying middlemen or aldermen or somebody else. I took the matter up. I confess I have been baffled up to now.

"There are 7,500 news stands. If the people pay an average of $100 each for them, and some pay $250 or $500, that is $750,000 a year, and I believe it is nearer twice that."

ARMY BILL IS AGAIN SENT TO CONFERENCE

Washington, August 16.—The army appropriation bill which was passed by the house twice and over which such a bitter fight has raged was sent once more to conference today by the house. Chief differences between the two branches of congress are the provisions abolishing a large number of army posts, the reduction of the cavalry force of the army and the extension of the term of enlistment from three to five years.

The bill putting into effect the international treaty with regard to the preservation of the fur seals also was sent to conference.

First Thomas County Bale.

Thomasville, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The first bale of cotton for Thomas county for the season of 1912 was brought in this week by J. D. Gibbs, a well-known farmer of the Boston district. The bale weighed 560 pounds and was rated as good middling. It was placed in the farmers' union warehouse until sold.

Eufaula Gets First Bale.

Eufaula, Ala., August 16.—(Special.) Eufaula received her first bale of the 1912 cotton crop yesterday, and it was purchased by Dean & Moore for 18½ cents, several cents above the market quotations. This first bale was expressed to Eufaula by Webb L. Sparks, a prominent planter of this section, from his plantation at Morris, Ga. The bale weighed 340 pounds. Mr. Sparks also holds the honor of sending the first bale to Eufaula last year on August 10.

SELLING RENEWED IN COTTON MARKET

The Close Was Weak at Net Decline of 30 to 34 Points.

New York, August 16.—There was a renewal of general selling, after some early irregularity, in the cotton market today and prices lost a large part of their recent gains, with the close weak at a net decline of from 30 to 34 points.

The opening was steady at decline of 6 to 14 points in sympathy with weak Liverpool cables. There was good buying at the initial figures, owing to a private crop report, indicating that the condition had deteriorated a little over 3 per cent since the end of July and prices rallied some 8 or 10 points from the lowest during the first few minutes. The failure of the early weather map to show any precipitation in the extreme southwest may also have contributed to the confidence of buyers, but after a rally to about 11.61 for December the market weakened, under heavy selling by spot houses, and indications of a rapidly-increasing new crop movement in Texas. A break of about 20 points from the best attracted a renewal of support from some of yesterday's big buyers, on which prices again steadied up, but after a recovery of 10 to 12 points the market ran into more aggressive and more general selling, which evidently resulted from private reports of rain or showers in previously dry sections of south Texas.

Offerings were very heavy in the late trading, when it was rumored that some of yesterday's biggest buyers were reducing their lines, and the market closed at the lowest point of the day. Most of the private cables received attributed the weakness of Liverpool to liquidation of buyers for a reaction or continental selling, but one report was received, via New Orleans, which claimed that Liverpool had been flooded by offerings of new crop shipments from the southwest, and this probably attracted more attention, for the reason that new crop receipts at Houston were larger than for the same day last year. Private advices from Houston said that the showers reported in south Texas would delay the movement, but would add to the volume of the crop. The private crop report, issued at the opening, made the condition 76.7, against 79.9 two weeks ago.

Receipts 5,612 bales, against 2,810 last week and 7,442 last year. Today's receipts at Galveston 4,317, against 8,299 last year; at New Orleans 364, against 554 last year, and at Houston 9,023, against 8,839 last year.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, August 16.—Spot cotton easy, unchanged; middling, 11 13-16; sales on the spot, 50 bales; to arrive, 27; low ordinary, 8¼; nominal; ordinary, 9 1-16, nominal; good ordinary, 10¾; strict good ordinary, 10⅞; low middling, 11 3-16; strict low middling, 11 9-16; middling, 11 13-16; strict middling, 12 1-16; good middling, 12 5-16; strict good middling, 12½; middling fair, 12 13-16; nominal; middling fair to fair, 13 3-16, nominal; fair, 13 9-16, nominal; receipts, 364; stock, 21,908.

Cotton futures opened steady at a decline of 15 to 19 points. Cables were not nearly as high as due and short selling was stimulated by this and by continued dry weather in the eastern and central portions of the cotton region, where it is claimed the crop is showing marked improvement. The market had no support in the early trading, although bulls called attention to the fact that Texas was getting no rain. The forecast promised fair weather for the entire belt, including Texas. At the end of the first half hour of business prices were 25 to 27 points down.

Reports of showers at several points in south Texas held the market down around the middle of the morning, but shorts showed a fondness of profits and their purchases served to make the tone steady and in the end check the decline. Buying was lively at one time and prices recovered 15 points from the low-est of the morning. The market had no real buying power, however, and after the edge of the demand from the shorts had been taken off prices commenced to sag again. At noon, the trading months were 23 to 24 points down.

In the afternoon, the market displayed marked weakness, under what was said to be liquidation of a large line of long cotton.

At 2 o'clock, prices were 37 to 38 points under yesterday's final quotations.

Dry Goods.

New York, August 16.—The jobbers have had a very fair week in nearly all departments of dry goods. Primary markets are generally steady, the exception being some slight easing in gray cotton goods.

FAVORITE STOCKS UNDER PRESSURE

The Market Showed Degree of Heaviness in Most of the List.

New York, August 16.—Further modification of recent bullish news was suggested by the trend of stocks today. The speculative favorites were under pressure most of the session, particularly the important railway issues which have shown a considerable degree of heaviness in connection with the agitation accompanying the Panama canal bill at Washington.

Coppers and equipment stocks figured more than proportionately in the day's moderate dealings, which were marked by frequent pauses. Chino was the feature of the metal shares. Other specialties were active and strong, including Pullman Car, which made its best price in several years. American Tobacco was conspicuously weak, while some of its former allies were up 1 to 2 points. Steel barely preserved an even balance until the final hour, when, after selling at low-est quotations of the day, they rallied to a level which left a majority of net gains.

The late recovery was generally ascribed to Washington dispatches stating that the senate had refused to pass the steel tariff bill over the president's veto.

European financial conditions were without direct bearing upon the market. London, where money was easier, traded lightly here with a small balance of sales. The Bank of France reduced its discounts and advances, meanwhile making a nominal gain in gold. Paris prices were firm with irregularity in Berlin.

Bonds were lower with total sales, par value, $1,813,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call.

Liverpool Cotton Statistics.

Imports, all kinds, 28,000 bales.
Imports, American, 13,000.
Stocks, all kinds, 687,000.
Stock, American, 564,000.
American forwarded, 53,000.
Total exports, 4,300.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

The unexpected decline in Liverpool is reported to be due to heavy selling by an American house, creating uneasiness abroad and a weak market. It is understood that the feeling in Liverpool is very bearish, based on the belief that the large spot interests are advising that lower prices will rule under the effect of the recent rains in northern Texas and Oklahoma. As these advices were unexpected, our market was heavy at a less decline than abroad, until the last hour, when heavy selling orders appeared, apparently from brokers acting under the same influence, which naturally increases the bearish feeling here. Rumors of a light sprinkle at Victoria and El Campo, Texas, near the southern coast, were prevalent and effective, offsetting the reports of boll weevil. Liverpool is due to come 7 to 8 points lower in the morning.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, August 16.—On the big break the other day, some big operators concluded that the market buy for a scalp, and they bought in a big way. This afternoon they were getting out and the result was a break that closed the market weak at a net decline of 31 to 33 points on the active months. The weather continues favorable and next week the Texas movement will be heavy. Sentiment is bearish, but the market is a better buy on this break than it was around the same level before. The short interest out is very large. Liverpool is due to come about 8 points down.

Gilbert & Clay.

New York, August 16.—Selling by spot houses led to a decline of 33 points in the market today, in the absence of any pronounced demand; the buying coming chiefly from the short interest. The market just now is affected by generally favorable weather in the south and the slowness of spinners in making new commitments in quantity large enough to take care of the hedge deals. This factor restrains speculative operators from supporting prices, especially with no severe damage advices regarding the crop. However, any change in these circumstances in favor of values would meet with a ready response here because of the heavy selling of the past week.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

SHORTS BUYING SENT GRAIN UP

Wheat Closed Five-Eighths to Seven-Eighths Up—Corn and Oats Higher.

Chicago, August 16.—Unsettled weather and a continuance of cash demand helped to run all grain values up today. At times shorts, seeking to cover, induced rapid advances. The close was strong in all lines, with wheat from 5-8 to 7-8c up. Corn finished from 5-8c to 1c higher, and oats showed 3-8c to 5-8c gain, while provisions were from 5c to 12½c higher.

Expectations of lighter arrivals, based on rainy weather forecast for practically the entire producing area, was a large factor in advancing wheat prices. Lower cables had little deterrent effect. The upturn caused local shorts to hurry to cover, giving sharp gains toward the close of the day. Primary receipts were 357,000 bushels larger than a year ago. May made a net gain of 7-8c, touching 97 7-8c, and closing at 97½c. December traveled btween 92¾c and 93 7-8c, final figues being ¾c higher at 93½c.

Spot corn felt the upturn induced by showers over the northern part of the corn belt more than the distant deliveries, though the market was strong all through the list. Commission selling in held prices in moderate limits and offerings of old crop increased. Cash product was higher with a fair demand. The close was near the top, September making a net gain of 1c, finishing at 70 5-8c, after touching 70 7-8c, the low being 69 7-8c. Outside limits for December were 54¼@54 3-8c and 55c. Closing figures were 5-8@⅝c higher at 54 7-8@55c. No. 2 yellow was quoted at 78¼@78¾c.

Oats followed the major grains within narrower limits. The close was slightly below top prices. December moved between 33¼c and 32¾c, closing 3-8@½c higher at 33⅛c.

Increased demand for the January products was a salient provisions feature. First month pork finished 12½c higher. Final prices for October products were uniformly 7½c higher, with pork at $18.32½, lard $11.12½, and ribs $11.00.

MOVING PICTURE TRUST IS SUED

Philadelphia, August 16.—The federal government attacked the so-called moving picture trust in a civil suit filed here today for the dissolution of the Motion Picture Patents company and the General Film company.

Ten moving picture film concerns are accused of combining to monopolize the business, even to the extent of increasing or decreasing the number of motion picture theaters in which they have no proprietary interest.

Bounds Overstepped.

Each of the defendants is alleged to have overstepped the bounds of the lawful monopoly granted by their patents, and the petition asks that several complicated interlocking license restrictions, tying patents together, be ordered cancelled. The government charges that unreasonable and oppressive restraints and conditions have been arbitrarily imposed on the manufacture and leasing of films and machines, depriving the public of the advantages of competition, especially the competition of foreign films, the importation of which is alleged to be restricted.

Edwin P. Grosvenor, special assistant to the attorney general, who has charge of the pending anti-trust suit against the International Harvester company, made an exhaustive investigation of the moving picture business, drawing the petition filed today by United States Attorney John C. Swartley. In addition the bill is signed by Attorney General Wickersham and James A. Fowler, his assistant.

EXECUTION ENDS PLOT IN CHINA

London, August 16.—The dramatic arrest and execution of several Hu Peh generals, including Chang Chan Wu, alleged to be the head of a plot recently unearthed at Hankow, have caused intense excitement at the Chinese capital, according to the correspondent at Pekin of The Daily Telegraph.

The officers arrived at Pekin openly from Hankow a few days ago. President Yuan Shi Kai received a number of secret messages from General Li Yuen Heng, the vice president of China, proving the complicity of the generals in the recent abortive revolution and the president acted with such swiftness that escape was impossible.

The generals were seized in the dead of night and the two leaders of the Wu Chang outbreak were shot after being tried by a drumhead court-martial.

ANSLEY BOOSTS STATE PRODUCTS

What is conceded to be one of the best advertisements that Georgia has ever had is now being promoted by Edwin P. Ansley's real estate agency in the shape of a permanent exhibit of Georgia products to be placed in some central and public place in Atlanta.

The various railroads running out of Atlanta through the state and real estate agencies in other towns and cities in Georgia are co-operating with Mr. Ansley in the movement.

The plans are almost complete, and little now remains to be done but to obtain quarters and move the exhibits in.

It is also the plan of Mr. Ansley to have this exhibit shipped to all parts of the United States wherever any sort of a fair or exposition is being held, in order more widely to advertise Georgia and bring in more home-seekers.

While no official action has been taken by these bodies, it has been suggested by members of the Atlanta Real Esate board and the chamber of commerce that they offer Mr. Ansley any assistance he may need in the scheme. One suggestion is to establist the permanent exhibit either in the same building or near whatever building may be selected by the real estate board for its proposed quarters.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

The most important event which has occurred in real estate circles was the changing of the name of the Atlanta Real Estate Men's association and the converting of that organization into a real estate exchange at last night's banquet and business meeting of the old association.

Another interesting plan which came to night at last night's banquet was a plan by Edwin P. Ansley's agency for the establishment in Atlanta of a permanent exhibit of Georgia products, as a state-wide advertising scheme. Fuller details of this plan are also printed elsewhere.

Hurt's Building Starts Soon.

A statement was issued at the office of Joel Hurt that the work on the excavation for the skyscraper which will be constructed at the junction of Edgewood avenue and Exchange place will be begun next week. The contract for the work is expected to be let today or Monday.

Within a few days photographs and plats of the Edgewood avenue and Exchange place neighborhood will be made and sent to New York city, from which a bird's-eye perspective of the building and surroundings will be made.

Loan for Building Secured.

The loan deed whereby the money for the erection of this building has been secured went to record on Friday.

The loan deed is made from the Atlanta Realty corporation, of which Joel Hurt is president, to the Metropolitan Life Insurance company of New York.

The deed is for $700,000, and conveys four parcels of Edgewood real estate. Mr. Hurt will expend this money upon the building, for which he has already applied for permit.

The loan is for five years at a rate of 6 per cent for the first two years and 5½ per cent fo rthe remaining three years.

Real Estate Sales.

W. J. Davis has sold to Columbus Roberts, of Columbus, who will make it his home, 758 West Peachtree street, residence property facing Fifteenth street, for an aggregate of $15,000.

This is a two-story, colonial, 12-room frame residence on a lot 58x208 on the west side of the street.

Forrest & George Adair have sold for G. A. Howell to Virgil Norcross lot 9 of block 5 of Druid Hills for an aggregate of $6,250 cash. This lot is on Fairview road at the corner of Springdale road. Its dimensions are 125x254.

Mr. Howell bought this lot in July, 1909, for $3,125, its value having doubled since then. Mr. Norcross will build on it.

Mr. Howell has bought another lot in Druid Hills on Ponce de Leon avenue beyond the bridge, upon which he will build.

CITY NEWS

Selling Beer to Minors Charged.—E. Markowitz, a near beer dealer at 402 Decatur street, was held in a $500 bond by the recorder yesterday morning on the charge of selling beer which was intoxicating to two minors, O. S. Smith, of 408 Decatur street, testified that Markowitz had sold beer to his two minor brothers and had made one of them drunk. Markowitz denied the charge and said the case was made through spite because he was about to open a "weeny" stand in opposition to Smith.

George Hood on Vacation.—George R. Hood, deputy clerk in the United States court clerk's office, accompanied by Mrs. Hood, will leave Atlanta tomorrow afternoon for a vacation trip to his old home in New Jersey. Mr. and Mrs. Hood will first visit Philadelphia, where his brother, W. S. Hood, lives and where his mother is now stopping. A telegram to Mr. Hood from his brother Friday informed him that their mother's health was by no means good and it may be that they will be detained in that city several days. Mr. Hood will be away ten days or two weeks, while Mrs. Hood and the child will be gone at least a month.

Edward Jennings Arrives.—Edward Henry Jennings, successor to Captain C. A. Donnell as secretary to the civil service commission for the fifth district, reached Atlanta yesterday morning and immediately took charge, relieving Frank A. Doughman, chief clerk, who has been in charge of the office for two or three months—since Captain Donnell was ordered to Washington. Mr. Jennings is a young man, a native of Iowa, and has been in the civil service practically since he began his life's work. He has been attached to the bureau at the national capital up to ihs appointment to the fifth district work. Mr. Doughman has been chief clerk in the Atlanta office since Captain Donnell became secretary for the fifth district and is one of the most competent men in the service.

I. G. Hart Home Again.—I. G. Hart, superintendent of delivery of mails in the Atlanta postoffice, who has been away on a month's vacation, is home again and at his work. Mr. Hart was accompanied by Mrs. Hart and during their absence they visited a number of eastern cities as well as Charleston, their old home before Mr. Hart was transferred to the Atlanta postoffice.

Mr. and Mrs. McKee at Springs.—Private telegrams from Hugh L. McKee, Atlanta's postmaster, dated Hot Springs, indicate that he and Mrs. McKee will probably remain at the springs for some time before resuming their journey to California, where Mr. McKee's mother lives. Mrs. McKee has been suffering with rheumatism in an arm and shoulder for some time. She is improving at the springs.

Deputy Martin Raids Still.—Deputy John Martin, of the internal revenue force located in Atlanta, yesterday made a raid into Campbell county and near Sandtown captured a large 75-gallon copper still in full operation. The still was located in a cave, to which water had been piped some distance from a spring, while the smoke leaked out of the ground nearly half a mile away from the plant. Bradley Cox, a negro, was found at work at the still. The still, practically a new one, was destroyed together with a thousand gallons of beer. So far the revenue officers have not been able to ascertain the owner of the plant.

Methodist Stewards Meet.—The Atlanta Methodist Stewards' association will meet at East Atlanta church on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Every Methodist steward, pastor, Sunday school superintendent, trustee and other official in the Atlanta district is a member of the association and is cordially urged to be present.

peal for leadership from New England in the movement of the progressive party was made here tonight by Colonel Roosevelt in his first speech since his nomination in Chicago.

He declared that the ordinary voter had nothing to hope for through success of either the democratic or republican parties, which, he asserted, are equally boss-ridden. The tariff was one of the main topics of the speaker, who said in part:

"The progressive movement is aimed at the rotten machine, the rotten boss systems of both parties. Only by supporting the progressive party can you strike any effective blow against boss rule and machine ring politics.

"The success of the democratic national ticket means enthroning in power one set of bosses; the success of the republican national ticket means enthroning in power the other set of bosses.

Dominated by Bosses.

"The differences between the men who really dominate the two parties are merely the differences between great republican attorneys who for the moment represent different corporations, but who come together instantly against any movement which is meant to establish the people as masters over both. We progressives stand against both. We propose to drive them from power for all time and to substitute the genuine rule of the people.

"One of our great troubles is that the representatives of privilege in finance and politics control most of the newspapers, so that the ordinary man finds the channels of information choked. I do not so much mind the editorial columns being closed against us, but it is a matter for real regret that the news columns are closed to us.

"There is good reason why many men should bitterly oppose the progressive party. Every political jobber every crooked business man, every beneficiary of privilege and every paid employee of such beneficiary—all these are naturally against us. But I hold that every self-respecting ordinary citizen should be for us. The men for whom we are making the fight are not politicians and are not of great wealth.

Plain People in the Game.

"Hitherto, as a stand-patter, a reactionary congressman from Kansas, with involuntary truthfulness put it, these plain people have been regarded politicians as only entitled to pay the price of admission and sit on the bleachers and watch the politicians play the game for their own benefit. The progressive doctrine, on the contrary, is that the plain people of America are not after this to sit on the bleachers. The plain people are to be their own masters.

"We stand for a protective tariff, but we wish to see the benefits of the protective tariff get into the pay envelope of the wage worker. We wish to increase the amount of the prize money that is rightfully due those who work hard in industry, but we stand for a more equitable division of the prize money. We do not accept the view that greed and selfishness are the only factors to be considered in government. We insist that in man's nature there is something noble, something lofty, to which it is possible to appeal, and we make our appeal therefore not only to his self-interest, but also to what is highest and best in him. It is not right that he should neglect his self-interest. No man can do his duty by the state as a whole unless he pulls his own weight. We stand to work for a broader and kindlier charity of relationship as between man and man.

Real Issue Faced.

"The progressive platform has really faced the real issues of today. It has done this as regards the trusts, as regards the rights of labor, as regards the tariff. I do not see how the people of New England can support either the republican or the democratic tariff platform. Remember that when I use the word republican now I do not refer to the rank and file of the republican uarty, but to the bosses who have usurped the control of the machinery of the party. The republican proposal is a tariff for privilege in industry. The democratic proposal is a tariff for the destruction of industry. The progressive proposal is a tariff in the interest of labor in industry.

"At the time when the Payne-Aldrich bill was put through congress it was currently reported that the duty on schedule, for instance, was written by a then private citizen of Rhode Island, now a senator from your state, Mr. Lippitt, and Mr. Lippitt was credited with making the statement that Mr. Aldrich had been 'good to him.' The republican purpose is to have future tariffs written by the Mr. Lippitts of the party. The democratic proposal is to hurt the Mr. Lippitts by hurting everybody, big and little, connected with the industries. Our proposal is not merely to reform schedules of the tariff, but to reform the methods and purposes of tariff making.

and respect for the republican party are going to bring over into the republican party many a man who has been doubtful and it is going to increase that number, in my judgment, as we approach the election. It is, therefore, essential that we make the cleavage as clear as can be made so that those who are republicans shall be republicans and those who are with the bolters shall bear their name and title. We ought to have electors in each state bearing the emblem of the republican party, bearing the names of the candidates of that party at the head of the ticket, covering the electors who are going to vote for those names. If there are any men on that list who are not going to vote for the men at the head of that ticket I don't hesitate to say that they are dishonest men, in that they are holding out to the people who are to vote for them an implied promise that they will vote for the names on the ticket when they in fact intend to vote for someone else."

Some of the editors told the president that either the electors chosen for the republican ticket in Maryland would declare their intention to support him or a new state convention would make new selections.

The president began his speech with a brief summary of what the republican party stands for. He said in part:

Republican Beliefs.

"We are republicans. We believe in maintaining the constitution and in progress along the lines that that constitution indicates. We are protectionists, and we are in favor of maintaining the present prosperity by maintaining a tariff system which shall preserve business as it goes on now, and shall secure as high wages as possible to the wage-earners and a reasonable profit to those who invest their capital. Those two propositions cover a good deal of republicanism.

"Being a party, we are anxious to have the opinions that our party represents put into force in the operation of the government. We have to be a single party and not part of two parties. I don't think we are unfair in asking that we be given a chance for a fair fight and in counting those against us who are not with us. Tho have a man on both sides of the fight when we are on one side is uncomfortable, especially when he is behind you.

"Before the convention it is all right that we should differ as to the men best qualified to represent us. But after the convention each voter's influence should carry its proper and proportionate weight in the election of the party's candidates."

PANAMA CANAL BILL OPPOSED

operated or controlled by illegal monopolies."

They asserted it would be practically impossible to administer that clause.

Senator Reed, defending the provision, declared it provided that any competent federal court should decide whether a vessel was owned by a violator of the anti-trust law.

Temporary Resolution.

Senator Brandegee proposed a temporary resolution giving the president power to organize the canal force, to publish maximum canal tolls of $1.25 per net ton, arrange for wireless telegraph installations and make provision for the supply and repair of ships.

Senator Brandegee conceded that he could not offer the resolution as a substitute for the conference report, but urged that the conference report and the accompanying canal bill be voted down.

"I believe it would be a public calamity to have this bill passed," he said.

Senator Oliver, of Pennsylvania, introduced a newspaper editorial which he said expressed his views of the Panama canal bill and brought a bitter reply from Senator Williams, who declared the article was "scurrilous" insulting, offensive and vituperative," and that it made members of the house and senate appear as "asses, demagogues, peddlers and dishonest men."

"It would appear that that is the opinion in which the senator from Pennsylvania holds his coleagues," he added.

"That article expresses my opinion of this bill," retorted Senator Oliver, "and I withdraw nothing I have said."

CITIZENS IN CLASH OVER WORK ON IVY

mark that any man who voted against such a big improvement as Ivy street would be remembered by the people and would "never come back."

When Mr. Hurt had resumed his seat and retired to the end of the room Mr. Hall approached him and said:

"I wish to say, if your remark was made for me, that I never take threats and since you have made it I will see if you can keep the people from sending me back."

Mr. Hurt appeared to get angry and he replied:

"Now, since you have come and tried to bluff me, I will say that if you ever offer for office I will let the people know what kind of an official you are and I will show you that you cannot be elected to any office in this city again."

Personal Difficulty Imminent.

The other remarks were decidedly spirited, and a personal difficulty seemed imminent.

Mr. Hall made a statement about what had occurred as a "personal privilege."

Mr. Hurt also made a short statement.

When Mr. Hurt and Mr. Hall left the room they were locking arms and talking to each other in a very friendly manner.

Mrs. Agnes Richetson, Valdosta

Valdosta, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) Mrs. Agnes Richetson died here yesterday afternoon after an illness of three weeks. Her former home was at Millwood, in Coffee county, but she had recently resided at DeFuniak Springs, Fla., and was sick when she came from that place to Valdosta. Her death occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rose, on Hill avenue and Pine street, where she was boarding. The remains will be carried to Pearson, Ga., for interment. The deceased was a sister of Mrs. J. B. Elliott, of this city.

The object of this plan is, through co-operation of other members of the board, to make quick and satisfactory sales of any listing which may be filed by another member of the board. In cases where one member furnishes a seller and another supplies a buyer the commission is to be split.

Regulation of Listings.

The listings of the board will be under the following regulations:

All properties listed on the board must be under exclusive contract, on Atlanta Real Estate board contract forms, and all listings must bear a definite date of expiration.

The number of properties listed on the board will be limited to two pieces for each firm, and one additional piece for each individual member or salesman of the firm.

When property listed on the board is sold the secretary of the board will be notified at once in order to avoid confusion.

In the bulletin of listings which will be published and circulated among members, a charge of $1 will be charged for the first five lines of seven words and 5 cents for each additional line.

Only licensed real estate firms who are members of the board will be entitled to list property with the board and each firm will be recognized by code numbers, the key to which will be furnished to each member.

It is further stipulated by the regulations that any firm which obtains an exclusive sales contract on representation that the property will be listed with the board must list the property at once.

The classes of properties which may be listed on the board are limited to central property, residences, lots, investments, colored property, suburban acreage, factory sites and farm and timber lands.

The board itself will not be allowed to list property, but only members of the board can list through the board.

Amicable Adjustment Between Firms.

In the establishment of this co-operative form of selling property, every precaution has been taken to avoid any misunderstanding between the various firms regarding a piece of property or the sale thereof. A firm listing a piece of property on the board must first have obtained an exclusive sales contract from the owner of the property. No other member of the board will then be allowed to accept from the owner the same property for sale until the former exclusive sales contract has expired.

A member, however, who has a listing on the board may give another agent or client an option on the property, not to exceed ten days, but must immediately notify the secretary of the board of his action.

Another precaution is that, upon quoting a piece of property to a prospective purchaser, the firm must immediately not only telephone the member listing the property, indicating that the property has been quoted, but must also write both the member and the board to that effect. The quoting firm will in this manner establish its right to its prospect.

Commissions on sales will be shared equally by listing the member furnishing and the selling member, and the same adjustment applies to the total of commissions realized from an exchange of properties.

No firm, however, offering listed property to a customer will be allowed to claim a division of commission if the customer buys direct from the listing firm, unless the customer is introduced or named immediately after offering the property by the quoting firm to the listing firm. Neither will a selling agency be allowed to close a sale with a customer without first consulting the firm in whose name the property is listed.

Special Advertising Space Asked.

A distinctive feature in which the board will ask the daily newspapers to co-operate with them is the establishment in each newspaper of a special space or section to be devoted exclusively to the advertisements of members of the board. The members of the board contract themselves to use a certain style of type in this section. Only members of the association will be allowed to use this section, but this does not prohibit any member from using space outside the section if he so desires.

The following fifteen members of the board, including the officers of the board, will constitute the board of directors of the Atlanta Real Estate board:

Charles P. Glover, Harris G. White, W. M. Wight, J. W. Dobbins, J. H. Ewing, S. B. Turman, R. O. Cochran, W. A. Foster, M. L. Thrower, M. F. Ramsey, Forrest Adair, G. M. McKinnon, S. L. Dallas, Walker Dunson and John J. Woodside.

Ex-President Cochran Honored.

M. L. Thrower presided at the dinner and business meeting, and there was a full attendance.

At the end of the banquet, W. A. Foster presented, for the board, to Ralph O. Cochran a handsomely engraved gold watch charm set in the back with a beautiful diamond. Mr. Foster, in his speech, stated that the gift was meant as a token of gratitude and esteem of the board for the work which Mr. Cochran had done for the organization during his two years as president. The inscription on the charm reads as follows:

The presentation was very timely, in that Mr. Cochran is conceded to have been more instrumental than anyone else in the organizing and establishing of the old association, and that the token was presented to him just on the eve of the passing of the association to make way for the more extensive real estate board.

The far-reaching influence which the board is expected to exert not only among real estate men but among all enterprising organizations, firms and individuals in the city was illustrated at the meeting by the acceptance of the applications for associate membership of the Atlanta Trust company, formerly the Hillyer Trust company; Haralson Beckley, the architect, and the Empire Trust company. Everett & Everett, attorneys at law, were admitted to active membership.

Those at the Meeting.

The following is a list of those who were present at last night's meeting: T. C. Holmes, R. O. Cochran, J. Hope Tigner, R. F. Cox, L. O. Turner, H. C. Plake, E. T. Luckie, Herbert Kaiser, M. F. Ramsey, Mercer W. Gilmer, B. F. Thompson, R. W. Barnwell, W. A. Sharp, J. H. Whitten, A. J. Mayfield, Thomas R. Finney, D. C. Smith, W. H. S. Hamilton, John J. Woodside, J. C. Sturgen, R. W. Maclagan, L. M. Anderson, Van B. Smith, C. H. Girardeau, Fred P. Cook, L. C. Green, M. C. Kiser, H. J. Thurman, Sam J. Winn, Charles D. Hurt, H. W. Dews, W. A. Foster, J. W. Dobbins, S. L. Dallas, J. E. McCullough, Ben H. Treadwell, Eugene S. Kelly, E. Morris, Harris G. White, M. L. Thrower, G. W. Wight, C. P. Glover.

term. I am a Jeffersonian democrat and believe in rotation in office. A new broom sweeps clean. The incumbent says he just wants it for one more term. He says this is his last race. No one in the district takes him seriously when he makes this statement because he has been saying this for the last ten years.

Only Wants Two Terms.

"I only want the office for two terms. I do not want a homestead on it, and if I can get it just for two terms I will get out of the way for some other young man in the district. I know that I am running against two powerful rings. One in Macon, the Bibb county ring of lawyers and politicians, who have been enjoying the emoluments of office to my own personal knowledge from the United States senate down to the superior court clerk of the county for the last twenty-two years, and there has been no chance for any countryman, however ambitious and deserving, to get an office unless he belonged to the ring.

"The lamented late Hope Polhill is the only young man who ever smashed the ring. And his political life was very brief. He could not stand the pressure. He was crushed politically to death. It would be the proudest moment of my life if I could mash this political ring in Macon. I want to see a brand-new judge of the superior court elected and a brand-new solicitor general nominated, and I hope a brand-new congressman in the person of John Randolph Cooper.

The Flint Judicial Ring.

"There is another ring that I want to tell you about. It consists of the lawyers of the Flint judicial circuit. All of the lawyers in the Flint circuit but two are for my brother Wise. I have heard of corners in cotton and corners in meat, but I have never yet heard of a corner in lawyers before. I suppose my friend Wise, by the power of his office or because the lawyers want to get rid of him of the Flint circuit as solicitor, or for some other reason has all the lawyers supporting him. My friend Wise should resign his office as solicitor of the Flint judicial circuit or get out of the race for congress. He should put himself upon an equality with me. A solicitor general is a powerful man in a community. He is supposed to be a minister of justice and the people really are afraid of him. He has an advantage of me in the contest by reason of holding on to this office. So I am making my appeal to the common people, to the rank and file. I make my appeal to the American laboring man. If I go to congress I will not represent either a ring of lawyers or politicians, but I will represent the common people together with all other classes alike.

"The truth is I am the only real genuine candidate in the race who is the friend to the laboring man.

"My brother Bartlett is rich, inherited a fortune and has grown rich in office, having drawn over $150,000 the United States treasury and has been having a good time in Washington.

"And my brother Wise has been prosecuting people and sending them to the penitentiary and keeping everything he made and I understand he is pretty well off in this world's goods.

"I have been defending the poor man all over three states. Oftentimes I have appealed the poor man's case to the highest court in the world and paid the way of the case out of my own pocket. So you see, gentlemen, I am the only friend in the race to the poor man.

"I am a self-made man. I have made my way in the learned profession without influence, money or friends. I have succeeded as a criminal lawyer with all the solicitors general fighting me, and I think I am going to congress in spite of the solicitors general. I am the only candidate in the race who never held public office.

Wants to Make a Speech.

"I want to go to congress just long enough to make a speech against the power of the federal supreme court. I want to advocate a law that will compel the supreme court of the United States to enforce the fourteenth amendment as to a poor man as well as to the rich. I favor a law to grant paroles to life prisoners. I am in favor of electing the federal judges by the people, and then they will respect the petition of the poor as well as the rich. I am in favor of cleaning out the Ocmulgee river and making it navigable from Macon to the sea. I am in favor of compulsory education. I am in favor of equality before the law. I do not believe that any man's life or property should be taken except by due process of law. The greatest plank in my platform is my desire to serve the people."

SENATE PASSES COOSA DAM BILL

Measure Permitting Development of Water Power Now Goes to the House.

Washington, August 16.—Construction of a dam across the Coosa river in Alabama for water power purposes was authorized in a bill passed by the senate today. An amendment by Senator Poindexter providing for a tax of 1 per cent on the net earnings of the grantee was voted down.

The measure now goes to the house.

J. G. Owens.

J. G. Owens, 51 years old, died Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence, 191 South Humphreys street. He leaves a wife and four children. The funeral will be held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock from the Glenn Street Baptist church, Rev. S. C. Williams, pastor, officiating, and interment will be in Greenwood. The pallbearers will be six members of Georgia lodge, No. 45, R. R. C. of A.

DISEASES OF MEN

I HAVE not hesitated in the past to denounce the methods of those fakers who claim to cure in a few days what all well-posted physicians know to be impossible. I claim that cases of stricture, deep urethral troubles, kidney and bladder affections are worthy of most careful attention, but the welfare of the patient must be considered first of all, and I believe that these cases frequently are gouged and bruised to the patient's detriment, when more careful and tender care would save much suffering and cure much quicker. My office has made a reputation for attention to detail and careful methods, backed up by the best laboratory equipment methods possible, and those who will appreciate the best I will always be pleased to have consult me or write me for information.

Lily of France Corsets

These lovely corsets, well known for their unusual gracefulness and interesting new style points, are now in our Corset Department.

France has learned that women are most beautiful when they are most healthy. That means that we may have natural corset lines.

Our Paris correspondent announces to us that the woman whose corset is obvious to herself or anyone else, is to be hopelessly unfashionable this season, and we are glad of it. Lines must flow naturally from very modest bust to close hips, no hard lines to show where the corset begins, dives in, or—this is the point: the new note in the LILY OF FRANCE is the proper bending of bone and material, and this feature, found in its ability to reduce and cancel large hips, allows the hip to flow into lithe natural lines, not spread, not packed, but producing in each individual figure an impression of unbroken line which is as near the Classic figure as modern clothes will allow. We invite you to see the fall 1912 models.

GIRL DRIVES NEEDLE INTO A MAN'S HEAD

Los Angeles, August 17.—Colvin H. Bullard, formerly a postoffice inspector, is at the point of death from a wound made by a sacking needle in his right temple. The needle had been driven 3 inches into his head when he was found in the cemetery at New Hall, found.

There were evidences of a struggle. Torn pieces of a photograph of a young woman, upon which was written "From your Bakersfield sweetheart," were found nearby. Bullard's wife lives in Bakersfield.

The police are searching for a young woman said to have been seen with Bullard two hours before he was found.

ONE TERM AMENDMENT SIDETRACKED IN SENATE

Washington, August 17.—The constitutional amendment proposed by Senator Works limiting the tenure of office of the president to a single six-year term, was sidetracked in the senate today until Monday. The senate spent the greater part of the day over the conference report on the Indiana appropriation bill.

Senators grew tired of the discussion, and several times during the day points of no quorum brought the weary lawmakers reluctantly from cloak rooms.

Finally the discussion became involved and despairing of final action on the report today the senate objected until Monday, when Senator Cummins, in charge of the six-year term resolution, will press it for action.

NEGRESS ARRESTED FOR PULASKI JAIL DELIVERY

Macon, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—The local deputy sheriffs today arrested Cherry Donaldson, a negress, whom they have reason to believe is responsible for the jail delivery at Hawkinsville Thursday night. The woman's husband, John Donaldson, held for murder, was one of the prisoners who escaped. He was visited in the jail by his wife earlier in the week and the latter carried him a basket filled with foodstuff. On the inside of a loaf of bread she is alleged to have smuggled her husband the saws and the pistol Donaldson is now armed with. The woman admits carrying the pistol to her husband in the loaf of bread, but has made no statement about the saws.

T. P. A. PRESIDENT GIVES SLATON 135 COUNTIES

Albany, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Colonel D. Fleming, president of the Travelers' Protective association of Georgia, predicted this morning Slaton would carry 135 counties Wednesday. He has not missed the past four governors' elections six counties.

That Piano

You have been wanting one a long time, and you have been waiting for a good opportunity to get a good one cheap. Well, that's the condition of things at this store right now—today.

We knew the pianos would have to be mighty good and the prices mighty low and the terms mighty easy, to make this sale a success during the month of August. But that's exactly what we have done, and the fact that so many pianos have been sold to discriminating, exacting, hard-to-please people, both in and out of Atlanta, proves it.

This is not an ordinary sale of cheap second-hand pianos; on the contrary, it's a high-class sale of high-grade pianos—pianos that we absolutely guarantee, and at the lowest prices ever offered in Atlanta.

MISGUIDED ONES WOULD STIR UP OLD SECTIONAL FEELING

In a correspondence between W. T. Rogers, of Knoxville, Tenn., a confederate veteran and one of the oldest officials and employees of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, and D. A. Dorsey, of Portsmouth, Ohio, a veteran of the federal army, the fact is brought out that there is an effort in some sections of the north to stir sectional feeling by attempting to circulate the report that the south is living in hope of a second secession.

Of course the suggestion is as absurd as it is false and Mr. Dorsey gives no credence to it, stating it merely as a matter of hearsay which had come to him.

Mr. Dorsey thanks Mr. Rogers for a booklet sent to him and says:

He Likes Wilson.

"From what I have written you you know my idea of the feeling which ought to exist between the confederate and federal veterans.

"As the campaign is coming on, we talked matters over. Some think the south feels that they have been deprived of their rights and their living under the government by coercion, against their will, and are living in hopes of resurrecting the confederacy at some opportune time.

"The nomination of Woodrow Wilson a Virginian whose wife was a Georgian, and Governor Marshall, whose ancestors were Virginians, leads some to fear there is a little too much southern blood in the candidates, and, therefore, they hesitate to vote for them.

"I certainly do not share in that belief. My understanding is that the south claims to be as much devoted to the union as any of us, notwithstanding her mistake in going into the confederate movement fifty years ago. Despite her brave, loyal and patriotic fight for the confederacy, my understanding is that she regards the lost cause hopelessly lost, lost for all time and eternity.

"From the time I first saw a mention of Mr. Wilson as a possible candidate for the presidency, with a picture in a magazine article, I told my friends that he would be our next president. I am an old republican, but I believe I would like to vote for Mr. Wilson, and I like to have some good authority for refuting any expressions of a fear of even a mere attempt at the resurrection of the lost cause. Would not the whole south feel better, more at home like, if the democratic party should win in this campaign? It seems to me that she already catches the inspiration of the renewed confidence in her good institutions. Was not the presentation of a new silk flag to the Confederate Veterans' home at New Orleans by a G. A. R. post at Boston and the unfurling thereof over the home a beautiful instance? I like Mr. Taft very well, but I believe I like Mr. Wilson better, and there are a number of reasons why I believe a change of administration would be for the best for the whole country."

Mr. Rogers replied, thanking Mr. Dorsey for his letter and expressing the view that thousands of federal veterans would undoubtedly support the democratic candidate.

"I cannot conceive where the idea originated," he said, "except that it be political buncombe used by the Taft or Roosevelt forces that if a southern man should be elected, it would again bring on secession.

"While many people speak of our lost cause, we feel and have been sustained in many decisions by supreme courts, that the cause we fought for was not lost, viz., states 'rights. We then believed, and we still believe, that states, as well as cities, have a right to govern and make laws for themselves, so long as those laws do not conflict with the constitution and laws of the United States."

Mr. Rogers illustrates his point with an interesting anecdote about the "forty acres and a mule," and says:

Loyal to the Union.

"I further believe that if any foreign foe (as was demonstrated in the Spanish war), should attack this government of ours, the south could and would preserve this union intact. I am surprised to think or hear that there are any who speak or even believe what you have mentioned with reference to our feeling sore and wanting to change the form of government from what it is now.

"It is true we believe that in the administration of governmental affairs the south is entitled to the same consideration as any other section of this country; and I further believe that there are more loyal citizens to this government, more true American patriots to the population, in the south than in the east or north.

"I believe we have more true loyal American patriots because we have more native born. We have not the amount of foreign population that the north and east has, and that is what I base my claim on.

"Again let me assure you that I do not believe that it is your comrades who wore the blue that are expressing fears that if a southern man should get to be president, it might give us an advantage, dangerous to this union, unless it be some fellow who has never traveled or read or come in contact with the soldier element of the south.

"To me it looks as if a great division and disruption has been made in the republican party by the bull moose, T. R. I cannot see anything to prevent a democratic president, for the next four years, and his name will be Woodrow Wilson."

Atlanta's Best Known and Most Popular Clothing Salesmen Now Members of the Recently Reorganized Carlton Shoe and Clothing Company.

MR. L. B. HAMBRIGHT.

MR. GEORGE W PAYNE.

MR. A. W. TOLLESON.

The recently reorganized Carlton Shoe and Clothing Company takes pleasure in announcing the above three well-known gentlemen in its incorporation. They are landmarks in the retail clothing history of Atlanta, and enjoy a flattering clientele. Through their inherent integrity, courtesy and geniality they have built up a loyalty of patronage that bespeaks a marked success for them in their newly-acquired location. They will be pleasantly remembered by hundreds of Atlanta's good dressers as having been connected for the past twenty years with M. R. Emmons & Co.

In joining the Carlton Shoe and Clothing Company they bring to that concern a ripened experience of the clothing business in all its details, and an intimate knowledge of the exclusive tastes of hundreds of men to whom they have successfully catered for so many years.

In their new location their best talents and efforts will be handsomely sustained in Alfred Benjamin & Co.'s "Correct Clothing for Men."

Mr. Hambright, Mr. Tolleson and Mr. Payne unite in cordially inviting the public in general and their friends in particular to call on them in their new business home, and be shown the new authoritative styles in men's wear for fall.

SCHOOLS TO WIN BY HARRIS BILL

It is estimated that the district agricultural schools of Georgia will get between $30,000 and $40,000 more annually as the result of an amendment to one of the Ault bills put through by Senator W. J. Harris, of the thirty-eighth district, on the last day of the senate's session.

In the session of 1911 Senator Harris introduced a bill cutting down the fees of oil inspectors from an average of $30 to $40 per car to $3 per car. This bill passed the senate and went over to the house, where it seems to have been pigeonholed. Time and again Mr. Harris went before the rules committee of the house, finally attending its last meeting of the 1912 session in the effort to get that committee to give his bill a place on the calendar, so that it would have a chance for enactment. But the committee did nothing with it. Attention is called to the fact, by the way, that both Hooper Alexander of DeKalb and Joe Hill Hall of Bibb, candidates for governor, were members of that rules committee.

Seeing that he could do nothing in the house Mr. Harris turned attention again to efforts in the senate. On the last day of the session the Ault committee bills relating to the state department of agriculture, as passed by the house, came up for action in the senate. One of these bills related to the inspection of oils and gasoline. Mr. Harris, without stirring up any excitement, quietly offered a substitute embodying the same material as appeared in the house bill, and including a provision reducing the fees of oil inspectors from something like $40 per car to $10 per car. The substitute was read in the senate while there were standing back of the railing, it is said, some of the men who were on hand to protect the interests of the oil inspectors and to fight a reduction of their salaries. It was not noticed and the senate passed it without comment.

The house assented to the substitute, and it is now the law. Thus Senator Harris has saved to the district agricultural schools of the state 75 per cent of the amount that formerly went to the oil inspectors, and it is estimated it will give each of these schools an additional income of between $3,000 and $4,000 a year.

J. D. PRICE ADDRESSES PEOPLE OF LAGRANGE

LaGrange, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Hon. John D. Price, the "farmer" candidate for commissioner of agriculture, spent a few days in this section this week. He delivered an address to the people of LaGrange during the noon recess of the superior court on Friday. A large crowd was present to hear Mr. Price, and he apparently made many friends in this county during his trip here.

DEKALB CLAIMED FOR ALEXANDER

At Meeting Held Friday His Friends Are Enthusiastic.

A statement brought to The Constitution by a committee appointed at the meeting, says:

"An enthusiastic meeting was held at Kirkwood Friday night in the interest of Hooper Alexander. Although the weather was threatening quite a number of Mr. Alexander's friends were present, and it was the opinion of all present that Mr. Alexander would not only carry DeKalb county, but would carry it by a large majority. The speech of the evening was made by Colonel Steele, who impressed those present very much. Short speeches were made by Colonel Gillam, T. J. Lockridge, Mr. Newbern, John Low Smith, R. C. Ozmer, W. E. Saunders and others. With a few exceptions those present were strong for Alexander."

The statement concludes with some resolutions which were adopted and which are, in substance, as follows:

The resolutions begin by calling attention to the service in the legislature of Hon. Hooper Alexander, of DeKalb, "with the highest motives of patriotism and with such signal ability;" then express gratefulness to him "for the distinguished services which he has rendered not only to the county of DeKalb but also to the state at large;" and declare him a "profound scholar, a Christian gentleman, and a progressive statesman ever actuated by the purest motives and the highest ideals of civic righteousness." The resolutions then conclude as follows:

"1. That we heartily indorse the candidacy of Honorable Hooper Alexander, of DeKalb county, for governor of Georgia.

"2. That we commend him to the favorable consideration of the masses of the people of Georgia as a man eminently qualified to perform the duties of governor, in a manner to add dignity to the office and with the purpose and result of protecting the rights and interests of all the people as against the interests of the few; and, be it further resolved,

"3. That we proclaim to our fellow citizens throughout the state of Georgia that the candidacy of the Honorable Hooper Alexander for governor be accepted as a serious undertaking, for we believe that an unusual opportunity is now presented for the election of a governor by the people, rather than by the politicians."

"GEORGIA" WILL OPEN MONTH FROM TODAY

Athens, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—One month from tomorrow the University of Georgia begins its fall term. From the correspondence with the registrar there will be nearly seven hundred men enrolled during the coming scholastic year. There were 658 men matriculated last year. Many of the men have been attending the summer school and getting ready for better work in the regular year, which begins in September.

The heads of many of the fraternities have been in the city the past week making arrangements for the chapter houses for the coming year. The new alumni hall for Y. M. C. A. gymnasium work, with the big swimming pool, is ready for the opening day. Work is progressing on the Peabody building for the occupancy of the school of education and the department of business administration by the first of next year. Quite a number of assistants have been added to the various departments, and the outlook is good for "old Georgia."

FARMERS' UNION TO MEET AUGUST 27TH

The Farmers' union will hold one of its most important meetings at Red Men's wigwam, 86 Central avenue, Atlanta, Ga., August 27 and 28.

The stockholders of the Union Phosphate company and the stockholders of the Carmical Implement company hold their annual meeting at this time.

The National Warehouse company has been thoroughly organized in some states, and the work of the organization is now in progress in other southern states. This company is preparing to finance and market the south's crop this year.

Hon. V. Otis Robertson, of Jackson, Miss., general counsel for the National Warehouse company, will address the farmers present on the night of August 27. He is prepared to answer every question that may be asked concerning this corporation.

Special rates have been arranged, and all persons attending should make inquiry for these special rates, and if the agent is not instructed concerning the reduced rates, simply buy a ticket to the nearest important railroad point and from there buy a round-trip ticket.

The invitation to attend this meeting is extended to all active and delinquent members of the Farmers' union.

SHACKELFORD RECEIVER FOR WEBB & CRAWFORD

Athens, Ga., August 17.—(Special.—Frank C. Shackelford, a prominent attorney here, has been named by Referee Frank L. Upson, as receiver for the wholesale grocery firm of Webb & Crawford, a petition of bankruptcy and receiver having been filed in the United States court wit.. Deputy Clerk W. G. Cornett, in this place. The moving creditors are Mrs. E. J. Hunter, Mrs. J. C. Hunter and Mrs. E. J. Browning.

The liabilities of the firm will run to near $200,000, and the failure is the largest, with one exception, that has occurred in this part of the state in half a century.

Mr. Shackelford is also made by the court custodian for the private business of J. M. Webb, president of the company. The busin[illegible] will be operated by the receiver for a time at least, and many of the present office, warehouse and sale force will be retained.

Secures the Agency of North British and Mercantile of London and Edinburgh.

Mathews & Hill, with offices in the Empire building, have secured one of the oldest and strongest fire institutions in the world. The North British was founded in 1809, and entered the United States in 1866. The United States assets are ten million dollars, and all losses are adjusted and paid from Atlanta.

LAGRANGE PLANNING Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

LaGrange, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—A determined effort is being made to build a Young Men's Christian association in LaGrange, and a meeting of prominent men and women to discuss preliminary plans has been called for Sunday afternoon here. A plan has been devised, and will be submitted for action. A subscription list will then be circulated among the citizens to secure necessary funds for such an institution.

The movement is fostered by the chamber of commerce, and is receiving considerable support locally. A plot and building are under option already, but no definite purchase has been made.

NO ELECTION IN HARALSON; COUNTY COMMITTEE BROKE

Buchanan, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—It seems that Haralson county will not take part in the election of state officers next Wednesday on account of the fact that the executive committee of the democratic party of Haralson county has no funds for the purpose of having tickets printed nor to pay managers and clerks for holding the election.

Chatham McBride, of Tallapoosa, states that only $25 has been received by the committee an dthat came from Hon. Gordon Lee, candidate for congress from the seventh district.

No arrangements have been made for the holding of the election, and several of the party's most prominent men say that it is not possible that it will be done, as little time is left in which to have tickets printed.

TWIN FAWNS AT KIMBALLVILLE NAMELESS; SUGGESTIONS WANTED

What names to christen the newly-born twin fawns at Kimballville farm is now puzzling the mind of the proprietor, Will V. Zimmer.

Last Wednesday Sancho, a buck from the Texas prairies, and Mex, a roe from the red old hills of Georgia, announced the birth of twin fawns at their home in the barn at Kimballville. Both the young deers are shapely and handsome, and promise to prosper as the first raised in Atlanta.

The question is, however, what to name the young animals. Mr. Zimmer has thought of the proverbial twin cognomen, "Kate" and "Duplicate." Miss Clark of the Kimball house, has suggested "Don" and "Dona," and it is probable that these names will be adopted. Outsiders are invited to suggest suitable names to Mr. Zimmer.

Friday the Kimballville farm received a shipment of fourteen Persian kittens, young cats with long hair and bushy tails. Another new exhibition recently received is a shipment of twelve Mexican parrots, six red-headed ones and six yellow-headed ones.

With new shipments and new family additions, the Kimballville farm is finding its quarters filled to the utmost capacity.

BLALOCK NAILS LAST CARD OF WATSON'S MAN BROWN

To the Public:

An open letter appeared in yesterday's Constitution, purporting to be written by Watson's candidate for commissioner of agriculture, J. J. Brown, and addressed to me.

I have not received any such letter, and the only notice I have of it is through the public prints.

I do not propose to waste time addressing letters to Watson's man, Brown, but I simply desire to notice the trumped-up charges he makes in his card.

As in all of Brown's previous communications, it is perfectly palpable that Watson wrote this last open letter to me. It bears all the ear-marks of Watson's style of campaigning.

First: Watson's man, Brown, says that prior to the last session of the general assembly I met a fertilizer manufacturer at the Kimball house and told him I would see that no bill hostile to the manufacturers would be introduced if they would put up fifteen to twenty thousand dollars for my campaign fund.

I charge that this is simply one of Watson's campaign lies, without a word of truth in it. I do not even think that the puppet candidate Brown has enough ingenuity to invent such a lie as this. It could only emanate from his master, Watson.

It will be noted that Watson's man, Brown, does not give the name of the alleged fertiliber manufacturer to whom he claims I made these remarks, nor does he give the name of any person who heard it. This alone shows that it is a falsehood made out of whole cloth. If any reputable man heard such a conversation, why is Watson's man, Brown, afraid to give his name?

Secondly: Watson's man, Brown, in his second charge says that I assured the manufacturers of fertilizer that I would not hurt a hair of their heads if they came across. This is likewise wholly false.

The third charge of Watson's man, Brown, is that I said the fertilizer manufacturers could trust me if they raised fifteen to twenty thousand dollars, and that if I were elected I would be commissioner in fact as well as in name, and that I would send my running-mate, E. Cabiness, on the road and keep him out of the office during the fertilizer season.

This is such an ingenious and such an unusual lie that nobody but Tom Watson could have invented it.

J. J. Brown and Watson have been together for three days—notably in Barnesville, in Gainesville and in Atlanta. If Watson stays with him much longer there is no telling what kind of a new lie will come out on me between now and election day.

This last card of Watson's man, J. J. Brown, shows conclusively what I said in my first card—that is: that the fertilizer trust owns Brown entirely.

FLYNT REPLIES TO TRAMMELL

Candidate for Railroad Commissioner Replies to Recent Statement From His Adversary.

The headlines of Mr. Trammell's epistle are great, very great; why it recalls Paul Revere's ride, etc. As to the balance of his very lengthy ad he reminds me of the cuttlefish, simply trying to muddy the waters while he makes his get-away.

Now, my dear Paul, I know that you would like in this way to escape from your record, but you shall not do so, not until you have explained to the people why you reversed yourself "in re" the North Georgia Power company's application for capitalization, and Colonel Oliver Starr's connection therewith. I think that Mr. Starr is willing to confess that he was employed and did represent the above-mentioned company.

I understand that some of your wise friends insisted that he make public acknowledgment of his connection as counsel for this company, but perhaps you thought it best for your candidacy that he remain silent. As a matter of fact, I think so, too. However, be it known that he has never made denial.

And you think that you threw consternation in my "camp" when you asked that I produce the name of the gentleman who wrote the letter which I read at Newnan? Why, you foolish thing, I purposely withheld the name of my own volition, for I knew that you would make a bluff, as you did, and I further knew that your little game would be called. However, Captain Hardwick is not the only prominent Dalton citizen who has written me concerning your great lack of business ability.

Now, as to the midnight excursion to your city. I will only say that I reached your city early in the evening, but it did take until nearly midnight for your fellow citizen to relate the details of your gross incompetency and mismanagement during your connection with Dalton's public affairs, as mayor, and from which they claim not to have recovered yet. With these matters I have no concern, but will, with the help of the people, endeavor to keep you from mismanaging the state's affairs as railroad commissioner.

After you had given the public a rehash your administration of the municipal affairs of Dalton, while you were mayor, you conclude by saying: "Is not that as good a business record, Jim, as you made, when you allowed a certain candidate for a statehouse office to work you into paying for advertising in the papers of the state, two-thirds of which he got himself?" Now, in reply to your question, I will tell you frankly that I think the two transactions are about on a parity, as to business judgment; the only difference being that in your mismanagement of municipal and state affairs you robbed the people of their rights, and I only allowed myself to be robbed. Why did you not give the name of this "certain candidate" to whom you refer? He is a friend and supporter of yours, and would not run against you because of his personal friendship for you, and he says that you are supporting him. After I learned this I was not surprised to learn that he was crooked. Yes, as crooked as your record in this water power proposition appears to be; and, besides, my dear Paul, he came mighty near "working" you, too, didn't he? And if it had not been for our friend, Perry, I think the same political promoter would have "done" you "one" in the same way, and you his friend and supporter, too.

Now, as to my record, which you have been delving into, permit me to say that I voted for and helped to pass the only sensible child labor bill that was introduced while I was a representative and senator and I have no apologies to offer you or anyone else for having helped to defeat the miserable makeshift bills that I voted against.

Now as to my votes on the occupation and income tax bills, referred to in the house journal 1904, page 487, and senate journal 1907, pages 647-8, I will say that those votes were cast against amendments, which certain members sought to tack onto the general tax act, which was not the proper place for them. By the way, a large majority of the members, both of the house and senate, voted with me, including such names as Messrs. Alexander, T. S. Felder, J. W. Wise, Dick Dobbs, Z. V. Peacock, J. E. Hayes, J. M. Slaton and others. Now, Mr. Trammell, if you had ordinary intelligence I would explain to you that those amendments were properly defeated, but, really, I haven't the time to drill an idea into your thick head. Your recent vote in the North Georgia Power company matter shows conclusively that you are incapable of judging between good and bad legislation. Therefore, I will suggest that you never attempt to criticise the vote of any sensible man again.

Yes, Mr. Trammell, I am the same J. J. Flynt who represented Spalding county and the twenty-sixth senatorial district for nine years. I presume, too, that I am the "gallant Jim Flynt" who is kept at the Hon. Tom Watson's masthead. Mr. Watson's support of my candidacy was voluntary on his part, and I am proud indeed to receive it. Did not the Hon. Hoke Smith seek and gladly receive Mr. Watson's support? Did not Governor Brown do likewise? Is not one of Georgia's candidates for governor now gladly receiving it? Did not another distinguished Georgian who was a candidate withdraw from the race because he could not get it? Would not the other two candidates be glad to receive it? Yes, I am glad to have Mr. Watson's support, and after the smoke of the battle has cleared away, and my victory won, I shall be gallant enough to acknowledge my appreciation of this distinguished Georgian's support. God forbid that I should do as some others have done—seek and accept his aid in their dire distress and trouble, then, when I can use him no more, denounce and abuse him. Now, Mr. Trammell, I will say for your especial benefit that Tom Watson's name and fame will continue to ride the waves of the centuries like a lifeboat when you will have been consigned to the ignominous oblivion that awaits you.

I told you that the people would like for you to answer certain questions that I have propounded to you, viz.: explain why you reversed yourself in the North Georgia Power company case; explain who contributed a large sum to a certain gentleman's campaign fund in order to keep down opposition to yourself.

Now, while you are pondering over those questions, here is another: Explain to the people why you sought to goldbrick the taxpayers of this state by selling to the state a certain piece of worthless boggy land at Chattanooga, containing about 40 acres, for $40,000, and but for the intervention of Georgia's governor you would have "worked" the state just as your friend, a "certain candidate" for a statehouse office, "worked" me. And is not your rabid animosity to Georgia's present governor due to the fact that he saved the state, but caused you to lose a $10,000 fee, by reason of your failure to to put over the job?

Please answer these questions, and then I have some more that I would like to propound to you, for you are such a good, nice boy, who answers questions so beautifully.

P. S.—Paul, I want to be fair with you; the only office that you ever held where you exercised any diligence, was when you held the Revenue Collector's job. I have heard that you pursued those poor north Georgia mountaineers relentlessly.

Again P. S.—Since writing the above, I have heard that your cousin and business associate, Mr. Oliver Starr, has confessed. Is it true? If not, you had better have him do so. Respectfully,

J. J. FLYNT.

HANDSOME NEW BUILDINGS GOING UP AT FITZGERALD

New Baptist church at Fitzgerald to cost, when complete, about $70,000.

Fitzgerald, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Great activity in all lines of business, coupled with unusual activity in civic matters, makes Fitzgerald a very lively place these days.

Mayor A. B. Cook, under whose progressive administration the town is developing as never in its history, is exerting himself in every way to build up the place along substantial lines.

Mrs. J. B. Roberts, who is running the large tourist hotel, the Lee-Grant, reports unusually heavy business, and that ahead of the regular season.

The town is paving fourteen blocks with vitrified brick, at a cost of about $150,000, and many brick buildings are going up, including a handsome new home for the Third National bank, of which the mayor, Hon. A. B. Cook, is president.

PENDLETON, IN EDITORIAL, REPLIES TO THE JOURNAL

Macon, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Editorially, Charles R. Pendleton, editor of The Macon Telegraph, and recently chairman of the Georgia delegation to the national democratic convention, will reply Sunday morning to the charge of The Atlanta Journal that the chairman of the Georgia delegation failed to notify the secretary of the appointment of the man chosen to represent Georgia at the notification of the democratic nominees. The Journal claims that through the failure of the Georgia chairman to notify the convention secretary the names of the Georgians were left off the notification document.

Mr. Pendleton in his editorial will print a copy of a letter written to Secretary Urey Woodson on July 15, 1912, the day the appointments were made, giving the names of the men appointed. Following is a copy of the letter:

"Macon, Ga., July 15, 1912.—Hon. Urey Woodson, Congress Hotel, Chicago, Ill.—Dear Mr. Woodson: By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Georgia delegation to the national democratic convention at Baltimore, I have appointed the following: On the notification committee to visit Seagirt to notify Hon. Woodrow Wilson of his nomination Hon. James J. Flynt, of Griffin, Ga.; to notify Thomas R. Marshall of his nomination for the office of vice president, Hon. Robert G. Dickerson, of Homerville, Ga. Also as the Georgia honorary vice president of the convention, Hon. W. G. Brantley, of Brunswick, Ga. Yours, etc.

"C. R. PENDLETON,
"Chairman Georgia Delegation."

MAKES TRIP ON CRUTCHES FROM NEW YORK TO ATLANTA

A trip on foot from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to Jacksonville, Fla., has just been completed by Ralph D. Tompkins, a one-legged youth, who arrived in Atlanta last night.

Hobbling across the country between two crutches at the rate of twenty miles a day, young Tompkins has finished a journey that has no parallel for uniqueness. He did not start out to win a bet. When he kissed his parents good-bye at his home in Poughkeepsie he declared that he was going out into the big world in search of fame. It has come to him through interesting stories that have been published in newspapers in city, town, village and hamlet through which he has passed.

Signs Vaudeville Contract.

Tompkins has succeeded in attracting the attention of the representative of a vaudeville booking house in Atlanta, and he is now about to taste the joy that comes with fame. He has signed up a contract, and within a few days he will make his debut before the American people. His act will consist of a song or two, a lecture, and stories he has collected during his travels.

"When I left New York state I made up my mind to make the trip to Jacksonville in 100 days, but I beat the time nine days," he said. "The trip was most interesting when I got into the south."

Tompkins lost his leg in a railroad accident some years ago. He was handicapped in every job he tackled, and decided that he would make himself famous and then reap a harvest as the result.

He made one trip from Chicago to New York in ninety-nine days. On that trip he made his best record, walking thirty-two and one-half miles in eight and one-half hours.

Has Many Signatures.

In every city he has visited Tompkins has secured something. He has the signatures of prominent men all over the country.

Tompkins will remain in Atlanta several days. He has hopes that the theatrical contract he is about to enter will give him an opportunity to appear before the people of Atlanta.

Although he has not begged a cent, Tompkins has been well supplied with money. He has filled engagements at moving picture theaters and made a success with his unique act.

CHILDREN WORKING HARD FOR PLAYGROUND RALLY

The playground rally, which takes place on the ball ground at Grant park next Friday, August 23, will be one of the most entertaining fetes ever held in Atlanta. There will probably be over 1,000 children on the ground at one time and all engaged in carrying out an attractive and especially arranged program.

All of the nine playgrounds in the city will be represented. The ball ground will be divided into nine sections so that each playground will have a separate section. A pole decorated with the playground colors will designate which playground occupies a particular section.

All racing contests will be from the various sections towards the center of the ball ground, and this will give the racing a wheel effect.

The children will wear badges to show to which playground they belong. The children of the Pine Hill playground, for instance, will wear badges of brown pine cones, tied with green ribbon, as that playground is shaded with pine trees.

The program so far as arranged will be as follows:

Music.

Relay racing, 50 yards dash.

Bean bag racing.

Music.

Crossing the river, a test in broad jumping.

Music.

Volley ball.

Circle dodge ball, a test of skill.

The snail game by all the sections.

The announcement of winners.

Each feature on the program will last from ten to fifteen minutes.

The music will be furnished by Professor Wedemeyer and he will so arrange his program as to have his selections harmonize with the games.

Special cars will carry the children to the park and back to the city.

The games will begin at 3:30 o'clock and will last one hour and a half.

If you intend to move September 1st, call at our Main or Ivy office at once and sign contract for telephone service. Be sure and give at least two weeks' notice in advance and state present location and address to which you are moving. With advance notice we will move your telephone to new location on date desired, or as soon thereafter as is possible.

MISSIONARY LEAGUE WILL MEET IN ROME

Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Professor Charles R. Foster, of Wesleyan Female college, spent today in Rome making arrangements for the entertainment of the seventh annual convention of the Georgia Students' Missionary league, which will hold its sessions here November 8, 9 and 10.

Begun eight years ago as the result of the Students' Volunteer Movement meeting held in Nashville, the league now numbers among its strongest indorses twenty-five of the most prominent Georgia schools and colleges. In seven years it has increased mission study classes in the south from 800 to more than 3,000 members, and has four active representatives in the foreign field.

Many distinguished missionary workers, such as John Mett and Robert Speer, will be present and deliver addresses. The session will be held at New Shorter, and will be opened to the public. At the last convention, held at Milledgeville, more than 200 delegates were in attendance, and it is expected that fully twice that number will be at the sessions held here this fall.

JURY'S VERDICT FREES LINDSEY

He Was Accused of Murdering Officer McPherson at West Point.

LaGrange, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—After a trial occupying three days' time in the superior court, the jury in the case of the state against Charles Lindsey, of West Point, charged with the murder of Patrolman MacPherson in that town, brought in a verdict of not guilty, and Lindsey was discharged from custody. He has been in jail six months, in all, awaiting trial on the charge.

At the first trial, in March, he was given a mistrial because a jury could not agree on a verdict. He was then remanded to jail, and again brought up for trial on Thursday last. R. F. Echols, also charged with murder in the same case, is automatically released from the charge because of the trial of Lindsey, because the same facts and evidence were adduced in his case.

The history of the case is that MacPherson, who was a policeman employed by the town of West Point, encountered Lindsey and Echols after they had attended a moving picture show in town. It was alleged that there was bad blood between the men and the policeman, and the state produced evidence tending to show conspiracy on the part of the accused to do away with the policeman. The accused were railroad men, and employed by the Atlanta and West Point Railroad company. Both men are going back to West Point to live, and probably will resume their former occupations.

DR. W. W. LANDRUM TO PREACH HERE

Former Pastor of First Baptist Church Spending Vacation in the City.

Dr. W. W. Landrum, pastor of the Broadway Baptist church of Louisville, Ky., who was for thirteen years pastor of the First Baptist church here, is in the city spending his vacation, and will preach for four Sundays at the Ponce de Leon Baptist church.

Dr. Landrum has thousands of friends in Georgia who will be delighted to know that he is here, and that they may again have the privilege of hearing him.

Dr. Landrum's friends will be delighted to know that his health is excellent, and during the past three years he has been doing more active work than ever before. At Louisville he is not only the pastor of the church, but conducts a men's class with 150 members every Sunday morning at Sunday school just before the morning service.

In addition to that, he has organized a brigade, including three regiments of boys, which is an organization somewhat in advance of the boy scout idea. With his brigade of boys Dr. Landrum encamps every year in Indiana, holding his headquarters in a tent, and wearing the brigadier general's uniform.

His influence through the largest Baptist church in Kentucky and through the men's class and the boys' brigade is, if anything, wider than ever, and even with that arduous work Dr. Landrum's health is better than ever. He will be welcomed by a large congregation at the Ponce de Leon Baptist church Sunday morning.

Dr. Landrum is at present the guest of George M. Brown, on Peachtree street. He will spend several days with other friends during his stay here.

M'KINNEY'S PARTNER SUPPORTING SLATON

J. Howell Green, of DeKalb county, senior member of the law firm of Green, Tilson & McKinney, will vote for and support John M. Slaton for governor, according to a statement from the Slaton campaign committee, notwithstanding the fact that he is a resident of the same county as Hooper Alexander, and is a law partner of Charles D. McKinney, Mr. Alexander's campaign manager.

Mr. Green called up Mr. Slaton Saturday and told him he didn't want him to be under any misapprehension as to his attitude; that he intended to support him despite the fact that he lived in Mr. Alexander's county, and that he was associated in business with Mr. Alexander's campaign manager. Mr. Green further authorized the publication of his statement to this effect.

ONLY OFFICIAL BALLOTS CAN BE USED WEDNESDAY

The county executive committee has issued an order to all election managers not to allow any but the official ballot used in the state election on Wednesday.

This was done because it was learned that some of the candidates, thinking that any ballot could be used, so it conformed in a general way to that printed by the committee, had special ballots printed on which their names were in larger type than those of their opponents.

The executive committee has its own ballots, prepared under the rules of the state committee, and only this ballot can be voted on Wednesday. The ballots will be handed out by the election managers just as is done in the city primary under the Australian system.

THEATERS

Popular Vaudeville.

The sort of popular vaudeville you have been hearing so much about will be inauguaretd at the Forsyth this Monday. There is a vast and splendid difference between popular vaudeville as served from the Keith offices and that sort of variety that is called vaudeville and offered at cheap prices in small theaters and little store places. Every act that will come to the Forsyth will have stood the Keith test and is qualified to fill a position on any vaudeville bill.

First-class theaters have been devoted to the policy within the last six months, and in Richmond, Norfolk, Nashville, Birmingham and Savannah in the Wells circuit, the policy is so liked that the big theaters are not large enough to accommodate the vast crowds that seek admission.

Every part of the famous Forsyth establishment will be continued when the popular vaudeville season starts. The box office will be open as has been the custom daily, and seats may be reserved in advance for matinee and first night performances. It is agreed, however, that seat holders release all claim to seats if not occupied before 8:20 at night.

Five selected vaudeville acts and two reels of high class motion pictures make up each program of popular vaudeville. The five acts to appear the first week are regularly on the circuit and represent the class of vaudeville the theatergoers may expect. There is a most pleasing variety in the program and some of the quintet of numbers have enjoyed important vaudeville positions for many seasons. A star feature of the bill will be Jimmy Rosen, the delightful little comedian who was last seen in Atlanta at the Grand, when he succeeded Master Gabriel in the title role of "Buster Brown." There are a great many critics who went on record with the declaration that Rosen was superior to Gabriel in the part. At any rate the little fellow is mighty clever and in his sketch, "Cupid Incorporated," it may be anticipated that he will offer a playlet that will have its big value. Another feature will be the first appearance here of Kenneey and Mack, the most original of all the comedy acrobats in vaudeville. These men are really so original that they are cleverly interesting. They are away from the usual routine followed by the average act of its sort and when they have concluded their contribution it is predicted that Atlanta theatergoers will agree that there is something worth while in gymnastic stunts. Armstrong and Lawrence, direct from New York successes, will offer what promises to be the biggest surprise that Atlanta has had in vaudeville. They are clever singers and dancers and their act is a decided novelty. The DeMichalle Brothers, who are great favorites in the Hammerstein and Keith theaters and who are conceded to be the best of the European musical acts imported two years ago, will present an instrumental novelty that will have its worth. One of the brothers is a famous harpist and his act alone will be a treat.

The best canine entertainment in vaudeville, Al Rayno's Bull Dogs, will be a feature on the bill, and the pictures will be of the worth-while sort. Atlanta is very much interested in the venture and popular vaudeville will be welcomed by the usual representative gatherings.

Vaudeville and Pictures.

(At the Bijou.)

Another excellent line of vaudeville attractions such as has made the Bijou one of the most popular places of amusement in town, is promised for the coming week at this house. Despite the warm weather, the Bijou has been filled practically to its capacity every night, which goes to show that the patrons of amusement do not forsake the theaters in summer time when the right kind of entertainment is offered them. The shows that are being offered at the Bijou at bargain prices are remarkably clever, and one is always sure to get his money's worth at these entertainments. For the coming week four remarkably clever acts are announced, consisting of Melville and Thatcher, the Baseball Boys, a comedy skit that has scored many a hit elsewhere. Then there will be Fields and Finks, in singing, dancing and impersonations; Eddie Russell, acrobatic dancer, and finally Ernie and Ernie, in their successful variety skit entitled "Three Feet of Vaudeville." The bill from start to finish has every appearance of being up to date, classy and pleasing, and one of the best weeks of the season is anticipated. Motion pictures of the refined sort especially selected for Bijou audiences, consisting of interesting dramas and side-splitting comedies, will be shown at every performance to open and close the show. The motion pictures will be changed daily as usual. Matiness are given daily at 3 o'clock, except Saturday, when two are given, at 2:30 and 4. Night shows at 7:30 and 9.

IF LUNATICS WERE LOOSED ALEXANDER MIGHT WIN OUT

—Joe Hill Hall.

Milledgeville, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Hon. Joe Hill Hall addressed an audience at the courthouse here last night. In spite of rain quite a crowd assembled to hear him and he would have had a large audience under better weather conditions, as Mr. Hall is well known here. Most of his speech was confined to a discussion of the financial policy and condition of the state and his listeners gave him close attention throughout.

He mentioned his opponents—spoke of the record and campaign of Mr. Slaton and held up beside himself a newspaper picture of Mr. Slaton, saying, "Now here's Jack and here's me. You can take your choice."

Mr. Hall said he would not take up much time in discussing his friend, Hooper Alexander, as Hooper was impossible—that if the people of Georgia were tired of worrying about their state and government let them elect Hooper and give him charge of affairs and in six months there wouldn't be a thing left for them to worry about.

He created much laughter by saying that there was no danger of Baldwin county's going for Alexander unless the lunatics out on the hill were turned loose to vote, in which case Mr. Alexander might stand some chance.

Second Bridge for Memphis.

Washington, August 17.—After a stubborn fight in which leaders of both sides aired their views on general bridge legislation the house tonight passed a senate bill authorizing construction of a second railroad bridge across the Mississippi river at Memphis, Tenn. It carries out the plan of the Memphis and Arkansas Railroad Bridge company to provide the structure with a traffic department for horses, pedestrians and other ordinary traffic which is to become free.

JUDGE JOHN T. PENDLETON

The campaign literature of Mr. Stephens, the opponent of Hon. John T. Pendleton, is so rich in misstatements of facts and improper appeals for votes that, in the interest of truth, a reply has been thought proper.

We regret the character of his communications. Candidates for this high judicial office should be considered solely from the standpoint of merit. Demagogic clamor and false pretenses should find no place in such a campaign.

He says "friends of Mr. Stephens prepared his folder." Who are they? Where are his indorsements? Why doesn't SOMEONE besides HIMSELF say he is COMPETENT for the office? Do these "friends" have any existence in the flesh? If so, why is it the folder does not give their names?

Is the man who deliberately wrote that statement, with a full knowledge of the facts, a PROPER man to elect to this office?

WHAT ARE THE FACTS?

Two years ago he wanted to be Judge of the Superior Court, and intimated he would make the race against Hon. George L. Bell, who had demonstrated his industry, character, ability and experience as a Judge. A petition was instantly and publicly circulated which was promptly and voluntarily signed by 95 per cent of the bar, ASKING JUDGE BELL to run, and pledging him the support of the signers.

Mr. Stephens then suggested that he would make the race against Judge W. D. Ellis, who had likewise demonstrated his industry, character, ability and experience. Again 95 per cent of the total bar promptly and enthusiastically INDORSED JUDGE ELLIS, requested him to make the race, and pledged him their support.

Recently he announced that he would likely make the race against Judge John T. Pendleton. Again there was an immediate, active, earnest, universal protest on the part of the bar; again a petition was prepared REQUESTING JUDGE PENDLETON to make the race, and pledging him their active support.

When it became definitely known that Mr. Stephens would run, a meeting in behalf of Judge Pendleton was called, and this was published in The Atlanta Journal, The Atlanta Georgian and The Fulton Daily Report. A hall was obtained and an hour set. The widest possible publicity was given to the fact that the meeting would be held. It was held in an open hall where all white men friendly to the candidacy of Judge Pendleton were invited through three daily papers to be present. At that Public Meeting a large and representative body of citizens gathered for active work, and appointed an executive and general campaign committee.

It was a "CAUCUS" only in the sense that every TRADE, PROFESSION and BUSINESS INTEREST in the County was ENTHUSIASTICALLY REPRESENTED. It was "SECRET" in the sense that it was ADVERTISED to the WORLD.

Mr. Stephens KNEW THESE FACTS when he wrote the folder which reiterates the charge of a "back room caucus." And his statements are incorrect, made to the public with full knowledge of their incorrectness, and furnish ample evidence that a BETTER MAN for the office can be EASILY selected.

He says that "a few partisan lawyers interested in pending litigation" are supporting Judge Pendleton. All the lawyers representing both sides of practically all pending cases are supporting Judge Pendleton. Has Mr. Stephens ever offered, as evidence of his ability, the written statement of a single LAWYER OR CLIENT? Has he ever exhibited the written request of a single member of the Atlanta bar that he should make the race?

WHY is it the three hundred lawyers who know how the office has been conducted are SOLIDLY SUPPORTING JUDGE PENDLETON?

No one contends for an instant that the bar has the right to elect the Judge; no one pretends that the voters are bound by their indorsement.

BUT IT IS CONTENDED that they have a right to bear TESTIMONY to the public with reference to the FITNESS of one and the UNFITNESS of the other, and that this evidence should be considered by the public for what it is worth. Is the testimony of a locomotive engineer, who has spent his life in that work, worth nothing when it comes to the qualifications of another locomotive engineer? Is the testimony of a reputable, competent surgeon worth nothing upon the question of whether another surgeon is a competent and efficient operator? Are MERCHANTS not competent to testify as to the quality of the GOODS they deal in?

You are asked to consider the testimony of these lawyers in precisely the same way you would consider the testimony of other men about things connected with their own trades or business.

SPEAKING OF TESTIMONY AS TO COMPETENCY.

What evidence does Mr. Stephens offer that he is qualified to fill this office?

Judge Pendleton was Recorder, Assistant City Attorney, and general practitioner for many years. He was one of the most consistently active and successful legal advocates the Atlanta Bar ever knew. He had plenty of cases, big cases—he had cases ALL the time and not SOME of the time—BECAUSE—he was honest, industrious, able, skillful, signally competent—BECAUSE—he knew what to do, knew how to do it and did it intelligently and forcefully.

WHAT ABOUT THE LEGAL EXPERIENCE OF MR. ALEX W. STEPHENS? He says he has practiced law for "fifteen years." Did you EVER SEE him in the Courthouse? Did you ever, as party, witness, juror, or spectator, SEE him try ANY case? Did you ever HEAR of his having A CASE?

An examination of the last ten volumes of the Supreme Court Reports discloses his name in but TWO cases.

ONE was a criminal case in which his client was promptly found guilty and promptly HUNG.

THE OTHER was a civil case involving about $150, which he promptly lost in the lower court and promptly lost again in the Supreme Court.

Four points were made in the bill of exceptions. The Court declined to consider TWO of them because they were not made in the MANNER the law required.

Has he had any JUDICIAL experience?

He was appointed Auditor in the case of Noles v. Jones Mercantile Company, now pending in Fulton Superior Court. He took the Auditor's oath on March 21, 1911. He tried the case as Judge in April, 1911. The case involved $684.20. On April 13th, 1912, JUST ONE YEAR AFTER THE TRIAL WAS CONCLUDED, the plaintiff filed a rule against him asking the Superior Court to FORCE him to DECIDE THE CASE. A rule was issued by Judge George L. Bell calling on him to show cause why he had not decided this case. He filed an answer which stated, in part, that the questions involved were DIFFICULT FOR HIM TO DETERMINE and he asked to be RELIEVED of his APPOINTMENT as AUDITOR.

What do YOU think of THAT? Did you ever, in your life, hear of a RULE being issued to make a JUDGE DECIDE a case?

If he couldn't reach a conclusion in twelve months in ONE case involving $684.20, when would he be able to decide the numerous cases in Fulton Superior Court involving from TEN to TWENTY MILLIONS each YEAR?

The Superior Court can force an Auditor to decide a case. But there is NO Court which can force a Superior Court Judge to do so, and if he was on the Superior Court Bench he would be beyond the reach of CORRECTIVE RELIEF.

If Mr. Stephens has had sufficient judicial experience—

If Mr. Stephens has had sufficient legal experience—

THEN WHERE DID HE GET IT?

He says Judge Pendleton is a "chronic office seeker."

It is true he was City Recorder. Incidentally, he made a very fine officer.

It is true he was City Attorney. Incidentally, he made one of the best legal advisers the City ever had.

It is true he was appointed Judge of the Superior Court, WITHOUT SOLICITATION UPON HIS PART, when Judge Lumpkin was placed on the Supreme Court. Incidentally, he is one of the best trial Judges in Georgia.

It is further true he has been TWICE indorsed, since then, by THE PEOPLE.

But, Mr. Stephens, what about YOUR RECORD as a "CHRONIC OFFICE SEEKER"?

You ran for City Recorder.

You ran for Solicitor of the Criminal Court of Atlanta.

You ran for the Legislature from this county.

Were you ever elected to any office?

Isn't your appetite for office both VARIED and VORACIOUS?

INDORSES A NEGRO.

On December 2, 1904, Mr. Stephens indorsed a NEGRO POLITICIAN for admission to the bar. He had a legal right to do this if it met his PERSONAL TASTES AND INCLINATIONS, just as Mr. Wickersham had the right to indorse the negro Lewis for membership in the American Bar Association.

But a negro lawyer is distasteful to ninety-nine per cent of all jurors, parties, witnesses and lawyers.

Mr. Stephens was either so constituted as to be ignorant of this fact, or, knowing it, was indifferent as to the feelings of the people.

A Judge of the Superior Court ought to both KNOW and be KEENLY ALIVE to the results of his acts.

His exercise of a legal right to indorse a negro for admission was an act NOT calculated to facilitate the even, efficient operation of the legal machinery.

Mr. Stephens stated at the East Point meeting that Judge Pendleton, as Administrator of the Collier estate, had brought a suit in the Superior Court against certain parties when this case should have been brought in the City Court, the intimation being that Judge Pendleton was seeking the influence of the Superior Court in the decision.

This statement reflects no credit upon Mr. Stephens. Judge Pendleton was named by the Collier heirs as Administrator of their estate, and appointed Administrator before he was selected as Judge of the Superior Court. This estate has never been wound up, and Judge Pendleton is still the Administrator; and no RIGHT TO SUE exists in behalf of ANY ONE EXCEPT JUDGE PENDLETON AS ADMINISTRATOR. The suit was one which required EQUITABLE RELIEF. It could be brought ONLY in the Superior Court. The suit was filed and the process issued in the name of one of the other judges. Judge Pendleton is not qualified to try that case, and no one with the slightest intelligence would ever intimate that he did propose to try the case.

Either Mr. Stephens made the statement to produce an entirely improper impression, or he did not know what a petition seeking equitable relief had to be filed EXCLUSIVELY in the SUPERIOR COURT.

Is he, in EITHER EVENT, the BEST MAN for this position?

The selection of a Judge for this office is far away and beyond all partisan politics.

COLORED MURDERER GETS DEATH SENTENCE

Milledgeville, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Henry Gaylor, colored, was tried, convicted and sentenced to be hanged on September 27, in the Baldwin county superior court for the murder of Charlie Bonner, a young negro. The murder occurred in the northern part of the county in the early spring. The negroes in the community were highly incensed over the crime, and ran down the murderer themselves, captured him and brought him to jail.

MANY GEORGIANS AT WRIGHTSVILLE

Wrightsville, Beach, N. C., August 17. (Special.)—Although there have probably been more visitors to Wrightsville Beach this season from Atlanta and Georgia points than ever before, they are still coming and the hotels are crowded with the prospect of remaining so well on until the close, October 1. Heretofore it has been the custom to close the hotels September 1, in spite of the fact that the last two weeks of August and the month of September constitute the most delightful season of the year at Wrightsville. This year, because of the many inquiries for rates and accommodations for the month of September, the management of both the Seashore and Oceanic hotels have decided to keep the hotels open until October 1, and the prospects are that they will not do so in vain. The weather is delightful at the resort during September and the boating, surf bathing, sailing, etc., are much more enjoyable then than during the hot months of summer. As for the fishing, September is the premier month, and especially with reference to the more gamier varieties, such as blue fish, Spanish mackerel, channel bass and trout.

The railroads are offering reduced rates now from Atlanta and points south, and after September 1 the hotels will offer reduced rates, as an additional attraction to induce visitors to come to the beach at this most delightful season of the year.

Among the Atlanta guests at the Oceanic hotel are W. J. Springfield, Mrs. A. V. Gude, Jr., Miss Frances Sullins, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. McKenzie, J. B. Jacoway, S. Metzger, C. A. Berman, B. C. Cothran, C. E. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Anderson, J. W. Anderson and Miss Harlan.

Recent arrivals at the Seashore hotel from the Georgia metropolis included Miss Allie Sheran, Miss Maey Rails, Miss Black, Misses Rose and Mildred Converse.

Mrs. Jesse N. Couch, wife of Manager Couch, of the Oceanic, has gone to Atlanta, where she will visit Mrs. Harry Stearnes and Mrs. Joseph Raine for a few days.

Mrs. L. V. Reynolds and Miss Nellie Reynolds, of Macon, Ga., were arrivals at the Seashore Friday.

ELECTRIC LIGHT MEN ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Savannah, Ga., August 17.—The following officers were elected today by the Georgia section of the National Electric Light association at the close of a three-day session:

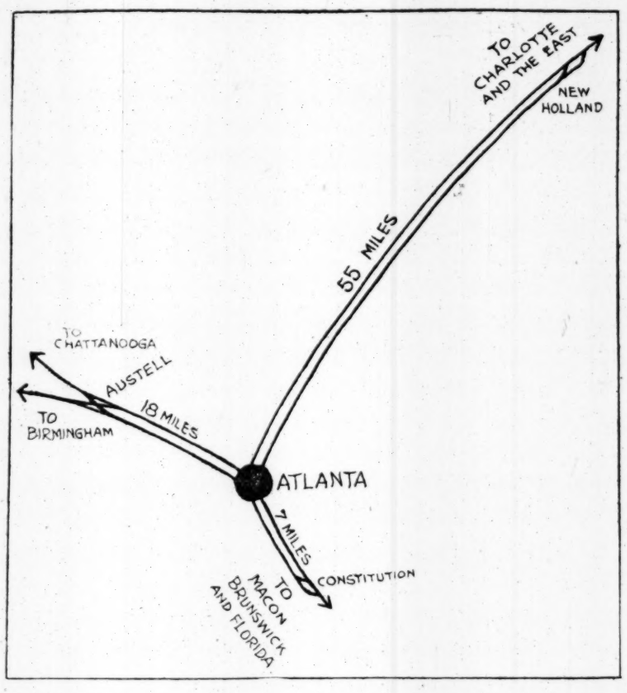
President, E. C. Deal, of the Augusta-Aiken railway and Electric corporation, Augusta; vice president, T. W. Peters, commercial agent Columbus Railroad company, Columbus, Ga.; secretary-treasurer, M. H. Hendee, of the Augusta-Aiken railway and Electric corporation, Augusta; executive committee, chairman, E. C. Roberts, commercial agent Savannah Electric company, Savannah; W. L. Southwell, the Central Georgia Power company, Macon, Ga.; C. D. Flanigan, Athens Railway and Electric company, Athens, Ga; financial and membership committee, Thomas W. Peters, Columbus Railroad company, Columbus.

KILLED BY ARSENIC PLACED IN HIS COFFEE

Harrisonburg, Va., August 17.—Arsenic placed in his coffee by unknown persons caused the death of George M. Nicholas, an eccentric Rockingham county miser, according to the verdict returned today by a coroner's jury. A broken package of arsenic was found in the house. No arrests have been made as yet, but sensational developments are expected.

The vagaries of Nicholas, who although reputed to be worth more than $250,000, dressed in rags and lived virtually the life of a recluse, had long been a source of gossip throughout the country-side. Besides himself, the only other occupant of the lonely farm house was Jane Hopkins, who had served as the miser's housekeeper for twenty-five years. She drank of th same pot of coffee which killed her employer and was made so desperately ill that her life was despaired of for several days.

NEW DOUBLE TRACK WORK UNDERTAKEN BY SOUTHERN



Double track lines of the Southern railway out of Atlanta, showing the line to Austell which has been in use for several years, the line to New Holland, now being completed, and the seven-mile line to Constitution which will be given by the three-mile extension from Roseland on which work has just begun.

Work has been begun by the Southern railway on the construction of the second main line track from Roseland to Constitution, a distance of 7 miles on the Atlanta-Macon line, giving double track for 7 miles out of Atlanta on this line. The contract was awarded to C. W. Lane & Co., an Atlanta concern, who have a large force with a steam shovel and three dump trains at work on the grading.

The completion of this work and the double tracking between Atlanta and New Holland, now nearly finished, will give the Southern double track out of Atlanta in three directions as follows: to Austell, where the lines to Chattanooga and Birmingham diverge, 18 miles; to New Holland, 2 miles above Gainesville on the old Atlanta and Charlotte Air Line, 55 miles, and to Constitution, on the line to Macon, Brunswick and Florida, 7 miles. The double track to Austell has been in service several years and part of the new double track between Atlanta and New Holland is already in service. The movement of trains in and out of Atlanta has consequently been greatly facilitated and with the two-track lines extending in three directions out of Atlanta its transportation facilities will be substantially improved.

The construction of the second track to Roseland is part of a general scheme for the improvement of the Southern's Atlanta-Macon-Jacksonville line. Last year lap sidings were put in every 5 miles between Atlanta and Macon and a number of standard passing tracks are being put in between Macon and Jesup. All this work will be completed in time to aid in moving the heavy traffic over this line in the winter season.

BIRTHDAY OF REV. SAM JONES CELEBRATED BY DESCENDANTS

Cartersville, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—About fifty of the sons, daughters, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren of the late Rev. Samuel G. Jones met at the home of Mrs. Sam P. Jones, in this city, yesterday, to celebrate the birthday of their illustrious progenitor.

The day was spent in religious and social gathering, and at the noon hour a most elegant dinner was served al fresco on the spacious and beautifully-kept lawn of Mrs. Jones' home "Roselawn." Rev. A. P. Jones, of Rome, a son of Samuel G. Jones, who has been the president of the social organization known as the "Descendants of Samuel G. Jones," presided over the gathering, and his talks during the day were filled with interest to those who had gathered. He introduced the speakers and singers, who amused and edified those present with speeches and songs. There were prayers and sacred songs, and much enjoyment was indulged in by the descendants of the famous preacher. Rev. Walt Holcomb, who became connected with the family by his marriage with Miss Julia Baxter Jones, daughter of Rev. Sam Jones, made a fine talk, and Mrs. A. B. Cunyus, a great-granddaughter, rendered several solos that deeply touched her hearers. The playing of Mrs. Pyron, another great-granddaughter, was another delightful feature of the occasion. Mrs. Sam Jones was never more gracious as a hostess than upon this occasion.

Miss Catherine Adelaide Jones, a great-great-great-granddaughter, child of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Paul Jones, was christened during the religious service that preceded dinner.

The celebration of the birthday of Rev. Samuel G. Jones was made an annual affair, and the next meeting will be held at the suburban home of Mrs. A. B. Cunyus, at Atco, near Cartersville.

RACE FOR SOLICITOR OF TOOMBS CIRCUIT

Washington, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—A hot and vigorously contested race for the solicitorship of the newly created Toombs circuit will be brought to a close next Wednesday. The candidates are R. C. Norman of Washington, J. M. Pitner of Washington, Alvin Golucke of Crawfordville, and W. M. Hawes of Warrenton.

With Wilkes county furnishing two of the four candidates in the race, the interest which has centered in this contest has overshadowed the other contests which are to be determined in the state primary of Wednesday. The four candidates have covered the five counties in this district thoroughly and each one is confident of victory when the votes are counted. Each of the contestants is so situated as to have a strong following back of his candidacy and it would be a difficult matter, indeed, to say which man has the apparent advantage. The counties composing the Toombs judicial circuit, which was named after the great commoner, Robert Toombs, are Wilkes, Lincoln, Taliaferro, Warren and Glascock.

Since the creation of this circuit, which cut off several counties from the northern circuit, Solicitor Thomas J. Brown, of Elberton, has continued as the state's prosecuting attorney in the Toombs as well as in the northern circuit.

CRAWFORDVILLE PAPER AGAIN CHANGES HANDS

Washington, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Announcement is made of the change in ownership of The Crawfordville Advocate-Democrat, the only newspaper published in Taliaferro county. J. H. Graham, of LaFayette, Ga., has secured a half-interest in the property and his active connection with the paper commenced with the current issue.

The Crawfordville Advocate-Democrat is one of the best known weekly newspapers of the state and holds the distinction of having changed ownership more than any other newspaper in Georgia. Editor Clem G. Moore, one of the present owners, has on five different occasions sold his interest in the property and has as many times been drawn back to his "first love" and repurchased the property. When he returned last year from Decatur, Ga., to assume editorial and business control of the paper he declared that he will never again give up an active interest in weekly journalism through the medium of The Advocate-Democrat.

Nat Goodwin Out of Danger.

Los Angeles, August 17.—Nat C. Goodwin, the actor, injured Thursday when his rowboat was dashed ashore on Rocky Point beach, was pronounced entirely out of danger today.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE AND THE PENNSYLVANIA

New York, August 17.—Reports that the Pennsylvania railroad company is accumulating stock of the Atlantic Coast Line company, of Connecticut, with the object of securing control of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad company, in order to provide itself with terminals at Savannah in anticipation of the opening of the Panama canal, are discredited by interests identified with both the Pennsylvania and the Atlantic Coast Line. The stock of the Connecticut company, which corporation owns a majority of the shares of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad company, is closely held. The traffic relations between the two roads are now close.

If you intend to move September 1st, call at our Main or Ivy office at once and sign contract for telephone service. Be sure and give at least two weeks' notice in advance and state present location and address to which you are moving. With advance notice we will move your telephone to new location on date desired, or as soon thereafter as is possible.

SAVED FROM SHOOTING CONDEMNED CRIMINAL

Reno, Nev., August 17.—(Special.)—The supreme court of Nevada has come to the rescue of Warden Cowing, of the state penitentiary, who faced the grave problem of securing five men to shoot down a condemned man in cold blood on August 23. A stay of execution has been granted until the appeal in the case could be heard and Warden Cowing will get his first good night's sleep in two weeks. When Andriji Mirkovich selected death by shooting, as was his privilege under the new laws of the state, he little reckoned that he placed Warden Cowing in a serious situation. Cowing found it was a difficult matter to get men to act as riflemen.

Alston's First Bale.

Alston, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—The first bale of cotton from this section was brought in today by T. O. Walker, of the joining county, and this being the first bale, it sold for 15 cents a pound, the purchase being made by Messrs. J. W. Sharpe & Sons.

SLATON FAVORITE IN FLOYD COUNTY

Predicted He Will Get Good Majority Over Alexander and Hall.

Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—While the race for county commissioners is the all-absorbing topic with the voters of Floyd county, and very little is heard of the statehouse campaigns, it is the concensus of opinion among the best politicians of the county that Hon. John M. Slaton will receive a majority over both Hooper Alexander and Joe Hill Hall next Wednesday, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Alexander's father lives in Rome, and that he, himself, was born and reared here.

The "Tippins bill" candidate is personally popular in this section, but his mere advocacy of, not to mention his juggling with, the recently-defeated measure has estranged from him a large majority of the Rome votes, while the country vote will be divided between Messrs. Hall and Slaton. It is estimated that Slaton will receive 1,200 of the 1,800 votes at the Rome box, and half of those in the county outside of the city. Mr. Alexander's staunch friends concede the county to the speaker by 500 majority.

Girl Thrown From Buggy.

Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Miss Maynor Lee McClain and Miss Mattie Mathis were painfully hurt yesterday by being thrown from a buggy at Morrison's campground, when a dog ran under the horse which they were driving. They were carried to a local hospital, where they received medical attention, and are expected to be out in a few days. Miss McClain is the daughter of Officer McClain, of the Rome police force.

Professor Connor Withdraws.

Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Professor W. O. Connor, superintendent of the Georgia School for the Deaf, and a member of the board of roads and revenues, has withdrawn from the race for re-election, writing a humorous card to the press in which he says: "He who fights and runs away, will live to fight another day."

RIVERSIDE MILITARY ACADEMY ENCAMPMENT

Seventy-five young men and boys of the cadet battalion of Riverside Military Academy, Gainesville, Ga., are encamped on the United States government reservation between Ocean View and Willoughby Spit, where they will remain for another week.

To a reporter of the Virginian-Pilot, who visited the camp yesterday afternoon, a number of the cadets as well as their instructors and members of the college faculty made the unanimous statement that the campers are having a delightful time and that they consider themselves fortunate in having chosen such an advantageous location for their annual encampment.

The camp is within a hundred yards of Chesapeake bay and the boys, many of whom are expert swimmers, as this is a part of the college curriculum, spend just as much time as they possibly can in or on the water, bathing, boating and fishing.

In addition to Dr. McCoy and Major Nickles, the following other members of the faculty of Riverside Academy are with the cadets in camp: Captains H. C. McGregor, J. T. Machat, C. M. McClure, J. B. Perkins, H. J. Pearce, Jr., and F. L. McCoy, Jr.

Riverside Military Academy was established in 1907, the public-spirited citizens of Gainesville raising a large fund for the purpose. Its first session began in September, 1908.

Although the youngest preparatory school in the south for boys, the academy has the distinction of being a member of the Association of Schools and Colleges of the Southern States with over $80,000 in buildings and equipment and with a military organization second to none in the south. Besides the military feature, the academy maintains a summer school and camp on Lake Warner, near Gainesville, where the cadets are instructed in aquatic sports and pastimes, as well as the elements of naval life.

LAW FORCES MOTHER TO CARE FOR CHILD

A four-weeks-old baby, contentedly sucking its thumbs and apparently much interested in the whirring electric fan over the recorder's desk, was the cause of its mother's standing before Judge Preston yesterday on a technical charge of disorderly conduct.

"I didn't know what to do, so I left the baby at the negro's house," said the woman, Ida Morris. "I'm willing to take care of my child, and I want to go to the Crittenton home."

Chief Lanford and Detective Gillespie explained that the woman, who is 28 years old, and of neat appearance, came to the city from Alabama and straightway went to the Grady hospital for her confinement. As soon as she could be about she took her child and went to Kirkwood, where she left it under pretense of returning later.

The negro to whom she confided its charge became suspicious and followed the mother back to the hospital, where she prepared for return to Alabama, her purpose achieved. She was arrested and, under pressure of the law, agreed to mother her child.

No Single-Shotting.

Waycross, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Despite the raving about single-shotting in the approaching race for representative of Ware, the county executive committee, of which L. V. Williams is chairman, has made no change whatever in its ruling. Tickets in the primary next Wednesday that do not show a vote for two of the four candidates for representative in Ware will not count, so far as the representative vote is concerned.

John Y. Smith is eminently fair, and is one of the best qualified persons now running for the Legislature. He will represent the people ably.

(Communicated.)

PERRY CONFIDENT HE WILL BE ELECTED U. S. SENATOR

Gainesville, Ga., August 17, 1912.—"I went into this race to advance the principles of progressive democracy," said Hon. H. H. Perry, in an interview given out here today. "That simply means that there are some things in our system which need to be overhauled. Of course, the cards are all stacked against a man on my platform. The machinery of politics has always been devised to keep things as they are. All the beneficiaries of the evils in the present system—all the professional politicians who divide the official 'swoils'—the 'bosses' of both factions—those of the high dignitaries of aristocratic tastes, who worship position and power and forget the distresses of the common people—were as a matter of course against me. It is this very combination of special interests which reap their profits from the masses—with the machine politicians, that is the first thing needing to be overhauled and broken up in order that the right may prevail.

"But at last the power is with the people. They have waked up, and in spite of all the odds their votes will be in favor of my candidacy. It is very evident that the old crowd is seeing the handwriting on the wall. Their only hope now is in their 'ward-heelers' at the polls. To use the language of the instructions from their campaign managers, these can control the large 'indifferent vote.' So their appeal will be not to patriotism, but to ignorance. If left to the unbought, untrammeled expression of public sentiment I will be elected by a large majority."

With no special object for which to save a young man is apt to live up to his income. If you have a diamond note to meet won't it keep you from spending money for trifling things of no value?

At the end of the diamond contract you will be the value of the diamond better off, the money would have been spent anyway and you would have had nothing to show for it.

Mining is much more difficult and far more expensive. The DeBeers Mining Company has reached such a distance under the surface that laborers can live only a few hours at a time in the intense heat.

Let us explain personally our terms and prices on diamonds. We are never too busy to give you courteous attention whether you are ready to buy or merely seek information.

Call or write for our Diamond Book No. 7.

CLAIRVOYANT—
WHEN YOU ARE IN TROUBLE, DOUBT OR SUSPENSE, CONSULT
PROF. LA VOUX
74 WALTON ST.

I was born with a strange and remarkable power—power not meant to gratify the idle curious, but to direct, advise and help men and women who are in trouble and suspense concerning the everyday affairs of life.

MY WORK SPEAKS FOR ITSELF.

While I have the indorsement of hundreds of the most noted men and women in America, I deem them of little value, since I stand alone on the merits of my work. Any person who can believe their own eyes and ears can not help but know that my work is of the highest order of genuine clairvoyancy.

MASTER OF STRANGE POWERS.

There are strange and mighty forces by which men and women can be secretly influenced at a distance to do the will of the one who knows the secrets of using such forces. These forces are called personal magnetism, mental as well as hypnotic suggestions, etc. All telepathy, semi-hypnotic suggestions to use it this I reach to any one who wishes to use it for a legitimate and honest purpose.

A SOLEMN GUARANTY.

I call your name, tell your age, your occupation and what conditions your business is in and how to promote it, tell you all about your wife, husband, sweetheart or lover and how to win the love of any one you desire. I tell you of any move, journey or speculation, position or change of any kind which may be before you and how to act to obtain best results. I tell you exactly what your acquaintances think of you, who to trust and who to shun. I tell you whom and when you will marry. If at all, and give their name, age, occupation and disposition. In fact, I tell you everything you called to find out and that, too, without asking you a question or you speaking a word.

ARE YOU IN LOVE?

If so, you find the one whom you worship acting cool and indifferent at times? Are they gradually slipping away from your life? Do you feel yourself losing the good influence over them? Has a rival crept between you and the one you desire to hold? If so, do not delay, but come at once and find help.

Office hours: 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.; Sundays, 10 to 4. Ladies' waiting maid in attendance.

PROF. LA VOUX WILL GIVE LECTURE AND TESTS SUNDAY EVENING AT 8 O'CLOCK IN HIS PARLORS, 74 WALTON ST.

An Ancient Hatch.

(Taken from a Gravestone in England, 1672.)

"Here lies the body of Mary Quinn,
She was so very pure within,
That she cracked the shell of her outer skin

OPEN LETTER TO BUYERS AND SHIPPERS OF EGGS

Washington, August 17—It is a conservative estimate that more than $45,000,000 are lost in the egg-producing sections annually because of improper handling. This enormous loss is due to small eggs, cracked and broken eggs, dirty, stale, heated (hatched) and rotten eggs. Just think of the waste this sum means, from the time the mother hen loses from her business of egg-laying in order to hatch and bring up the hens that lay these wasted eggs, to the money that the housewife pays for the bad egg that cannot be used. It is a loss to you, to the farmer, to everyone in the egg business, and to the consumer. Will you assist us in our effort to save this loss and to improve the egg that finally gets to market?

When farmers, peddlers, merchants, etc., come to you with eggs for sale, talk to them about the improvement of the market egg, and enlist their cooperation in the elimination of this great loss. Here are some of the fundamental points to be considered by all egg men, whether producers, shippers or middlemen:

1. Encourage the production of large eggs. This can be accomplished by keeping pure-bred "general-purpose" breeds of fowls, hatching only the eggs that weigh at least two ounces apiece and from only the most vigorous stock. A higher price for large than for small eggs will help along the argument.

2. Infertile eggs do not hatch, do not form blood rings, and seldom form black rots. If the male birds are sold or penned up after June 1 the flock of hens will lay more eggs, and they will be infertile.

3. A year-round observation of New York egg receipts showed that over 12 per cent were dirty shelled, and sold for a lower price on this account. You should buy these dirty eggs at a lower price, for you are paid less for them. If one nest is provided for each six hens, in a cool, dark, place, kept clean and vermin free, dirty eggs will be reduced to a minimum.

4. More than 10 per cent of the eggs received in New York during the year are "seconds," because the yare stale. Tell your egg men that gathering eggs ever yafternoon, or twice daily, in hot or murky weather, keeping them in a cool, clean, dry place until marketed, and marketing at least once a week, and more frequently in the summer time, will reduce the number of stale eggs greatly. Of course, stale eggs are worth less money than fresh eggs all along the line.

5. Can you convince your trade that eggs from stolen nests and from incubators are never fit for sale? If the farmer thinks they are good, reliable food urge him to eat them at home. For, since the egg buyer can afford to pay more for large, clean, fresh, whole-shelled eggs, it is good business for the farmer to use small, dirty, cracked eggs at home.

6. Do you know how to candle eggs? If not, learn, and learn quickly! There is no other way by which you can determine the worth of what you are paying for. Having yourself learned how to grade eggs, show the merchants, peddlers and farmers in your neighborhood, by means of the candle, what kind of eggs they are bringing to you. Farmers are not scamps, nor egg-buyers angels. Show the farmer the kind of eggs you cannot pay for, and he will find a way to eliminate the bad eggs and to make the good egg even better.

7. When first quality eggs come to your packing house what means do you take to keep them so until they get to market? To build up and keep a good reputation for your output you must grade carefully and uniformly; pack in good fillers, flats and cases; ship quickly and under good conditions. If you would be classed among up-to-date shippers you must have mechanical refrigeration that the chilling of the egg may begin the minute you receive it. Candle in a room where the temperature does not go above 55 degrees Fahrenheit. Ship chilled, in a good refrigerator car, in car lots. If you cannot chill the eggs before shipping, use a refrigerator car, well iced, and ship only the minimum load, that the eggs may receive the benefit of the ice before the market is reached.

She Started Wrong.

Mrs. W. T. Rawls, Currie, N. C.—Dear Uncle Dudley: I have just started in the poultry business, but the more I read and study about the matter the more I see I have started wrong.

Last year and this year are my first attempts at raising chickens. Last fall I bought a pure bred Barred Plymouth cockerel and put with my mixed flock of hens, all common breed. My young pullets, about twenty, are half Plymouth Rock. I now want to get full blood Plymouth Rock hens. How is my best way to start? Would you advise selling out all the hens and pullets I have now as soon as the price goes up and buy about one dozen hens? If so, how many cockerels should I have for that number of hens?

Answer—You have made a mistake that can only be corrected by getting rid of all of your half breeds and buy as many pure bred fowls as you need. Use only one breed; buy only the best. Pay no attention to what your neighbors tell you; stick to the breed that you like best and you will be successful in the end. You, of course, will have to proceed slowly—do not attempt too much at first. When you have decided upon a breed study it closely, make yourself familiar with its shape, and the color of its feathers from the end of the beak to the tip of its tail. Learn its needs. Then, above all, learn to love it. It will soon fall in love with you and then together you will move onward to success. The Plymouth Rock has stood the test for years, and has won out as a utility fowl.

Uncle Dudley

FITZHUGH KNOX
1613 Candler Building.

FOR SALE.

AT 89 INMAN CIRCLE, Ansley Park, within two blocks of Peachtree street, I offer a new house consisting of eight rooms and a sleeping porch, hardwood floors, cement basement and every modern convenience. The lot is 50x190, and is elevated and level. The surroundings are the very best, and some of the handsomest homes in the park are across the street. I offer this place for $6,500.00, and can make very liberal terms, or I would rent to a desirable tenant with small family. This is without a question the greatest bargain in the city of Atlanta, and is well worth $8,000.00.

There is a loan on this property of $5,000.00, due four and a half years, and the fact that the property can carry a loan of this size is sufficient evidence of its real worth. The owner has instructed me to sell, and the equity of $1,500.00 can be made in easy payments.

INMAN YARDS, on Hill street, one block from Marietta street car line, and near Donehoo's store, I have a five-room house on terms same as rent.

46 POPLAR CIRCLE, Inman Park, is a beautiful two-story seven-room house I can sell for $5,500.00, on liberal terms.

FOR RENT.

Apartments.

VIRGINIAN, corner Peachtree and Fifteenth streets, on September 1, there will be for rent several apartments, consisting of four, five and six rooms each, ranging from $50 to $75. This is the finest apartment house in Atlanta; in the most exclusive residential section, hardwood floors in every room and every modern convenience. There is a dining room in this apartment house, situated on the first floor, facing Peachtree street, that is beautifully fitted up and has ten windows. The management of this dining room after September 1 will be under the personal supervision of Mrs. Jennings and Miss Gaillard, formerly of Charleston, S. C. These ladies are unusually capable, and are well-known for the highest standard.

BOSCOBEL, at 83 Hurt st. This apartment house at the corner of Poplar Circle, Hurt st. and Euclid ave., Inman Park, consists of 16 apartments, and has just been finished. There are now only three vacancies. Prices, $32.50 and $35.00.

82 W. HARRIS ST., 8 rooms, $35.

7 MILLS ST., corner W. Peachtree, 5 rooms, $30.

The Greatest Fortunes in Atlanta

ALMOST WITHOUT EXCEPTION, have been made by the tremendous and continual increase in real estate values in and around the city. And just because you don't earn a big salary or haven't a big balance to your credit at the bank, don't think that YOU can't participate in real estate profits, for even if you earn as little as $75 a month, you can make a splendid investment by buying a home in beautiful CAPITOL VIEW. Besides being a delightful, close-in suburb, and most attractive as a residence section, property values here are ever on the increase; and a place that you can buy today for, say $2,500, on easy monthly installments, this time next year will be worth anywhere from 15 to 25 per cent more. This is a CERTAINTY, not a rash GUESS. For further information, call on

The Greatest Fortunes in Atlanta

ALMOST WITHOUT EXCEPTION, have been made by the tremendous and continual increase in real estate values in and around the city. And just because you don't earn a big salary or haven't a big balance to your credit at the bank, don't think that YOU can't participate in real estate profits, for even if you earn as little as $75 a month, you can make a splendid investment by buying a home in beautiful CAPITOL VIEW. Besides being a delightful, close-in suburb, and most attractive as a residence section, property values here are ever on the increase; and a place that you can buy today for, say $2,500, on easy monthly installments, this time next year will be worth anywhere from 15 to 25 per cent more. This is a CERTAINTY, not a rash GUESS. For further information, call on LOCATED BETWEEN Hunter and Mitchell streets on Central avenue, we offer 50x95 feet at $350.00 per front foot. Considering the activity in this section, and the fact other lots in this block are being held at $450 and $500 per front foot, you should pick this up quick.

26 FEET WALTON STREET.

BETWEEN SPRING and Bartow, on the south side of Walton street, we have a little lot 26x115 feet, that we can sell at $600.00 per front foot on very easy terms. With the Healey building and the Moore building going up in this section, this lot should make you $100.00 per foot profit by January, 1913. Terms $3,000 cash, balance 1, 2, 3 and 4 years, interest at six per cent.

PEACHTREE, BETWEEN 14TH AND PEACHTREE CIRCLE.

40x240 FEET, fronting and adjoining handsome homes. We can deliver it at $175.00 per front foot on terms of one-third cash. Other lots selling at $200 per foot.

$500 CASH AND $30.00 monthly buys a new 6-room bungalow near Jackson and Cain streets. Price $3,750.

$500 CASH AND $50.00 monthly. A modern house of 8 rooms on level lot, located on Juniper, near 10th street school. Has furnace heat and all modern conveniences. Price, $6,500.

$1,000 CASH, balance to suit. A brand new house of 8 rooms on good street in Ansley Park, in one block of Peachtree street. Has hardwood floors, handsome mantels and fixtures, furnace-heated. A big bargain at $6,750.00.

$500 CASH AND $50.00 monthly. A well-built house of 8 rooms, in one block of Ponce de Leon and Boulevard, elevated level lot. Has good 6-room house on rear renting for $12.50 monthly. We can sell this at $6,500—and it looks mighty cheap at that price.

MAKE OFFER. 4 good houses corner Cooper and Glenn streets. A good corner for a store. The houses are always rented; owner says sell them quick; they are Nos. 247 to 255 Cooper street. Look at them and make us an offer.

$875.00. RENTS $12.50 MONTHLY.

NO. 107 HUNNICUTT street, three blocks from West Peachtree street, two good houses on a small lot. Never vacant. This is a little pick-up at $875.00 cash—so be quick.

EDGEWOOD AVENUE, between Hilliard and Yonge. Close price for few days. $175 per foot. 100 feet deep to an alley.

MARIETTA STREET is now receiving more attention than any street in the city. Some of the largest property owners in the city are quietly acquiring property on this street and planning to permanently improve same. Come in and let us tell you about some of the things we know are going on under cover. We have several pieces of property at different locations on this street. Between Mills and Hunnicutt, 161 feet at $250 per foot. Could subdivide this and give terms. This piece of property is right across street from Cooledge & Sons' new building.

NOTICE.

TO PROPERTY OWNERS.

Our long list of houses has about been exhausted. We have never experienced such a great demand for houses for rent as we now have. People are moving here from all over the country, and all must have houses; and they want to locate before the 1st of September. If you have a house for rent, or will have one by September 1, come in and list it with us. We have automobiles, surreys and buggies to show our prospective tenants houses for rent. Our facilities for renting property can't be excelled, and we only ask you to give us a chance by listing your property with us.

Thanking you in advance, we are

Yours very respectfully,

Texas Pride.

(From Popular Magazine.)

G. A. Jones, who looks after a portion of the Swenson interests in Texas, was bothered by thefts of wood from the Spur range. He sent out Al Sullivan, a cowboy, to catch the thieves. Within a few days Al brought one in—an old nester, dirty and ragged, with his toes out of his shoes and a tuft of hair showing through the crown of his hat.

"I don't feel like sending you to jail," said Jones, "but you've got to be punished. So we'll take a photograph of you for the rogues' gallery."

About a week later, still in his rags, he stood beside the rancher's desk.

"What can I do for you?" Jones asked, looking up.

"If you please, Mr. Jones," said the object, "kin you spare me one of them pictures to send to my kinsfolks?"

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

ADAIR'S LIST.

A Large Tract on East Lake Road Near the Country Club.

$9,000—This is an entire block on the east side of the paved road, one block north from the Country club entrance, taking up the entire frontage between Fair and Tupelo streets, a distance of 730 feet. The land extends along Fair street over 1,000 feet. It is an unqualed home site and lies well for subdivision.

MANGUM STREET.

Corner Magnolia Street.

THIS LOT fronts 198 feet on Mangum street, beginning just a little beyond Block's factory and running up to Magnolia street, on which it fronts 50 feet; has five dwellings and a good store. Total rental, $60. Price, $7,500. This is a fine investment property; only three blocks from the Terminal station.

WASHINGTON STREET.

Corner Fair Street.

THIS tract fronts 192 1-2 feet on Washington and runs back 227 feet along north side of Fair street; brick residence in center of lot; one of the largest near-in tracts in the city. Entire property for $30,000.

341 SIMPSON STREET.

214 Feet Front.

THIS is an entire block on north side of Simpson street, between Davis and Edwards streets; extends back 130 feet, containing an old stone house which rents for $18; lot is elevated considerably above street level. We will sell this block for $5,000, on terms of one-fifth cash, balance in four annual payments.

SIMPSON STREET.

Corner of Vine St.

THIS tract fronts 138 feet on Simpson street and runs through to Jones avenue, at the corner of Vine street; the frontage on Jones avenue is 190 feet. Would make seven good building lots, and is well suited for building a block of houses either to rent or sell. Price $3,200, on reasonable terms.

JONES AVENUE,

An Entire Block.

THIS is a city block, bounded by Jones avenue, Walnut street, Bush street (Western avenue) and Vine street; has three cottages and thirteen good building lots; all street improvements being down on Jones avenue. A good speculation for someone to build renting houses, being in an industrial neighborhood. Price for the entire block $10,000.

DECATUR STREET,

Near Grant Street.

NOS. 362 AND 364 DECATUR ST.—Lot 50x120, just a little beyond Fort street, in one of the busy spots on a busy street. Price, $8,750, only $175 a foot.

EDGEWOOD AVENUE,

Near Fort Street.

NO. 280 Edgewood avenue, between Fort and Hilliard, in a good business block; lot 47x129 to a 20-foot street in rear. Price, $8,500, half cash.

255 LAWTON STREET,

Near Gordon Street.

AN up-to-date house, 7 rooms, built of the very best material throughout; has sleeping porch, furnace and all the extras that go with a modern cottage. Lot 51x250. Price, $6,000.

EDGEWOOD AVENUE,

Corner Howell Street.

LOT fronts 126 feet, runs back 90 feet, with three cottages, six good store lots, each 21x90, on a prominent corner. Price, $13,850; only $110 a foot.

WEST NORTH AVENUE,

Fronts 400 Feet.

BETWEEN Lambert and Vine streets, we have a 5-acre tract fronting 400 feet on North avenue and running back north 400 feet, but wider in rear, lying in between the Southern and A., B. & A. railroads; has a five-room house. Price of entire tract, $6,500.

MANGUM STREET,

Fronts 120 Feet.

NEAR Magnolia street, two dwellings on lot with 120 feet front, in the Terminal district, a decided bargain; only $3,000.

BELLWOOD AVENUE,

Lot 100x260.

THIS lot lies on south side of Bellwood avenue, between Chestnut street and English avenue, near where the car line turns. It runs through to Fox street and is in the block adjoining English avenue school. Price, $2,000. A splendid investment, remarkably cheap for a fine business lot with double street frontage.

5 CASTLEBERRY ST.

$3,750—Many people like to buy near-in property, but are deterred by high prices. Here we offer an investment property barely without the half-mile circle, and only 70 feet from Forsyth street. The lot fronts 28 feet and runs back 93 feet, but is 38 feet wide in the rear. Terms, one-third cash.

MARIETTA ROAD,

At Howell Station.

THIS lot fronts 100 feet on north side of Marietta road, adjoining J. W. Echols' home, runs back 345 feet to right-of-way of Southern railway; a remarkably cheap manufacturing site. Only $2,500.

COREY HAS DECLARED FOR WOODROW WILSON

New York, August 17.—William Ellis Corey, former president of the steel trust, returning today from a three months' motor trip abroad, declared that Woodrow Wilson was his choice of the three presidential candidates before the country

"How about Roosevelt?"

"Certainly not," laughed Mr. Corey. Nor can I see any necessity for a third party. Wilson represents all the advanced ideas of the day and would make an admirable president. The majority of my friends especially all the Americans I have met abroad feel the same way about it.

"The country was never in a better condition during the months before a presidential election. I consider this largely due to the character of the man who has been selected by the democrats. Mr. Taft has not made good and the people want a man like Wilson.

"The noise over Roosevelt will soon die out and we will settle down. Of course there will be a lot of noise and then in its train there will come the reaction. The French people seem to have followed the career of Woodrow Wilson with a keen interest and his nomination by the democrats was a great surprise. The notion prevailed abroad that certain interests had piled up such a barrier against him it would be impossible for him to capture the nomination."

STREET CAR STRIKE FEARED BY CHICAGO

Chicago, August 17.—The outlook for an amicable settlement of the street car controversy over wage scales and working conditions seems less favorable tonight. International President Mahon, of the Carmen's union, today became dissatisfied with the refusal of the employers to come to an agreement with him on wage scales, and prepared a new ultimatum. This he presented to Leonard A. Busby, president of the Chicago City Railways company, who refused to agree to it.

The same ultimatum will be presented to John M. Roach, president of the Chicago railways tomorrow, Mahon said.

FIVE HUNDRED BOTTLES OF GOOD CORN LIQUOR

Wilmington, N. C., August 17.—Five hundred bottles of "Turkey Mountain" corn liquor, neatly packed away in gunny sacks, await an owner at the local police station. A wagon ostensibly loaded with hay broke down in the street here early today and when the police, "scenting the trouble from afar," arrived on the scene the negro driver took to his heels, leaving the property without a claimant. Following the sensational campaign against blind tigers here a week ago, no one has the temerity to claim the goods.

RUSSIAN SUICIDE CLUBS MAKE ART Of Shuffling Off This Mortal Coil

St. Petersburg, August 17.—Russia's latest suicide club has reduced self-destruction to an art. Probably in no other country in the world would it be possible to establish, as a famous Russian author is said to have done here, an organization whose sole purpose is the encouragement of "sporting" suicides among its members. With headquarters in this city and quickly growing branches in Moscow, Odessa, Kharkow and Vladivostock, this club meets regularly to plan the self-inflicted death of its members.

These suicides are so far removed from the ordinary affairs that result from hunger, unrequitted affection, jealousy, poverty or despair, that one of the manifestations of the peculiar and almost inexplicable suicide mania that is now sweeping over the whole of the country, seizing upon young and old, rich and poor, lowly and high-born. In Petersburg alone there is an average of fifteen suicides a day. Moscow records about the same number, and the other big Russian cities are not far behind. Efforts have been made in vain to check the tendency. Anti-suicide societies by the dozen have made their appearance, but despite the constant efforts of such organizations as the League of Life and the Anti-Suicide league, the daily record of suicides increases alarmingly. So serious has the situation become in this city that the prefecture of police has offered a reward of $2.50 for every rescue, and many of the unemployed assemble every day on the banks of the Neva and the canals on the lookout for attempted suicides. One watcher placed three rescues to his credit in as many days.

Because of the pledge of secrecy which binds the members of the suicide club, details of its organization are difficult to get. Who founded it? Who is the president? Some declare it is one of the grand dukes, though the younger generation of imperial cousins show too much good sense and too much zest for life to play such a role, and the older ones are far too dignified. Others declare that the famous Russian novelist, Artzybascheff, is the founder and president and the instigator of the more original suicides. He has written many books which condemn life as something like a sin, and extol self-destruction as a heroic action. He has been fined by the tribunals for writing books of pernicious influence, and he openly advocates many kinds of vice, which he makes as attractive as possible. His great talent makes his books all the more dangerous. Nevertheleþs, there is no sure proof that he has any direct influence on suicides, or has ever helped the club to gather in its harvest of victims. And, though it is now an established institution, its origin and members' list is as deep a mystery as possible.

Lots Are Drawn.

This mysterious club holds its meetings at the homes of the members. Many fashionable people belong to it, and women with a family of growing children, elderly men with the best part of their lives behind them, young women with a good chance of happiness, gather round the table where the fatal lots are drawn. One card is prepared for each meeting. The member who draws it must kill himself within a week, the club deciding as to the method, if the member cannot think of a suitable way.

Members must court death out of mere curiosity, or as a means of showing some novel way of leaving the world. Common poisons, like carbolic acid and iodine, are tabooed. Drowning is admitted only when wine or perfumed water is used and the surroundings are exceptionally beautiful or luxurious. The simple emptying of a revolver into one's body is not good enough. Shooting must be "artistic," or left severely alone.

These suicides take place with a lot of pomp. In the case of the young Baroness Zakomelska a supper was given to the Petersburg members. At the end, a huge tub was filled with champagne and the lady drowned herself in it, after all present had drunk a great deal of the wine. In Moscow a young doctor named Dovbor recently married a charming girl. He did not know that she belonged to the suicide club. After her marriage she attended the meeting of the Moscow branch with the intention of tendering her resignation at the end of the proceedings. But she drew the fatal card that night. Her husband was away, so she had nobody to consult. She determined to feign suicide and then leave the town, telling him all and asking him to live elsewhere. For the club, like most secret societies in Russia, is very strict with those who reveal its secrets. So she laid her plans with care, telling the members that she had discovered a mysterious poison which, sprinkled on a rose and inhaled, produced death. She knew enough medical jargon to convince them, and her maid found her seemingly dead next morning as she went into her room. As a matter of fact, she had only taken a strong narcotic, but the maid, in a panic, wired to the husband that his wife was dead. His despair was so great that he shot himself. Meanwhile the wife recovered, and wired him it was all a joke, and she was coming to rejoin him. She found him dead. Then she shot herself, after leaving a letter to her mother, in which she disclosed the above facts about the club. The police were put on its track, but only made a few unimportant arrests, for the members meet under plea of fashionable social gatherings, card parties, and so on, and keep no archives. It is freely said the authorities fear scandals in high places if the club is followed too closely.

Various reasons have been urged for increase of suicides in Russia and many remedies suggested. The writer asked no less an authority on Russian life than Count Witte for his views. The count thought a moment before answering.

Not One Cause, But Many.

"There is not one cause, but many," he said at last. "To begin with, our young men begin to live too soon. They are children for such a short time that they lose their health and good spirits before youths of the same age in America have begun to be grown up. They are satiated before they are well out of their teens. Their minds, made morbid by undue excitement, are always craving for new impressions, new sensations. Suicide is new to them, so they try suicide, not because of despair, but from simple lassitude. 'Life,' they say, 'is not worth living.'

"In the case of the very poor, I should say that they often work under worse conditions than the same class in America, or, rather, there is not so much hope for their getting on. With us, the classes are more shut up than there. It wants far more enterprise than you would think for a Russian to 'make himself.'

"Then, too, modern Russian literature has a depressing influence. We have many authors of tremendous talent; but they are all sad. They have none of the joy of life. We have still a lot of eastern fatalism in our psycology. We Rusians do not value human life so high as the English, for instance, who not only drag a poor devil whose life is one long burden out of the river, but put him to prison for trying to end things.

"One cannot help admiring the courage of the very poor, who are content to toil and suffer for years, with no prospect of anything better. Can we wonder that some of them break down, and take fate into their own hands? In general, too much is made of Russian suicides. We are a young people, finding our way to the light. There must be a number of discouraged ones."

The late Premier Stolypin thought that Russian suicides were due to want of physical exercise, and took up the Boy Scout movement with energy. The League of Life holds much the same view, and makes a point of getting young people interested in sports and all kinds of outdoor games. The government, thinking that the great number of boy suicides is due to their having too much amusement, has had the cafes, dancing halls and night haunts of big cities carefully watched by the police, who turn away young people still at school. At one time they entered these places unmolested. School courses have now been altered and include more exercise in the open air than they did. But the complaint that the Russian school boy kills himself because he is worked too hard rather falls through, as the vacations are long, and there are many saint days and gala days unknown to other countries

The truth is that people in Russia go into despair over things which would not trouble an Anglo-Saxon much. The writer had his attention called last week to a waiter who had borrowed 100 roubles (about $50), and could not repay it because his employer had gone off with the money. The man who had lent the sum was hard up. The waiter, instead of telling his wife, a well-to-do milliner, threw himself under a train, and was crushed to death. He knew at least three people who would have helped him out of his difficulty, had he told them; but he preferred suicide. School boys and girls shoot themselves when they have bad marks or fail to pass a school examination.

Sometimes Family Orders Suicide.

Sometimes Rusian suicides are ordered by the family, a regiment, or other institution. The case of young Captain Sergius Hurko, of the Hussars, is an example. The young man was wild, played high and ran into debt. He determined to retrieve his fortuens at Monte Carlo—and failed. As it happened, an old general he had known from childhood was staying at the same hotel, and had won huge sums. Hurko entered his bedroom, gagged him, and stole the money. But the victim had bitten his hand, and, though Hurko made off for Petersburg at once, he was recognized as the thief. His family disowned him, and he had a hint from his regiment that the best thing he could do was to "disappear." He did so, the prison authorities facilitating the conveyance of poison to his cell.

Old Baron Mellor-Kakomelski—no relation, by the way, to the young woman who ended her life in champagne, was governor of the Baltic provinces. He had a wild son named Sacha. After paying Sacha's debts many times, he grew tired. When the son made an application for money one day the father sent him a revolver, telling him to shoot himself. The son, who was making merry in some town in central Russia, ordered a supper, invited all his boon companions, arranged a sleigh expedition afterwards, returned to his rooms, and shot himself with his father's present. He left a note saying, "I should have done it long ago but knew it would afford my father pleasure, so put it off until his revolver came. Now, at least, all the world knows he ordered me to commit suicide."

And, though all the world did know—the fact appearing in the chief Russian papers—nobody of the old baron's circle seemed to be much surprised. He was never popular—and there the matter ended. He still keeps his old haunts, and those who know him best say he never regrets having sent the revolver to his son. Judging from the steady growth of suicides in Russia, the old baron's viewpoint did not differ from that of his neighbors.

BANDITS ARE AT WORK NEAR JOHN D.'S HOME

Tarrytown, N. Y., August 17.—A road skirting John D. Rockefeller's estate at Pocantico Hills was the scene of a hold-up last night, when a cyclist was waylaid and robbed of his money and the machine.

The hold-up followed close upon the establishment by Mr. Rockefeller of a patrol of deputy sheriffs about his estate to prevent threatened depredations by recently dischargedi employees. It is said Mr. Rockefeller considers that further protection is needed, and will endeavor to secure a uniformed police force for Pocantico Hills.

GRANITE SHAFT TO DOCTOR WHO NEVER ASKED A FEE

Wauconda, Ill., August 17.—A granite shaft, erected by popular subscription, soon will mark the grave of Dr. Joseph Dawson, a physician who never asked a fee. Dawson was buried in the little town cemetery two years ago, but his grave always has been unmarked.

Nobody knows just whence Dawson came. He arrived with one friend, a collie dog, and soon established a wide practice. Those who wished to pay for his services could do so, but he never insisted on a fee. What money he did not use for the actual necessities of life he gave to charity for ten years Dawson lived with his dog as a sole companion. When he died the tribute paid to him was:

"He had more friends than any man in the county."

HIS HONEYMOON SPOILED BY LAW

New York, August 17.—(Special.)—A big shawod fell across the sunshine of the third honeymoon of Jere Johnson Warren, an American-Cuban financier, just as he and his bride were closing their apartment in preparation for a European tour. The shadow was thrown by the tall forms of Detective Quinn, of headquarters, and Sheriff Hezekiah Elwood, of Fairfield county, Connecticut, where Warren and Miss Clarissa Prescott, a school teacher of that town, wer emarried on August 1.

Mrs. Warren No. 2 had sworn out a warrant at Fairfield charging the financier with bigamy, and Warren, highly indignant, his bride expressing every confidence in him, was arraigned before Chief Magistrate McAdoo, who held him without bail to await the action of the Connecticut authorities.

Warren's lawyers immediately took the case higher and Supreme Court Justice Dugro gave him his release on $2,500 bail. Warren declares his arrest on a charge of bigamy to be little short of an outrage, and announced he will fight extradition every inch of the way.

Mrs. Warren No. 2 resides in Havana, Cuba. She is of a distinguished Creole family of Louisiana of the name of Bouligny. One of her ancestors was a governor of the state. She is a handsome, middle-aged woman and came in pursuit of Warren with their 25-year-old son, Rudolph. He is keenly on his mother's side.

"Mr. Warren and I were married in 1886," she told a reporter, "when we were both living in Key West, Fla. He was then a drug clerk earning $2 a day. He went to Havana as an agent for an insurance company, but interested many Americans in working and improving sugar plantations in Cuba and made quite a large fortune. He has since claimed he divorced me in 1894. I know nothing of these proceedings.

"But we were reconciled in 1901 and were married again. Only one marriage is recognized by law in Cuba. I think it was about a year ago, about the time he left to live in America and began courting Miss Prescott, that he applied to a Cuban court for an annullment of this last marriage, declaring that as the Cuban law only recognized one marriage, this second marriage of ours was illegal. Now he claims that the decree he obtained divorced us again. But it did nothing of the kind. I have a copy of the decree and it expressly states that the second marriage is annulled simply because we were already married."

To Fight Hog Cholera.

Washington, August 17.—A crusade for the suppression and eradication of hog cholera was proposed in a bill introduced today by Representative Sloan, of Nebraska, who proposes an appropriation of $100,000 to fight the disease.

MESSENGER HELD AS LONE ROBBER

Asheville, N. C., August 17.—Charged with having robbed the express car of Southern railway train number 13, which he had claimed had been rifled by a lone train robber, who held him up at the point of a pistol last Thursday night, E. F. Carr, of Marion, this state, the express messenger in charge of the car, was arrested by special agents of the Souathern railway shortly after midnight tonight and lodged in the city jail pending a preliminary hearing Monday morning.

The agents making the arrest refuse to make any statement in connection therewith other than to say that Carr denies his guilt.

Jail attendants however state that the accused has told several conflicting stories since his arrest, one of them being to the effect that another man got the money.

Carr's story Thursday night was that he had been held up and locked in the express chest as the train was leaving Biltmore.

HE INSISTS WOMEN LIKE BRUTAL MEN

Chicago, August 17.—(Special.)—Dr. William Waugh, of this city, who expressed his belief that the instincts of the cave man governed love affairs and that women love brutality and sometimes need a beating, refused today to modify the statement as it originally appeared in The Allenist and Neurogist.

"I don't take back what I said about women loving mastery and even brutality in men," said Dr. Waugh. "I know a Chicago woman whose husband was a domestic tyrant. Whether he wanted the jelly or the butter, she was to anticipate hi swish. When he died she erected an altar to his memory. many women are coquettes simply to provide their husbands to display the force and master they love."

Dr. Waugh is a mild-mannered man of medium size. He is dean of the Bennett Medical college, and chief physician of the Jefferson Park hospital.

BRIDE AND GROOM CAGED AND IRONED

Pittsbugr, August 17.—(Special.)—With brass bands playing and 2,000 neighbors, friends and others following and cheering, Henry Spohn, a wealthy young merchant, and his beautiful bride, who was Miss Mary Brown, a society belle, were driven through the streets of Crafton, an exclusive suburb of this city, last night, caged and ironed together in an iron-barred carnival wagon. Spohn and Miss Brown eloped to Grove City, Pa., on Monday and were married to escape the practical humorists among Mr. Spohn's employees and friends, but it was in vain.

MAYOR ARRESTED FOR TAKING BRIBE

Alleged That Head of Illinois Town Has Received Protection Money.

West Hammond, Ill., August 17.—Mayor Joseph Woycinski was arrested today on a charge of accepting a bribe. George Rosenbaum, who swore out the warrant, averred he "handed the mayor $40" for protection soon after opening a hotel. At the mayor's orders the hotel was closed last night and the mayor's arrest followed. Woycinski had been acting in a crusade against all forms of vice.

Constable John Berwanger engaged in a fist fight with the mayor in attempting to serve the warrant. The constable called at the mayor's house before daylight and got him out of bed. The mayor was released on a bond of $5,000.

Reports were current tonight that as a result of the trouble the mayor had decided to close all disorderly houses in West Hammond. He and Virginia Brooks, known as the "Joan of Arc" of the city, were preparing to lead a force of deputy sheriffs on the places, it was said.

Owners of the places were said to be preparing to visit State's Attorney Wayman in Chicago tomorrow in to effort to induce him to aid them to obtain injunctions restraining the mayor from locking their doors.

LYNCH ATTACKED ABOUT PRESSMEN

Cleveland, Ohio, August 17.—President Lynch, of the International Typographical union, in the closing session of the convention today, condemned a number of the delegates, who, he said, met in a secret session last night and attacked him for his attitude in condemning the recent strike of the pressmen in Chicago.

"The convention upheld me in condemning the Chicago strike," said President Lynch, "and I intend to find out who are those men who criticise the action of the convention and see what are their claims to be called union men."

When it became known to the delegates, who were then in session, that Attorney Clarence Darrow had been freed in Los Angeles, they jumped to their feet and cheered, waving hats and coats. A telegram of congratulation was sent to Darrow.

CENTRAL WILL NOT BUY GAINESVILLE MIDLAND

Macon, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Oficials of the Central of Georgia brand as ridiculous reports sent out from Athens to the effect that the Central of Georgia was contemplating the purchase of the Gainesville Midland railway, operating between Gainesville and Athens. The only excuse the officials can give for the reports is that Vice President Winburn, of the Central, went over the road in question a short time ago in his private car for the purpose of visiting his aged father in Gainesville.

The sight of a handsome private car was probably such an unusual one, say Central officials, that the busy bodies at once put the report of the alleged deal in circulation.

FIRST WARD POLLING PLACE IS CHANGED

Announcement was made last night that the polling place for the state primary had been changed in the first ward from 23 West Alabama to 34 Madison avenue.

Coffee.

New York, August 17.—Coffee futures opened steady at an advance of 1 to 10 points on renewal of yesterday's buying movement. European shorts were credited with buying September, there was a good deal of local covering, and while there was some irregularity during the middle of the morning, owing to sales of December by people who had bought September yesterday. The general tendency of prices was upward. Reports of unfavorable new crop prospects and talk of a big outstanding short interest probably added to the demand. The close was firm net 7 to 13 points.

Havre, ¾ to 1 franc higher. Hamburg, ¼ to ½ pfennig higher. Rio, 75 reis higher, at 8$175; Santos, unchanged.

New York warehouse deliveries, 9,311, against 5,860 last year.

Brazilian port receipts, 675,000, against 80,000 last year. Jundiahy receipts, 57,000, against 66,700 last year. Private reports claim that the weather in Sao Paulo is too dry and that the outlook is for irregular flowerings.

London Stock Market.

London, August 17.—The stock market during the week exhibited a bouyant tone and rising prices under a broadening investment demand and a revival of speculative interest. Consols again led in the British section with a net gain of a point, under professional as well as investment purchases, but colonial stocks, bank stocks and later the foreign section appreciated the upward movement, Chinese bonds being supported on loan rumors. Diamond shares forged ahead, Debeers rising a full point on dividend anticipations. In the miscellaneous section iron, steel and shipping shares continued an attraction.

American securities advanced principally on favorable crop reports. Louisville and Nashville was strong on prospective rights in connection with a new issue of stock. Profit-taking reduced the mid-week improvements, but prices closed from 1 to 5 points higher. Canadian Pacific finished weak. Uncertainty regarding the extent of the Egyptian and Brazilian gold requirements keeps discount rates well over the bank rate and a rise in the latter is anticipated in a few weeks.

American securities opened steady and a fraction higher today. Canadian Pacific was weak and lost 2¼ points, owing to the agitation for lower freight rates. The remainder of the list advanced during the short session in sympathy with the strength in United States Steel. The market closed steady with prices ranging from unchanged to ⅝ higher.

Money, 1½@2 per cent; discount for short bills, 3 per cent; discount for three months' bills, 2⅝.

Illinois Central, 135½.

Louisville and Nashville, 172½.

Southern railway, 32; Southern railway preferred, 84½.

Gibert & Clay.

New York, August 17.—Continued selling by both spot and speculative interests caused a decline of 13 points in the market today. While rains in south Texas induced some local selling, the principal offerings appeared to be based upon the increasing movement and quiet spinners' demand. The buying is principally for short accounts and at present not insistent enough to overcome the selling.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

NEW LOW GROUND FOR NEAR MONTHS

Cotton Market Closed Steady But at Net Loss of 6 to 8 Points.

New York, August 17.—A further decline, which carried the near months into new low ground, was followed by a rally of several points on covering for over the week-end in the cotton market today, but the improvement was barely sustained, and while the closing tone was steady, last prices showed a net loss of from 6 to 8 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 1@6 points, but while Liverpool reported a sharp rally after a very weak opening and the early weather suggested that yesterday's reports of rains in south Texas had been exaggerated, heavy selling was in evidence and prices were soon off to a net loss of 11 to 12 points. The decline was checked around 11.21 for December by covering of shorts and rumors that spinners were calling cotton. After a rally of 5 or 6 points, however, the market again weakened on reports that the south was selling hedges here, continued pressure from leading trade sources and the increasing new crop movement. Prices broke to a net loss of 13 to 14 points in consequence, but around 11.19 for December, or within 5 points of Tuesday's low record, the market was again steadied by covering and the close was 6 or 7 points up from the lowest.

Private crop reports from the south were mixed and advices received from one of the prominent traveling experts said that the outlook as a whole, while improving was hardly satisfactory considering the advance of the season. This report combined with the steadier showing of the late Liverpool cables and reports of a better demand from mills no doubt helped the rallies from the low point in connection with the failure of the weather map to show any important rainfall in the extreme southwest. Buying, however, was said to be chiefly for short account.

Receipts at all the ports today 7,733 bales, against 1,322 last week and 15,385 last year. For the week 75,000, against 21,959 last week and 91,638 last year. Today's receipts at Galveston 7,705, against 12,325 last year; at New Orleans 429, against 101 last year, and at Houston 8,625, against 10,449 last year.

Banks' cash reserve in the vaults, $379,042,000.
Trust companies' cash reserve in vault, $72,-662,000.
Trust companies' reserve with clearing house members carrying 25 per cent cash reserve $72,-672,000.
Summary state banks and trust companies in Greater New York not included in clearing house statement:
Specie $63,724,200; decrease $470,000.
Legal tenders $8,058,000; decrease $55,300.

New York, August 17.—The Financier will say:

The clearing house banks of New York still maintain their strong position, the report for the week ending Saturday having shown on calculations by the average system an increase of reserve amounting to $325,100, while the report figured on actual conditions revealed an unimportant decrease in the same item of only $236,250. Taking the figures of actual condition as showing the end-of-the-week standing of the banks, the only changes of importance were an increase of $1,255,000 in loans, an increase of $1,179,000 in cash and an expansion of $10,815,000 in net deposits. The latter change more than offset the result of the cash increase and the larger reserve requirement accounts for the decrease in excess reserve. The surplus reserve above the 25 per cent regular minimum is now $20,352,000. It is noticeable that the trust companies of New York, the figures of which are really as large as those of the clearing house banks proper, are making very few new commitments and seem to be following a policy of retrenchment in order probably to increase their strength. Their position has been improving for a fortnight.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, August 17.—Spot cotton steady and unchanged; middling 11 13-16; sales on the spot 142 bales; to arrive 28; low ordinary 8¼, nominal; ordinary 9 1-16, nominal; good ordinary 10½; strict good ordinary 10¾; low middling 11 3-16; strict low middling 11 9-16; good middling 11 13-16; strict middling 12 1-16; good middling 12 5-16; strict good middling 12½; middling fair 12 13-16, nominal; middling fair to fair 13 3-16, nominal; fair, 13 9-16, nominal; receipts 429; stock 21,107.

Cotton futures opened steady at a decline of 1 to 5 points. Cables are better than due, but were ignored; selling was heavy around the first call, on the favorable weather map and on bearish crop reports from the western half of the belt and especially Georgia. The weather map noted some little rain in south Texas, confirming private reports of moisture there yesterday. Telegrams from Texas reported a lower spot basis, which encouraged the selling of futures. At the end of the first half hour of business, prices were 8 to 9 points under yesterday's close.

Pressure was on the market until after the middle of the morning. At the lowest, the trading months were 9 points under yesterday's final quotations. From the middle of the morning on, shorts took profits and at one time the demand for covers was sufficient to put prices up to a net advance of 2 to 3 points. The market made no great show of strength, however, and fell off again under fresh short selling, based on the expectation of good weather over Sunday. The close was a net decline of 1 to 2 points.

Dry Goods.

New York, August 17.—The cotton goods markets are somewhat easier in the gray goods division. Jobbers have had a very good week in nearly all departments, notably in dress goods and ready-made suits. Yarns rule steady and quiet. Linens are firm.

RAILROAD SHARES SHOW WEAKNESS

New York, August 17.—A further tendency towards reaction was noted in today's session of the stock exchange, although opening prices gave promise of continuance of the rally which came in yesterday's final dealings after the senate had refused to pass the steel tariff bill over the president's veto.

Canadian Pacific was the weakest of the standard railroad shares. Other heavy railway stocks included Reading and Lehigh Valley, their decline being attributed by board room gossip to liquidation for an important interest. Some of the minor railway stocks were moderately active at better prices, while the industrials moved in both directions.

Steel was well supported until the final half hour, when a selling movement of generous proportions sent the list to its lowest level of the session.

The day's news was of the usual week-end character, including the statements of the commercial agencies, which reported further gains in trade and increased activity at leading manufacturing centers.

The bond market was easy. United States government 4s declined ¼ per cent on call during the week.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, August 17.—After a weak opening, the decline in Liverpool reached a point where the spinner appeared as a buyer of distant deliveries, causing a recovery at the close. Here the same selling appeared from time to time, which has been such a feature on the decline, and is based on the well-known bearish views in the trade. Again on a scale down spinners appeared as small buyers, and it is current rumor that around 11c there is a quantity of buying orders for their account. If was expected that this price would be touched today, but a small demand in the last hour from Europe caused the market to close steady at 5 to 6 points under last night. There is no change in the bearish sentiment in the trade.

Good to choice steers, 1,000 to 1,200, $5.75 to $6.25.

Good to choice heifers, 750 to 850, $4.00 to $4.75.

Medium to common steers, if fat, 700 to 800 $4.00 to $4.50.

Medium to common cows, if fat, 600 to 700, $3.50 to $4.00.

Mixed common, 600 to 800, $2.75 to $3.50.

Above quotations apply to corned hogs. Mash and peanut fattened hogs, 1 to ½ cents lower.

Good run of medium cattle in yard this week, although the supply of strictly good beef is short. Several mixed loads of Tennessee cattle were among the arrivals first of week. A few good steers were selected from these cars and brought the top prices for this week.

Grass cattle are coming more plentiful from local points, quality not yet up to standard. Owing to heavy rain fall this season grass has contained too much moisture and grazing cattle are not yet fat.

Market is considered strong to 1-4 higher on better grades and about steady on medium stuff. Light and common cattle are slow sale 1-4 to 3-8 under quotation of a week ago.

BELFAST TURNED INTO ARMED CAMP

Home Rule Threatens to Result in Civil War.

City Honeycombed With Rifle Clubs and Arms Are Being Issued by Orange Societies. Government to Use Strong Hand.

Belfast, Ireland, August 17.—(Special Cable.)—Not since the forcible suppression of the Irish volunteers and the execution of Lord Edward Fitzgerald, which preceded the act of union, has Ireland been worked up to such a pitch of excitement as reigns today in the kingdom. Belfast is an armed camp. British soldiers are mobilized at the Victoria barracks and in all the city parks, where the glitter of bayonets and the long lines of white tents emphasize the conviction that Ulster has taken Sir Edward Carson and the unionist leader, A. Bonar Law, at their words, and is determined to fight. Over 2,000 Catholic workers and about 700 protestant home-rulers have been forced to quit work at the shipbuilding yards after one of their comrades was roasted alive before an oven in the machine shop.

The city is honeycombed with rifle clubs, and arms are being issued quietly by agents of the Orange societies. A battle between the rifle corps of the lodges and the soldiers and royal Irish constabulary is expected at any moment.

The government is determined to put down the "Ulster rebellion" with an iron hand. The attorney general has been instructed to investigate the speeches and acts of Carson and Law, with a view of indicting these unionist leaders for conspiracy to incite sedition against the crown.

John Y. Smith is qualified to represent Fulton County in the Legislature. Vote for him.

SOCIALIST THUNDER STOLEN BY ROOSEVELT

Washington, August 17.—(Special.) A deadly parallel between the platform of the progressive party, adopted at Chicago early this month, and the platform of the socialist party, adopted at Indianapolis last spring, is the feature of this week's issue of The National Socialist, an organ published in Washington, reflecting the views of the Berger element of the socialist party. The article is by W. J. Ghent, secretary to Representative Berger. It begins:

"So the new party, which goes boldly forth in its first campaign with the inscription on its banners, 'Thou Shalt Not Steal,' begins its career with the brazen theft of half the working program of the socialist party. The great Theodore, who has exhausted the vocabulary of invective in denouncing the wickedness of the socialists, must needs write his own platform as a pale reflex of the socialist platform."

Mr. Ghent, pointing out that, "after all his swashbuckling and rant against the socialists, he is forced to accept the main points in the socialist indictment against capitalist society, and is further forced to promise some at least of the socialist measures of relief," then lists in parallel columns no fewer than eighteen planks from the bull moose platform and eighteen from that of the party of Debs and Ediel. Thus says the socialist, Mr. Ghent, "with scissors and paste pot and a copy of the socialist platform, Roosevelt started in on his task of presenting the American people with a catalog of evils which beset them, and of the remedies which are necessary."

It is the hopeful opinion of Mr. Ghent that few wage-earners will be "foolish enough to vote for the Roosevelt ticket."

Mrs. Terry Dead.

Tampa, Fla., August 17.—A telegram received this morning announced the death of Mrs. T. M. McGregor Terry, wife of Surgeon General Terry, of New York. When she married General Terry, seven years ago, she was the widow of A. M. McGregor, former president of the Standard Oil company. She died at Mamoroneck-on-the-Hudson, her summer home. hSe owned many tourist hotels in Florida and recently gave an 18-mile boulevard to Fort Myers as a memorial of her first husband.

ROOSEVELT IS GOING TO RUN MIGHTY STRONG IN GEORGIA

—C. W. McClure.

"Roosevelt is going to run mighty strong in Georgia," declared C. W. McClure, of Atlanta, who was elected national committeeman from Georgia, at the Chicago convention. "The sentiment created by the organization of the new party is sweeping through the country and men who have watched the trend of political events predict certain victory."

Committeeman McClure was one of the most conspicuous figures at the national convention of the bull moose party, and was in constant touch with the men who are leading the party. He declared yesterday that he was the last person to speak to John M. Parker, the Louisiana leader, before his departure from Chicago, and that he declared emphatically that the Pelican state would carry the bull moose banner to the fore of all others.

Enthusiasm in West.

"You cannot imagine the enthusiasm that has taken hold of the people of the middle west," he continued. "Why, the convention was one of the greatest gatherings in history. The greatest men before the nation were there."

John M. Parker, according to Committeeman McClure, was urged to be the running mate of Roosevelt. Afterwards an effort was made to have Mr. McClure take charge of the campaign which will be started in a few days in the interest of Colonel Roosevelt in Georgia.

He said that Atlanta was named the southern headquarters of the bull moose party, and within a few days the active work will be started. Committeeman McClure said that he expected to leave Atlanta next week. He is going to New York to confer with some of the leaders in the party to make arrangements for starting the campaign here just as soon as possible.

"I was with a party of friends coming home and we took a straw vote on the possibilities of the three candidates," said Committeeman McClure. "The vote was ninety-two for Roosevelt, fifty-two for Wilson, and twenty-eight for Taft. That is an indication that the chances of the colonel are very bright indeed."

Named President Third Time.

Prior to going to the Chicago convention Mr. McClure attended the national convention of the Association of Five and Ten Cent Merchants, at Indianapolis, and was elected to the presidency for the third time.

He explained that he had decided to relinquish the presidency of the association, but acepted when it was greed that the national headquarters of the association would be located in Atlanta. The association named H. L. Macewen, also of Atlanta, national secretary. Secretary Macewen is associated with President McClure in business in Atlanta.

"I have not had much time to devote to the affairs of the association in the past," said Mr. McClure, "but I have made up my mind that I am going to run the association and do something to make it take the rank of the first of its kind in the United States."

"The eyes of the nation are centered on the south and Atlanta is attracting more attention in the north, east and west now than ever."

BOY'S CURLS CAUGHT BY FIRE, DEATH RESULTS FROM BURNS

While alone in his mother's room, about 6 o'clock Friday evening, little Harry Emerson Harrison, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Harrison, of Union avenue, Hapeville, was so severely burned by a kerosene lamp, which set fire to his hair, that he died Saturday evening at 6 o'clock.

Little Harry was in the living room, and, while his father was in the yard, his mother stepped into the kitchen for a moment. While the lad was alone he climbed upon a stool and removed the chimney from the lamp, which sat upon a nearby table. As he did so the wind blew his long curly hair into the flame and set fire to it. His uncle was the first one to reach him, and he carried the boy into the yard, where he succeeded in extinguishing the flames; but the child was so severely burned about the face and chest that medical aid was unable to save him.

The funeral will be held from the residence of the boy's parents Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The interment will take place at Mount Zion church.

JOHN JACOB ASTOR SIXTH COSTLIEST BABY ON RECORD

New York, August 17.—(Special.)—If all reports are true John Jacob Astor sixth is the most expensive baby ever brought into the world.

Gossip in the medical world is that Dr. Edwin Bradford Cragin, who is responsible for the safe advent of this interesting baby, is receiving $1,000 a day for each and every day he is in attendance on Mrs. Madeline Force Astor and her young son.

Dr. Cragin left his country place the Wayside, Colchester, Conn., and took up his residence at the Astor mansion on Sunday, August 4.

John Jacob Astor sixth made his appearance on Wednesday, August 14.

It is expected that Dr. Cragin will remain a member of the Astor household until early in September, for Mrs. Astor is most anxious that her son shall be correctly started on a healthy and hearty career, and that she herself shall suffer no relapse and shall be healthy and strong and normal, that she may properly rear the child to whom she must be both mother and father, and to whom she expects and wants to devote her life.

The chances are that Dr. Cragin will be in constant attendance for nearly six weeks.

As the reported rate of $1,000 a day his fee in that case would total between $40,000 and $45,000.

No prince of royal blood, no heir to kingly throne, ever entered this world under such expensive conditions. But, then, kings don't have the money to spend that American millionaires do.

FLORA ZABELLE QUITS RAYMOND HITCHCOCK

New York, August 17.—(Special.)—With the home coming today of Flora Zabelle, the actress, her break with Raymond Hitchcock was formally announced.

Stepping ashore from the liner, France, the lovely Flora faced the reporters and the cameras with a bewitching smile as she said:

"My husband and have agreed to separate—financially, domestically, artistically. The separation is complete and forever."

She declined to discuss whether a suit for divorce or judicial separation is about to be instituted.

Hitchcock's wife said she had hurried home because she had seen a personal in a French paper saying that her brother, Armand, was seriously ill at Great Neck, L. I. She found just before sailing that this was just a ruse on the part of Raymond to lure her across the ocean, but she had come on, traveling under her maiden name, Flora Manugasarian, and accompanied by her father, her sister and a cousin.

TRAVELING MEN FIND SLATON VERY POPULAR

The popularity of John M. Slaton, candidate for governor, is not confined to any section, according to traveling men who have just returned to Atlanta after visiting all parts of the state.

B. W. King and I. W. Holcombe, two well-known traveling men, declare that wherever they have gone they have found Slaton far in the lead, and that it is only a question of how many more votes he will poll than his opponents.

THO' DEAD AND BURIED, HE MUST GO TO COURT

Boston, August 17.—(Special.)—Although nominally dead and buried Charles Becker, a Waltham painter, will appear in the Waltham district court next week as the principal witness at the inquest into his own death. Medical Examiner West has filed a certificate to the effect that Becker met death by drowning in Lyman's pond on July 25 but Becker will attempt to convince the court that he is very much alive.

A body taken from Lyman's pond on July 25 was identified two days later as Becker's by his wife, and was properly buried. Last Saturday night Becker walked into his home and was surprised to know that he was supposed to be dead.

MASONS PLANNING FOR BIG JUBILEE

Three Lodges of Instruction and Barbecue Will Keep Members Busy.

August 28, September 4, 11 and 14 will be big days for the Masons of Atlanta. On the first three there will be lodges of instruction to be addressed by leaders of the fraternity and on the last there will be a barbecue, which promises to eclipse all those heretofore held in Atlanta.

Introduction by Hon. James L. Mayson.

"The Origin of the First Degree and Its Symbolism"—By Hon. Thomas H. Jeffries, past grandmaster of the grand lodge of Georgia.

Introduction by Hon. John M. Slaton.

"The Origin of the Second Degree and Its Symbolism"—By Hon. J. C. Greenfield, past grandmaster of the grand commandery of Georgia Knights Templar and past illustrious grandmaster of the grand council of the state.

Introduction by Hon. John A. Hynds.

"The Symbolism of the Third Degree"—By Hon. George M. Napier, grandmaster of the grand lodge of Georgia.

September 14—Barbecue, to be served by the masters and officers of all lodges in the Atlanta jurisdiction, place to be named later.

Hon. Henry M. Wood, pastmaster of Piedmont lodge, will be master of ceremonies for the three meetings, and W. S. Richardson, pastmaster of Fulton lodge, will be the general secretary.

ROOSEVELT ATTACKED BY MRS. LA FOLLETTE

Mrs. La Follette declares that the colonel's view of the subject is a narrow one and that women need the ballot because it would give them an added interest in politics. She heads her article with a comparison of his address and the printed record, and says:

"It is like the former president to qualify his views before the printers' ink is dry. His original reason for support of the suffrage plank, although sound, was narrow. It is very important that women should have the ballot because working women need it for their protection and because if women could vote they would strengthen the hands of those who are endeavoring to deal in efficient fashion with evils, such as the white slave traffic. But women need the ballot just as men need it, because it will give them added interest as well as added influence in public affairs.

The body politic needs the votes of women for the same reason that it needs the votes of men. Men and women are equally and mutually concerned in government and it is only when they equally understand and are responsible that we shall secure a well balanced democracy."

RAIL MAGNATE RAY WANTS FREE TRADE

Philadelphia, August 17.—Samuel Rea, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, in an interview tonight said that he hoped that the time would soon come when the United States would have no tariff so there would be competition throughout the country in every branch of trade. He predicted the election of Wilson as the first step toward this condition.

"I believe we will certainly get a lower tariff," he said, "since all parties are pledged to the accomplishment of that end, and eventually we will have free trade and compete openly with the whole world as England does at present. You know I am a free trader and a democrat," he concluded, "and believe Wilson will be elected."

Mr. Rea has just returned from England and Scotland where he motored and being chief engineer of the Pennsylvania and a good roads enthusiast studied the highways. He said the $50,000,000 appropriated for the Pennsylvania roads should give a good system.

"New York spent immense sums on its roads, but the expenditures were not properly made and the result was an inadequate system, which cost entirely too much for the money."

QUAKER JEAN VAL JEAN SOUGHT BY HIS FRIENDS

Philadelphia, August 17.—Verification of the story told by William Burke, reform councilman of this city, who resigned a few days ago and disappeared from home, declaring that he was an ex-convict, was furnished the authorities today when Captain of Detectives Cameron received from the Massachusetts authorities a photograph establishing the identification of Burke as Benjamin Tripp, who served a sentence in the Massachusetts state prison for breaking and entering.

Burke's life story was published in a local newspaper. He declared that after leading a straight life for a number of years he was leaving the city because he was being hounded and blackmailed by a fellow convict who had recognized him.
